

	Page
CHAPTER XII.—Notes on American Women—Comparisons— How Men Treat Women and vice versa — Scenes as Illustrations	85
CHAPTER XIII.—More about Journalism in America — A Dinner at Delmonico's — My First Appearance in an American Church	104
CHAPTER XIV.—Marcus Aurelius in America—Chairmen I have had—American, English, and Scotch Chairmen— One who had been to Boulogne—Talkative and Silent Chairmen—A Trying Occasion—The Lord is asked to allow the Audience to see my Jokes	116
CHAPTER XV.—Reflections on the Typical American	128
CHAPTER XVI.—I am asked to express myself freely on America—I meet Mrs. Blank, and for the first time hear of Mr. Blank—Beacon Street Society—The Boston Clubs ...	139
CHAPTER XVII.—A Lively Sunday in Boston—Lecture in the Boston Theatre — Oliver Wendell Holmes — The Booth-Modjeska Combination	145
CHAPTER XVIII.—St. Johnsbury—The State of Maine—New England Self-control—Cold Climates and Frigid Audiences —Where is the Audience?—All Drunk!—A Reminiscence of a Scotch Audience on a Saturday Night	151
CHAPTER XIX.—A Lovely Ride to Canada—Quebec, a Corner of Old France Strayed up West and Lost in the Snow— The French Canadians—The Parties in Canada—Will the Canadians become Yankees?	159
CHAPTER XX. — Montreal — The City — Mount Royal— Canadian Sports — Ottawa — The Government — Rideau Hall	168
CHAPTER XXI. — Toronto — The City — The Ladies — The Sports—Strange Contrasts—The Canadian Schools ...	175
CHAPTER XXII.—West Canada—Relations between British and Indians—Return to the United States—Difficulties in the Way—Encounter with an American Custom-house Officer	181