MARY'S ADIEU.

MISS ANDERSON LEAVES THE LONDON STAGE.

LONDON, April 29. - Miss Anderson has made London, April 29.—Miss Anderson has made her exit from the London stage. A vein of sad nervousness ran throughout her performance, marring her best effects in "Galatea" and "Comedy and Tragedy." The house was uncomfortably filled, but was not a distinguished one. At the close, being called before the curtain, Miss Anderson said:—"Ladies and gentlemen, although I shall soon return to my gentlemen, although I shall soon return to my native land, I feel sad at now saying farewell to London. I little thought, eighteen months ago, when first appearing here, trembling and fearful, that I should finally have won such kindness and applause as greets my farewell. I shall never forget you. I ask you never to forget me. (Cries from the pit, 'We won't, Mary !') I hope in time to again return. May I? me. (Ories from the pit, we won't, Mary!')
I hope in time to again return. May I?
(Crics over the house, 'You must!') If I do I hope that the London public will be glad to see me. (Voice in the gallery—'The public is your little lamb, Mary!' followed by roars is your little lamb, Mary! followed by rears of laughter and applause.) I will therefore not say farewell but goodby." In response to more calls Manager Abbey was led on by Miss Anderson. To cries of "Speech!" he pantomined to his lips and heart, and, pulling down his vest, retired. Miss Anderson now rests until mid-August, partly in England, accepting private hospitulity, pertly on the Continent. Then she completes her provincial tour, beginning at Newcastle, through the principal cities in the Midlands and northward, ending at Cork on September 26, whence she takes steamer tor New York.

A WAYWARD SOLDIER.

HE DIES A MISERABLE DEATH. LONDON, April 29.—The body of James LONDON, April 29.—Inc body of James Talbot lay in the Morgue yesterday, and Coroner Messemer held an inquest there to determine the cause of his death. He died in the Workhonse on Friday, from Bright's disease, brought on by alcoholism, dissipational and product.

tion and neglect.

Talbot was 47 years old, a native of England, and came to the United States about twelve years ago. He has been known for five or six years as a tramp of the most worthing nettern. lass pattern. He was a nephew of Lord Talbot de Malahide, of County Wicklow, Ireland, and of Cardinal Talbot, of Rome. In early life Talbot was educated as a soldier and received a commission in the Forty-seventh regiment of the line, British infantry, and rose to the rank of captain. He served sevcral years with his regiment in India and other parts of the world, and had a bright career before him and powerful influences for advancement behind him, but fast living and dissipation drove him out of the service, and he was obliged to leave England for his family's sake. He entered at first into mercantile life in this country, but was reckless and unsuccessful and econ began to drift downward. His relatives, however, allowed him an annual stipend, paid to him in quarterly instalments and remitted regularly to his agent in New York.

When his money came he would dress himself tidily and keep clean for a week or two, but at the end of that time usually his money was gone, and he became the companion of the vilest, and slept in lumber yards, areaways or police stations until his next remit-

He was once a handsome man and highly educated. Habitués of Wallstreet, the lower parts of the city and of Madison square will remember the bronzed, pleasant face, the round English accent and the courtly manner of a man in soiled and ragged shirt who often asked them bluntly for "five cents to get a glass of beer." It was his boast that he never asked for money to buy bread when he really wanted to buy beer with it.

THE BRATISH BUDGET.

HOW THE HEAVY DEFICIT IS TO BE MET. LONDON, April 30. -In the House of Comton stated that since the government had decided to revise the policy to be pursued in the Soudan, it had been in correspondence with the British diplomatic representative at Cairo and Lord Wolseley. The latter had gone to Stakim to report upon the military situation.

The budget for 1885 was submitted. It shows a delicit of £1,049,000. Mr. Childers said the government did not propose to cover the whole of the deficit this year, or to let the whole charge fall upon property. It is proposed to raise the income tax to eightpence. he expenditure of the metyear was £3,800,-000 over the estimates. The revenues for customs and excise showed a continual falling off on spirits and a continual but alow rise in other chief duties. The revenues from tea and tobacco showed steady progress, indicating the satisfactory progress of the people. (The opposition received this statement with much laughter). The income tax produced £12,000,000. The total revenue was £33,-643,000 and the total expenditure £89,692, 000. The present government had paid all charges bequeathed it by the late government, including £5,000,000 given to the Indian government Mr. Childers estimated the cutlay for 1885 86, not including the vote of credit, would be £88,872,000. With the income tax at fivepence in the pound, the total revenue would be £85,180,000. Mr. Childers estimated the deficit, including the vote of credit with reasonable allowances for supplementary estimates, at £14,932,000. proposed various modifications of the legacy, succession and probate duties, the imposing of new taxes upon property hitherto exempt, and that the duty on foreign stocks made Payable to bearer be raised to ten shillings per cent., that the duty on home made and foreign manufactured spirits be raised by two shillings a gallon, and the duty on beer one shilling a barrel, leaving a deficit of £7,432,-000, which it is proposed to meet by taking £4,600,000 of the sum annually devoted to the reduction of the national debt, leaving

The house agreed to the budget resolutions. The forecast of the deficit for the ensuing year as announced by Mr. Childers has created a sensation. It is the largest deficit since the Crimean war, and will severely tax the patriotism of the people. Foreign patent medicines will be charged the same duty as those manufactured in England, but the stamps will be so altered as to avoid any ap-Pearance of the medicine being English. The Telegraph says the budget is acceptable, and is not likely to impair the prospects of liberal candidates. The Times says: "The budget is ingenious and in principle equitable, but can hardly be reckeded among courageous and logical achievements of upper ructive Land to Lindice."

the balance to be met by the operation of the

THE IRISH VICEROYALTY.
LONDON, April 30.—The concillatory and flattering speech made by the Prince of Wales at Carrickiergus yesterday, is followed te-day, by a statement that he is strongly of the opinion that the office of Viceroy of Ireland should be abolished, and its duties transferred to a Secretary of State for Ireland. The authority for this expression of a very radical change in the government of Ireland is more than doubtful, and it is entirely in accordance with the nationalistic sentiment of opposition to Castle rule, that it was probably born of the desire that he should have so expressed himself.
