An enraged traveler writing home from the far West says: "Descending to the bar-room, I took my turn at a tin wash-basin with a cake of yellow soap, and dried myself on a rusty towel hung on a broom; a boot-jack and a lean 'dog' lay in the middle of the floor, the chairs long ago ceased to be quadrupeds, discomfort is king, and dirt is prime minister."

The following appeared in the Jamaica, N. Y., Standard of the 29th ult: "Hog Guessing.—Mr. T. O'Brien, of the Union Hotel, in this village, announces, that, on Thursday, December 4th, 1873, at 2 P. M., he will kill the finest and largest hog ever slaughtered in Queen's County, which will then be guessed for. The animal is supposed to weigh eight hundred pounds. Chances, fifty cents. The nearest guess will take the hog; the next, the overplus money."

A Rocky letter from a Canadian residing in Newfoundland says: "We hear just about as little of Canada as we do of Kamchatka. Canadian papers are almost unknown, and Canadian people, drummers excepted, are about as rare as Turks are in Montreal or Toronto. From the few stray paragraphs one occasionally sees about Canada in the St. John's local papers, I gather that you have had a change of Government. Any business news, however, is confined to the price of fish oil, or the rise and fall of dried cod."

High time Newfoundland was confederated.
