

As that Treaty is the Basis of the present Peace, and the Terms of it in relation to the Fishery are plain and intelligible, it cannot be doubted but the Administration will cause them to be punctually observed, more especially as they fall under the Dominion of the British Flag, whose Honour is immediately concerned in securing the Rights of this Kingdom against all Encroachments, and in protecting its Subjects from Insults on every Part of the Ocean.

F I N I S.

