LOCAL MARKET. Wednesday, March 1, 1905.

Hay was the feature at the market. There were 44 loads of hay offered. Sales were on the slow side, and prices were lower at $8 to $9 per ton, mostly at $8 25 to $8 50 per ton. Straw sold quickly at $3 50 per load or $6 per ton. Oats were in good demand, most at $1 13 to $1 14 per cwt.

With the exception of last Saturday. the market on the other days of the past week was below the average. The offerings of the smaller lines on Saturday were very large for this time of

The thaw during the week removed a lot of the surplus snow from the roads, coupled with the fact that the weather was pleasant, enabled the farmers to come a considerable dis-tance with some degree of comfort. The farmers were anxious to take advantage of the high prices prevailing for the smaller lines of produce, which, no doubt, accounted to a considerable extent for the large display on Saturday. Sales have been moderately-brisk, and prices are considered lower than those paid in the previous week. Grain-Oats have been offered more freely; prices are lower, although the past couple of days they have been at $1 12 and $1 14 per cwt, Barley sells at 96c to 98c per cwt. Hay and Straw—The improved condition of the sleighing has helped to make the offerings large. There has dition of the sleighing has helped to Butter and Eggs-Butter is firm at the recent drop in prices. Sales are made mostly at 22c to 23c for crocks, and 23c to 25c for rolls, creamery 28c to 30c. Eggs sell mostly at 22c to 25c per dozen wholesale.

Apples—Sales are slow at $1 and $1 25 per barrel for good stock, or 40c per bag.

Potatoes—Several car loads were brought in by the dealers, which has brought prices down. Sales are made at 75c to 90c per bag, mostly at 80c per bag.

Dressed Hogs—Not many offered this week; sales are brisk; prices are a little firmer, especially at Tuesday's market, when they advanced from $6 75 to ket, when they advanced from $6 75 to $7 25 per cwt for selects.

Live Hogs—Prices for next Monday will be about $5 30 per cwt, and probably a trifle more will be paid for the choice kinds. Heavy, fat sows are offered at $3 25 per cwt. for hens, and 121/2c to 131/2c for gob blers; chickens, dressed, 11c to 111/2c per lb, or from 70c to $1 10 per pair; alive, c to 10c per lb or 60c to 75c per pair. Butchers Meat-Sales are slow at the prices quoted.

Hides — The market is weak and lower prices are expected.

STOCK MARKETS.

H. C. Becher, stock broker, Bank of Commedce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today: New York, March 1.-Noon,-After a somewhat strong opening, prices declined and the market became irregular and rather nervous. There was fairly heavy trading in Union Pacific the professionals being inclined to sell whilst there was some buying which had the appearance of being good. I was thought that there was further absorption of Erie by Morgan brokers London houses sold on balance. Gener ally, the market lacks snap, and commission business shows a decided falling off. This is possibly due to the fact that the Northern Securities case is coming up before the supreme cour today, and that consequently the spec ulators do not wish to increase their commitments. The majority of brokers on the floor are of the opinion that the market looks tired. Sales to noon, 505,

THE "GRAYS" CARNIVAL

All-Round Success-Some of Those in Costume -Prize Winners.

The first carnival of the West Lon ion Grays was held last night and was a success from ever standpoint, repeated it would be quite as successful. The attendance was very large, both as regards the spectators those in costume. It is probable that there were never before a larger number of skaters in costume on the ice at the Jubilee Rink.

Good prizes were given for the bestdressed competitors, Mr. Keene won first as best dressed gentleman, and Miss Ames as best dressed lady. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Turner carried off the honors as best-dressed colored lady and gentleman. Miss R. Norman was awarded the prize as the best lady skater, and Mr. Hewitt took first for the best comical costume. Some of the others in costume who were espe-cially noticed were the following: cially noticed were the following:

THE INSPECTOR WAS THREATENED

"Smash" the City Relief Officer.

In his official capacity of relief inspector of London, Mr. J. W. McCallum runs across some queer characters, and, of course, has many queer experiences, but yesterday afternoon he had the unique experience of being threatened with physical force by a woman.

The husband of the woman in ques-ion had called on Mr. McCallum and asked for assistance, but the inspec-tor's information was to the effect that the man spent his money over the bar and he did not feel like helping The man went away and said noth-ing, but it appears that when he made out his report at home his wife was very angry.

Without delay she came down town and made her way to Mr. McCallum's office. The inspector was not at all frightened when she entered the room, because she was a very little woman -about as big as a little Eva in an "Uncle Tom's Cabin" show. But she soon demonstrated that size county for nothing in a woman, any more than in a Jap.

Sighting the inspector, she started to lecture him. Without the slightest regard for Mr. McCallum's sensitive feelings, she made the most uncalled-for remarks regarding the color of hu-hair, and his facial hirsute adornments. And then she made a rush at McCallum maintained a most dignified silence, not exactly Sphinx-like, but more after the manner of the distinguished Rajah of Bong. But this stately manner only appeared to irritate the little woman, for drawing closer toward him, she threatened to 'land on him. "For two pins I'd give you a smash in the face," she said. "I know you You'll not fool me."

Mr. McCallum posed like Ajax delying the lightning, and the little wo man "made a riffle at him," as they say in sporting parlance.

Just then Assistant Inspector Lutman appeared on the scene, and the friendly caller took her departure. Mr. McCallum was, of course, greaty relieved by her absence, but he is still debating the question whether or not he will ask Chief of Police Williams for a bodyguard.

Dog for Legs of Jesse Ashford.

Those who were in police court this morning (of their own accord) had several good, long laughs. Jesse Ashford, a colored man of respectable ap-pearance, was the cause of it all, his description of how Mrs. Martha Cake's bull-terrier worried him on several occasions being very amusing. He charged her with keeping a vicious dog, and after hearing the evidence the magistrate ordered Mrs. Cake to dispose of the dog.

Ashford said that the dog had taken a particular fancy to him for some time past, and that it had run at him on two occasions. One time he grabbed him by the leg. After that witness had "taken the bluff" every time. The dog was a "bad character," and should be put away. Ashford insisted. Mrs. Cake said that the dog had been abused by Ashford and that he struck at it while he was drunk.

"But is this dog a temperance dog, that he takes after only men who are drunk?" asked the magistrate. "I think that any dog would go after a drunken man before he would after one who was sober," was Mrs. Cake's reply.

The magistrate concluded that the dog was a vicious one and suspended sentence for a time until Mrs. Cake would dispose of it, which she promised to do. When the magistrate called the name of William Carry, alias John O'Connor, a good-looking young fellow stood up He was charged with the theft of a watch from John Hendry, C. P. R fireman, almost a year ago. Yesterday he came back to the city, was recognized by Detectives Nickle and Egelton and taken to the cells, protesting that he was innocent. He changed his tune today, and asked to be remanded until Friday. His lawyer would be here from Toronto then, he said. He said, however, that he would plead guilty to the charge, but wished to have his lawyer with him. 'The magistrate said that he would allow him to put in his formal plea on Friday.

John Talbert was fined $3 for being who taken ago Mayor Campbel who taken ago Mayor Campbel drunk. It was not his first offense and the magistrate could not see his way clear to let him off.

-No. 3 committee of the city council meets tonight to consider, among other things, the salary increase asked -Work has been begun on the new erected for a Chicago firm on Chelsea

COMPANY PAYS MONEY TO CITY

Little Woman Was Going to L. E. and D. R. R. Enriches City Treasury by $800, Being Percentage On M. C. Rental.

> Today City Treasurer Pope received a check from the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway Company for $800, being the amount the city is entitled to through the favorable judgment secured in the friendly suit instituted by the city against the company to ascertain whether or not the city was entitled to a percentage on the amount received by the Lake Erie from the M. C. R. for running privieges over the L. and P. S. R. It will e remembered the Lake Erie claimed that this money could not be classified as earnings, and that consequently the city was not entitled to a percentage The court held differently, however, and as a result the city has re-ceived a check for $800. Of course, this does not mean that the city is entitled to $800 a year extra henceforth. The $800 is made up of the percentage on the Michigan Central earnngs for some years back, or since the Lake Erie took over the road. In 1908 the city received $4,409 44 of percentage on earnings from the Lake Erie, and if the $800 just received be added to the percentage of 1904, it is seen that the amount due the city for 1904 totals in the neighborhood of $5,-500. The city, besides this percentage, draws a fixed rental of $10,000 per year for the road, and also about $2,500 from interest on funds spent to repair the

The repairs to the city clerk's office have been completed, and the result is a big improvement. The clerk is now in a place where he can attend to his duties without being bothered by everyone, and access to his office is only possible through the rear. The entire office has been repapered and touched up, and the old furniture has assumed a new appearance.

There is much "Old Boy" talk around the city hall these days, and one of the choicest items is that which iccuses Ald. Matthews of having several thousand postcards printed with a picture of the county jail on them, and distributed to the Old Boys all over the world. People are wondering what Ald. Matthews meant by this, and what the Old Boys will think he meant. If a man is sent a picture of jail he may be foolish enough to think that he can find a more pleasant place than London in which to while way a week.

Regardig the statement made at the Old Boys' meeting last night that the aldermen are seeking to shirk responsibility for this year's reception, cer-tain of the aldermen say this talk is not quite fair, because all the aldermen are on the Old Boys' committee, and they will use their best endeavor this year as they have in the past, to make a success of the reunion

Mr. J. R. Shuttleworth left his horse standing in front of his factory on Clarence street this morning when it became frightened and started down the street at a rapid rate. Mr. Shuttleworth owns a splendid greyhound, which goes by the name of "Don." The dog was near the warehouse when the horse started to run away, and away he went after it, overtaking it in a few umps. When he reached the horse's head Don commenced to bark-a thing which he never did before. Then he caused it to go from one side of the road to the other until its pace had become slackened, when he began to snap at the horse's legs. The result was that the horse came to a stop and was caught before any damage was

Some time ago Mayor Campbell, who takes a deep interest in the London and Middlesex Historical Society, wrote Mr. Charles F. Colwell, clerk of the committees at Ottawa, and a wellknown former Londoner, asking him if he could procure exhibits or books for the society. Today the mayor received a letter from Mr. Colwell statng that he has shipped to London two large boxes, containing samples Bell, head of the geological department; two boxes of books from Mi A. G. Doughty, Government archivist and a box of books from Mr. Colwell imself. Needless to say the mayor n behalf of the Historical Society, is very grateful to Mr. Colwell for thes
