

TO-MORROW IS THE DAY

On Which West End Electors Will Save or Starve St. John's.

It is all in your hands West End electors. On your verdict in the ballot boxes depends whether you have prosperity or stagnation in St. John's for the next four years. This is not mere political talk to influence your vote. It is a hard, cold fact. All that has been done by the Tory Government and what has been neglected and left undone since last November, is the proof of what we say. You will not deny that we have had good times during the past ten years of the Tory Government. They may have had their faults, they may have spent public money with a too liberal hand, but they kept the country going prosperously and there was not a real destitute man or woman in the land. They were men of experience and knew what best to do for the country's welfare in all emergencies. They were the real Liberal Government. This is the Tory Government. Did you ever hear of good times under a Tory Government, controlled by a few merchants? We never did and never will. Mr. W. F. Coaker is behind this stagnation movement that has fallen like a plague on St. John's. His fish exporting policy is doing it. It may be a good thing for him and Mr. Hawes and others, but assuredly it is a bad thing for you. Mr. Squires and Mr. Brownrigg, who are asking you to elect them to-morrow, must take their share of the responsibility of this industrial injury that is being brought on St. John's. We do not know whether they even warned Mr. Coaker that his fish regulations would ruin St. John's, but we do know that if they did, their words would not be heeded any more than a warm dew from the southwest in summer. If they are helpless in this they will be helpless in everything, and will be of no use to you as representatives. They hold their offices on the nod of Mr. Coaker, and should he choose to say the word, they would have to get out. How then can they be of any use to you in these great public emergencies where men are wanted to say, "you must not do that, as it will ruin the people." It will be the same when the educational question comes up. Don't forget that St. John's West lives largely by the handling and preparation of codfish for export. The money that is earned at this industry is circulated among the people who live by keeping shops. In fact all trades and occupations get a share of it. You can see then, quite plainly, that if small exporters are cut out and no fish is sent away in casks, that a very big sum of money will go away from the people. The coopers are the first to feel it. The past two months was a veritable "Bank Crash" time for them. The money is not spent because the fish to cut Mr. Coaker and Mr. Hawes, et al. is going out in bulk. Why? They can make more money out of it that way, and they want all the money that is going. There are many things like this that six merchants in this town have done long ago, to their own monetary advantage and to the great loss of the people. They had the wish, but not the power. The Government of the day and the laws of the land would put them in the Penitentiary. Now they have a Government that can work; they are full of new-born courage to trample on the people and put them back where they stood fifty years ago. You will help them to carry out their designs if you vote for Squires and Brownrigg to-morrow. The news, you may be sure, will be cabled to Hawes and Coaker. It will stiffen their backs to lay it on to you in their future dealing with St. John's. The less handling of fish, the less labor and the less money for the laborers; the less cash goes, the less work for the truckmen and the poorer they are made, the more easily they can be kept down. Every laboring man who records a vote for Squires and Brownrigg to-morrow, forges a link in a chain for his own neck. A slave's chain. He votes to keep in place, but not in power, two impotent men who can do no good only for themselves. If they could do anything for you they would have done it long ago. They would have said to Coaker in Council, "Hands off the industries of St. John's West, or we leave you." They would if there had been anything in them of the spirit and backbone of men, have said to Coaker, "We are going to insist on stopping the profiteers from putting up the price of flour on our people; you must stop the advance in prices on butterine, kerosene oil and sugar, and you must not put in force these crazy, unjust fish exporting regulations that will ruin the West End and bring on misery and starvation." They did not take this stand, and why not? The answer is easy; $2,000 a year and pickings. They did not make any effort to see that enough coal was imported. There was enough in the cellars of Messrs. Squires and Brownrigg, and the people could go to Sydney or somewhere else. They have brought the whole country to a serious predicament, and the fish industry at home and abroad has fallen flat. The next news that comes from the foreign markets—if it is allowed to come—may reveal a condition of affairs that will shake the commercial fabric to its foundation. We hope not, but that is the way. The only way that the collapse of the Government responsible. Men of the West End, it is in your hands to-morrow to save the country from impending ruin by rolling up such an overwhelming majority for MARTIN and LINEGAR, that it will initiate the beginning of the end for this very worst of Tory Governments, and in a few weeks the whole rotten edifice will fall to the ground.

Coaker Walks The Plank

Coaker is appealing to the men of St. John's West; He sees Squires and Brownrigg Slipping, and he feels a great unrest. He knows we have the weight of them, but he himself must thank, For he tried to do us dirty, so To-morrow walks the plank.

The coopers, they swear vengeance On Coaker's brutal law, That would rob them of a living; Sure the truckmen, too, they saw Starvation thro' the city, a walking Lean and lank; But to-morrow all the truckmen say— Coaker walks the plank.

The Laborers are up in arms 'Gainst Coaker's insane rule, And all that Squires and Brownrigg Say, will not the workmen fool; They know that Coaker lacks in Sense, they know he is a crank, But to-morrow, Boys, we'll all act wise Make Coaker walk the plank.

When Coaker called us "drunken bums," We all made up our mind When some fine day we'd get the chance We'd pay him back in kind; And now that day is drawing near, Sure you may on it bank; Squires and Brownrigg, out they go, And Coaker walks the plank.

HANG 'ER DOWN.

They're On The Run!

Keep Them Running, Boys and Hang 'Er Down Till Thursday!

The Star and its associate newspapers are beaten to a frazzle. The Government candidates for the West End are worrying themselves sick. The whole Government is looking with anxious eyes at the stampede which has been forced on its candidates. The game is up for them and they know it. They had their chance and now they must go. Meanwhile there is jubilation and rejoicing in the Liberal-Labor camp and the one cry heard on all sides and from every mouth is "Hang 'Er Down!" The fight in the West End is over. The Liberal-Labor party has won. All that remains is the polling of the votes. The victory is won and all we have to do is "Hang 'Er Down!" till Thursday. They're licked boys, and we will keep 'em licked.

Kerosene Oil Shortage.

Owing to a shortage of Kerosene Oil, people in Conception Bay who have not electric light in their homes (over 50% of the people) are obliged to go to bed at dark. Some shipments of oil ordered over a month ago for Bay Roberts and adjacent places are hung up somewhere, and the people are not too well pleased at the prospect before them. Reports have come from Whitehouse section that expected feed for horses at logging has not arrived and in consequence the animals are starving and will have to be shot. Truly Tory times are hard times.

McMurdo's Store News.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 21, '20. This severe weather is hard on complexions, but we bring art to assist nature in keeping the skin smooth and comfortable in even the harshest weather. The timely application of some good cold cream—say McMurdo's Special—at night is a great help in that way; while for day use, McMurdo's Peroxide Cream or Cream of Lilies are marked out as being very eligible. Really there is no need to suffer from sore face or hands, or chaps, abrasions, or roughness of the skin when these things are at hand to help you. Prices: McMurdo's Cold Cream, 40c. a pot; Peroxide Cream, 40c.; Cream of Lilies, 30c.

To-day's Messages.

POPULAR GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, Jan. 20. General Denikin, leader of the anti-Bolshevik forces in Southern Russia, has formed a new Cossack Government, with Nova Rossyia as the capital, according to diplomatic advice received here. It is declared that recognition of the new Government by the people is apparently favorable.

STRICT BANK REGULATIONS.

LONDON, Jan. 20. A wireless despatch from Berlin says the Government has issued a regulation increasing the control over banks to prevent the transfer of German capital to foreign countries.

PASSENGERS TRANSFERRED.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 20. A radio message received here tonight reported the arrival of the destroyer Shastky alongside the disabled transport Powhatan. The message said that the steamer Northern Pacific would take off the passengers and the Western Comet would tow the Powhatan to Halifax.

NO SETTLEMENT.

PARIS, Jan. 20. The Supreme Council disbanded tonight without settling the Adriatic question. Signor Nitti, the Italian Premier, left to-night for Rome, and Lloyd George, the British Premier, will depart for England to-morrow.

HADNT HEARD OF IT.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 20. M. Litvinoff, the Soviet representative here, said to-day he had not yet been approached concerning the Supreme Council's decision to raise the blockade, but that he was ready to negotiate with them if approached.

NEWSPAPERS SEIZED.

DUBLIN, Jan. 20. American newspapers, arriving here during the last few days, have been seized by the postal authorities, supposedly because of articles referring to Irish affairs.

BOLSHEVIKI DEFEAT KOLCHAK.

PARIS, Jan. 20. Bolsheviki troops have occupied all the territory in Siberia, west of Krasnoyarsk, from which they have driven Admiral Kolchak's forces, according to the latest despatches received here. Kolchak units are reported to be beating a retreat eastward.

STRIKERS CASE BECOMES CELEBRATED.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 20. The case of Russell, the convicted strike leader, whose appeal for release was denied by the Manitoba Court of Appeals, will be taken to the Privy Council to determine the standing of trades unionism in Canada.

SUPREME COUNCIL TO TAKE ACTION.

LONDON, Jan. 21. A despatch to the Central News from Paris says that the forces the Supreme Council will send to oppose the Bolsheviks in Caucasasia are expected to number two hundred thousand.

U. S. HELPLESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21. As the German Peace Treaty is not yet operated so far as America is concerned, the United States, it is stated officially, has not joined in the demand upon Holland for the extradition of the former Emperor of Germany, nor can it do so even if it desired.

WILL STAND BY AGREEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21. It is officially stated that there had been no change in the States position regarding settlement of the Adriatic question since announcement of this country's attitude by the President in Paris, and that there was a determination to abide strictly by the terms of the agreement, with Jugoslavia, for an adjustment of the claims of that country and Italy for territories bordering the Adriatic.

BEST BRITISH ADMIRAL IN U. S. NAVY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21. Rear Admiral William S. Sims was given an ovation last night by several hundred of his brother officers of the Army and Navy when it was announced at a banquet tendered to the general officers of the Army and the flag officers of the Navy that Admiral Sims, one of the guests of honor, would "in view of recent happenings" answer any questions which were put to him at the close of his address. Keen interest aroused among the diners by these announcements was not, however, rewarded by any sensational statements when the Admiral finally arose to speak. He refrained from all personalities, and the only direct reference he made to his recent testimony before the Senate Committee in Washington, was the statement that he was "embarrassed to find himself referred to by a clever correspondent as the best British Admiral in the American Navy."

Supreme Court.
