Destitution in Texas.

New York, July 17.—Rev. C. Q. A.
Rose, of San Antonio, Tex., was seen at the see house in Lafayette Place yesterday, and during the course of a conversation in regard to the famine in portions of Texas and Northern Mexico said the people of all the border counties of Texas beginning with Valverde and extending down to Cameron county have been in a terrible condition for a long time owing te the drought that has existed now for four seasons, during which time no crops have been raised. The affected district embraces an area of many thousand square miles, and there is in this drought-stricken portion a population of between 25,000 and 30,000 that may be said to be literally destitute. The people for a long while attempted to take care of themselves, but finally last April the destitution became so great that they were compelled to make known their condition and ask for help. No crops can be raised this year and the people will have to be cared for until next June.

—Very excellent authority says: "It is a fact that such fruit as the apple, the pear and the plum, taken when ripe without sugar diminish the acidity of the stomach rather than provoke it: The vegetable sauce and juices are converted into alkaline carbonates, which tend to correct acidity. A good ripe apple, raw, is one of the easiest of vegetable substances for the stomach to deal with, the whole process of digestion being complete in 85 minutes." In the French hospitals an apple poultie is applied to inflamed eyes; it is probable that such fruits taken as food also serve as allayers of inflammation in the stomach and other alimentary organs. This is peculiarly true of cranberries and grapes. The Sick Room.

Greece is learning a lesson which was long since borne in en the people of certain portions of this country. The reduction of its forests from 7,500,000 acres to 2,000,000 has resulted in a scarcity of water and various injurious climatic effects. It may be thought, perhaps, that the weather for the past month in this vicinity is a sufficient answer to the claim that cutting off the trees brings a scarcity of water; but it is a part of the theory of those who have made a study of the subject that the removal of the forests interferes with the regular distribution of the rainfall and gives us prolonged rain as well as prolonged drought.

He lost his balance and fell to the deck, a distance of 40 feet. He was badly injured about the head and shoulders. Capt. Giass, of the Dauntless, landed the unfortunate man here this atternoon and sent him home to Sarnia by train.

THE GENERAL BURNSIDE SUNK.

CLEVELAND, July 17.—The tug A. P. Wright left here Friday night with the lumber barges Conrad, Reid, Ostoria, American Grant and General Burnside in tow. All but the American Grant were coal laden. During the heavy northwest gale the tow broke adrift and the Burnside foundered a few miles off the piers in trying to make harbor yesterday morning. The crew were taken off the sinking boat by a tug. Her spars are just above water. Her cargo of coal was consigned to Port Huron. She was owned by Captain Nelson Little, of Port Huron.

KINGSVILLE, July 17.—The following employes of the Mattawa Hotel here are believed to have been lost upon Lake Erie in Friday night's storm: Rudolph Blazer (second cook), Geo. Boitard (fireman), Maggie Mecham (vegetable cook) and Anna Dillon (kitchen girl). The party insisted on going out despite the protests of the boathouse keeper, who warned them that a high wind was coming up. As nothing had been heard of them, a relief party, headed by W. H. Somers, the steward, started in a tug to the resoue, but after several hours of hard work the searchers were obliged to abandon the search on account of intense darkness and the fury of the gale.
