

ENGLISH LANDLORDISM.

Its Infamous As Described by an Observant American.

Edgar L. Wakeman, the well known American journalist and litterateur, who is at present making a tour through Ireland, thus writes of the infamies of English landlordism in that country.

To us much among the lowly in Ireland there is an ever present series of scenes which touch the contemplative heart so deeply, that, at times, if only within its own hearing, it cannot but cry out in agonized protest at the governmental conditions which make of so fair a land an eternal prison house of mourning and tears. From Malin Head to Cork, from Belfast to Donegal, from Dublin to Galway, from Wexford to the farthest islands of wild Iveragh, in every one of over 200 consecutive days, at some time between the hour of rising from, or lying down upon the bed or peasant's wisp of sea weed or straw, I have performed, and not my own self, looked upon scenes and beheld cognizant of incidents so dolorous and desperate in their ferocity and with such directness of appeal to the least generous and most grading justice of humanity, that I have stood appalled and involuntarily exclaimed, "How can Christianity truly exist and a Christian world idly permit such barbarities to continue!" The most frequent and heart rending of these scenes is of course the eviction. I have already witnessed 133 of these home murders by English law. It is easy enough for any gib writer to give the outlines of one of these daily horrors, but, as yet, no one has been able to do so, except by putting his soul-travelling hands beneath the descriptive veil of actual fact, and lift from the inner perdition of Irish eviction one little scroll for the world to see truly painted the faintest outlines of the helplessness, the dismay, the horror and the despair, that come to every miserable wretch cast starving upon the roadside in Ireland. That one were truly a vicar of God.

THE INFAMY OF ENGLISH LANDLORDISM

In Ireland annually drives 80,000 Irish men, women and children from Ireland's shores to foreign lands. That is one reason why the population of Ireland to-day is not more than double what it was 1,500 years ago. Eighty thousand souls flying from the land of their birth to escape actual starvation and lifelong governmental injustices worse than death, means about 1,540 heart-breaking partings for every week, or 220 for every working day of the year. It is in this

There's a heart-sob I'm hearing, O desolate Erin, That throbs above the hoarse song of the sea, And that nothing will never Joy calm, till freedom's trumpet o'er tyranny be!

Sometimes feel that the woe of these people would be too great for human endurance were it not for their hope and help in and from America. The noble work of the National League has reduced the rental of Ireland to $25,000,000 annually. More than three fifths of the money necessary to effect this was contributed by Americans and Irish-Americans. And still so pitiable is the condition of the peasantry that, in my judgment, twice the number of evictions, and therefore twice that amount of indescribable misery of this sort would occur, were it not for the additional millions of American money annually coming here; the aggregate of countless driblets sent individuals to prevent evictions or to keep soul and body together. I believe that fully one half of all money transactions at every small city, village and post station in Ireland are of this character. Stand at the money order window in the post office of any American city one hour, and the number of issuances you will see of orders on Ireland postoffices for sum of ten shillings to ten pounds will tell the story—at least an endless answer to an endless cry. It is simply impossible to convey the faintest to a stranger to these things of the measure of sorrow in the aggregate to Irish people, or to make comprehensible to the world the agony, in individual cases, thus relieved. On one of the richest estates of county Antrim, not 20 miles from Belfast, two maiden sisters, all that were left of an Irish family which had originally built the first tenant cabin ever erected in the townland, and who had reclaimed, made valuable, and occupied a small holding of ten acres, for 200 years, having in that time paid to landlords nearly $10,000 in rents, were found last November, by people I knew, physically helpless and starving to death. There was not one ounce of food, a crumb of meat, nor scarcely a rag to cover them, in the half-rotten home from whence they had been a few weeks previously evicted, but had been given the miserable privilege of occupying as "caretakers." I say, for I personally know this, that these two women of respectability and good intelligence were literally starving to death within a few rods of the titled proprietor's palace, a more gorgeous and affluent establishment than can be found on the banks of our Hudson; and would have indeed been murdered by British landlords, had it not been for a few pounds which came luckily on its mission of salvation from the hands of some hard-working Irish American.

At a little Connemara hamlet, near Oughterard, a few weeks ago I stepped into the post office to mail some letters to America. There was quite a crowd in the stuffy mite of a room. As I turned to leave, I heard the shriek of, "Holy Mother of God, the joy has struck her entirely!" I followed instantly by a crash of glass, and a heavy fall on the dirty floor. It was an old woman who fell. She was a widow; left alone here in Ireland. She had a half a rood of land and a hovel. A daughter, for a little time a servant in America, had been sending from her scant earnings thirty shillings quarterly. This time, from some trifling error of misdirection the saving pittance was long overdue. Protests to the "agent" delayed action for a while. But finally the summons for eviction proceedings were served. Every day for weeks the haunted old soul had come here for that letter. Every day she had staggered half fainting away without it. Why can't we know the hope, despair, agonized longing and heart-stilling fears scourging like demons the silent and inoffensive life of this lone creature for that time? This day she had come, I found, like a ravenous beast clutched the letter tossed out to her, and, tearing it open, her aching old eyes had once rested on the dingy scrap of paper between life and eviction and the work horse, when the return of flood of life and hope in that instant of exalted deliverance swept her martyr's soul to the landlords' sales of eternal rest. And so they buried her—and there was no less "Irish agitation" to disturb the sudden sleep of English justice.

I COULD FILL YOUR COLUMNS,

a dozen times over, with the most briefly related instances of woe arising out of the horrors of eviction, or of no less pitiable close escapes from these direct of Irish tragedies through help from our own country; and all within my personal knowledge. To me, their universality, and the triviality and unconscious with which they are regarded by those in power in Ireland, demonstrate the utter futility of hope by the Irish peasantry from this power which has remorselessly fastened these conditions upon them, and forced them for generations as a Dei Gratia right, and now present to the world the spectacle of being appalled that a universal humanity demands some slight measure of redress. It is the same story everywhere. This family mortgages its pig for the rent; another its donkey; another its crop of potatoes in advance; another its tiny cartload of flax; another, with not enough labor in its combined members to decently live, works out part of the rent and starves while doing it; another sells the wedding ring as the last resort; and another pledges the cow.

A nice diamond point adjustment by the merciless "agent" of the family's extreme producing powers to the limit of rent which he can force, and a bulldozed out of them, says the Irish farmer in a state of endless resignation. Pretext is inefficacious. There is no recourse. Change is impossible. The ferret of an agent knows to a penny the family's producing possibilities. He knows, too, just what the son, brother, daughter or sister, in America, can be forced into sending to keep these Irish slaves with a roof over their heads; and all that is taken into account for legal robbery. All this, until I believe fully one third of the robber rentals of Ireland are paid by American money. In other words, one third of the millions of dollars wrung from Irish slaves, are paid by these slaves' American friends, thus, unwittingly, in an effort to prevent legalized murder through eviction, heartbreak and starvation, in effect.

STRENGTHENING THE BARBAROUS POWER which, on the other hand, they are attempting to force to some slight terms of justice, through the contribution of other millions in money to the National League. The only possible temporary recourse from this universal woe of Ireland lies of course in emigration. That is the last, indeed the most difficult, resort, just the same as it would be with those in the United States who frequently flippantly remark, "Why do these people remain in such misery?" If the poverty of such was as dire as that of these, they would understand why they stood still and suffered. No one can properly tell the shifts and efforts to escape. Everywhere here you will learn of men and women saving, a half penny at a time, for a lifetime, for the requisite passage money, and then dying with old age or starvation, with their hopes unfulfilled. I have met with many instances of this kind. While in the arid islands of the west, an elderly man, a help gatherer, died in a hut near Kilmac, He was a strong framed fellow and ought to have lived many years longer. His wife was dead, and his family consisted of only two girls, one a half-witted creature requiring constant attention. Not until with his dying breath did he reveal his secret, which was that the poor man for over a quarter of a century had suffered untold privations that he might sometime get his little flock to America, and that in the hollow of a certain rock overhanging the cabin paddock they would find what he had got together. They found as he had said, nearly all in peace, half peace and small silver coins. There was enough to take two to America; but the man had to journey on the storeless sea alone that the girls he had striven for might escape Erin's woe.

This hope against hope for Ireland, within Ireland, to escape into some better condition and country, is astounding in its universality among the peasantry. Everywhere the peasantry see the remorseless engines of eviction move on. No single worker in Ireland has a column enough in which to chronicle these evictions as an American journal would report facts of equal local importance. They see another thing which does not seem to be discussed by their own papers as they should be; nor has any attention been given the same by the American press. I have heard this talked with the deepest concern under the breath in over 3,000 Irish cabins, comprising a large number of tenant farmers' homes in every county in Ireland. This is a belief that there exists whose quiet but active purpose is to effect such widespread eviction as shall speedily depopulate Ireland of the tenant farmer class, and completely change the agricultural system for one of grazing, thus transforming the island into a vast cattle ranch for supplying the English market. I have been frankly told by scores of Irish landlords that this was their intention. They believe it can be accomplished. Their arguments in relation to it briefly and brutally are: Owing to raising pigs, raising chickens does not pay, it is out of the way, and Parnell tried out, and thus postpone home rule a few years, we can evict every Irish tenant under some pretext or another. By burning or otherwise destroying their hovels when we get them empty, we rid our estates of the last vestige of the old system. Within five years we can thus replace a dangerous class of people who imagine they own Ireland instead of us, with a million doleful folk from English and Scotch shires as herdsmen, grazers and caretakers, on our own terms. Then America, Australia and the Argentine Republic will own the Irish, and we will possess in peace our own land. All that will end the Irish question. This much that I have seen with my own eyes is certain. On hundreds of large and small estates, where just this policy has been carried out, not a structure containing a human being, aside from the mansion, demeans "houses" or castles, can be seen as far as the eye can reach; and cattle and sheep graze at will among the deserted fields, or crop the richer grasses which spring up about the ruined walls of burned and leveled homes.—N. Y. Tablet.

A SECRET AND DETERMINED ORGANIZATION OF LANDLORDS

Taxes on Necessaries.

The whole amount of the duties collected upon imports in 1888 was $22,187,869. Of these imports the only large items which are clearly luxuries are tobacco, spirits, silks and fancy goods. How do these compare with the duties levied upon articles that are necessary or useful? The duty upon spirits and wines was $1,937,460. The duty on sugar was $3,433,334. The duty collected upon tobacco was $233,533. The duty collected upon books, periodicals and other printed matter was $242,882. The duty collected upon silks was $827,782. The duty collected upon cottons was $1,181,509. The duty collected upon fancy goods was $335,493; upon embroideries, $62,495; upon fur, 126,933; or in all less than $626,000. Against these luxuries let us put the duties on woollen goods, which amounted to $2,801,827. The list of taxed luxuries has nearly run out. Let us suppose that all manufacturers of brass, which pay $242,822 name under the head, add jewelry, $43,033, and manufacturers of gold and silver $62,979; in all, less than $350,000. But the duties upon iron and the following duties were also collected upon necessities:—Provisions, $326,035; grain, $189,218; arrowroot, rice, etc., $84, 428; flour and meal, $86,545; coal and coke, $768,418. There are other items which are made up very largely of necessities, as woodens, $336,705; drugs, dyes, chemicals and medicines, $366,868. The Trade and Navigation Returns establish beyond all question the fact that three-fourths of the duties levied upon imports are levied upon necessities, by which term we mean articles in daily common use by rich and poor alike. We don't propose to take up the time of our readers in the idle and profitless discussion of how many of these things a man can dispense with if he chooses to live like an unevicted Indian.—Toronto Globe.

IRISH FAMILY NAMES.

Some of the changes in which the "O's" and "Mac's" have been lost. Family names are hereditary surnames first became fixed in Ireland in the reign of Brian Boru, between the years of 1002 and 1014. For a long time, says the Irish Times, it was a popular error that the prefix "O" to a name signified that the bearer was of royal descent, while a Mac had no special significance of high social standing. This error has been exploded by showing that several Kings in Ireland have borne the prefix of Mac to their names, while some of the lowest and most obscure families bore the prefix "O." When surnames first became hereditary some families went back several generations to select an illustrious ancestor from whom to take a name. Mac signifies son, like the Anglo-Norman Fitz, a corruption of the Latin filius, a son. "O" was taken to signify that the name was taken from a grandfather or more remote ancestor. Appended is a list of some of the popular names to be met with every day, showing the transition of the name from an ancient Irish to the present English. In some instances several different names were made from the Irish name. Generally the change was made into something bearing a similar sound to that of the original. Mac and O'Gowan into Smith, MacIntrive into Carpenter, MacSpallane into Spencer, MacConroy into L'Estrange, MacCross into Crosby, O'Keilly into Kilday, O'Donnell into Danvers, O'Sullivan into Silvers and Silvan, MacCarthy into Carter, O'Neill into Neil or Neel, MacConara was corrupted into Conover, and Anglicized into Ford. In the same way O'MacCachain was translated into Ryder and Anglicized Markham. MacConroy was corrupted into Conroy, and erroneously translated into Conroy. Rogers is an Anglicization of the Irish name MacRory. Matthews is the English of MacMathon.

MACCONROY IS THE ORIGINAL.

from which has been corrupted Campbell, Canham, Howell and Gouffled. MacOscar in like manner has been altered into Cosgrove and Costello, MacMurtagh to Mortimer, O'Clery to Clark and Clerkin, O'Connell to Cunningham. The O'Dorcy's of Galway altered their name to D'Arcy and D'Orsay, to give the impression that they were the descendants of the Anglo-Norman family of D'Arcy. O'Donoghue is the Anglicization of the Irish name Delaney. Many Irish names have been abbreviated, not through any desire on the part of the bearer to hide their origin, but in order to render the names more pronounceable in English. Of these MacEochaidh is only an example and is now known as McKeogh and Keogh; MacGillpatrick, as Gilpatrick; MacGillbride to McBride; MacGillgallen to Linden and Leonard; MacGennis to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to Ennis and Guinness; O'Mulryan to Ryan; MacMurtagh to Kavanaugh; the original of Murphy is O'Murchada; it was Anglicized O'Murchoe and laterly Murphy. Connelly and Connolly are derived from O'Connell; Cleary from O'Clery; MacCloskey to McCloskey; MacCloskey to Linden and Leonard; MacCloskey to