Refreshments will be sold during the evening, the proceeds of which, to-doors, will be in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital.

Another delightful home hour will be held at the Y. W. C. A. residence, King street, on Sunday afternoon, when the members of Mrs. Nichol's organized Fible Class of New St. James' Church ill be the hostesses.

Everyone is looking forward to the big Made-in-Canada carnival to be held in the armories on Thursday evening next by the I. O. D. E. chapters of the city. This will be one of the biggest affairs of its kind ever held in the city, and the fact that the time for making and the fact that the time for making arrangements has been brief will in no way detract from their excellence. Dancing will not be a small feature of the event, and at 9 o'clock there will be a great grand march during which the costumes will be judged. A prize is being offered for the best costume on the Promptly at 3 o'clock, to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Edythe Couzens, sister of the bride, the bride entered the drawing-room leaning on the arm of her father, and took her place underneath an arch of calendulas and spring flowers banked with ferns. The bride looked charming in a gown of white satin and georgette and wore the customary wedding neil with orange blossoms. She also wore a corsage bounder of sweetheart roses and orchids, and the groom's girt, a crescent brooch set in pearls. Miss Josie Fox of Ruthven, gowned in champagne georgette, acted as bridesmald, wearing a corsage bounded for sweethears and picture hat. Mr. Carleton Whittle of Kingsville was best man, while little Gwendolyn Garen of Chatham, cousin of the bride, and Onalee Woodiwiss of Comber, niece of the groom, made dainty little flower girls, carrying the ring in a basket of roses and sweet peas.

During the signing of the register, Miss Grace Couzens of London, aunt of the bride, sang very sweetly. Because. The groom's gift to bridesmaid and soloist were gold pins, to the plaints a cameo ring, to the flower girls signet tings and to the best man a gold stickplin.

Some time ago you printed a formula for a pomade or ointment to be rubbed into the scalp at night for dandruff and falling hair. Two of my friends used falling hair. Two of my friends used it with excellent results. Please print the formula again. (G. F. W.)

ANSWER—Salicylic acid, 20 grains; precipitated sulphur, 1 dram; ointment of rosewater, 1 oz. Apply to scalp on tips of fingers, parting the hair here and there and rubbing the ointment in without smearing it over the hair. Systems without smearing it over the hair. Systematically go over about one-fourth of the scalp in this way each night. Take a shampoo once a week. Continue
