STREET RAILWAYMEN
TO HOLD MASS MEETING Will Consider Finding of Board of Conciliation Saturday Midnight.

At midnight Saturday the street railwaymen will meet in the Star Theatre to hear the result of the findings of the board of conciliation which conducted an investigation into the men and the company for an increase in salary. The evidence has been concluded and Judge Smith of the Board of Conciliation has arbitration, will likely hand the findings of the board over to Aldermen Robbins and Gibbons who are chief figures in handling the men's case.
The nature of the findings in the report will decide what further action is likely to be taken and it is generally known that both sides are desireous of having the matter settled by the opening of the Exhibition.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

ROBINS PLAYERS FULL HOUSE SEES IN "SHIRLEY KAYE" SHEA'S FIRST BILL

Final Production of Season Proves One of the Best.
Opening Show of the Season Proves Bright and Attractive.

There has never been a stock company in Toronto before that so thoroughly attracted the attention of the theatre-goers as the Robins Players have done in their seventeen weeks at the Rexal Alexandra. A comedy which opened the final week of their engagement with "Shirley Kaye," a comedy which excited the full powers of the company and found them equal to every demand. Mr.
Robins deserves much credit for his skill in casting the various parts, and the loyalty of his support actors. The social ambitions of his company and the excellent place of work, comedy of manners largely, but with the intense interest for the average audience of a big business code to centre the action, some well-defined and not too conventional character types and a sym-phetic love story, with a heroine of compelling charm, a little of Fortia, a little of Leola, and a line of the sympathy of the cave woman to react from the refinement of the leading society family in the Lone Island set. There is a wild westerner from Idaho, and a railway buccaner from the same region, and they have marked the Central Union Railway for their prey, that road having been the scene of a terrible tragedy.
Kaye's father, a man who has no adequate business instincts, thinks more of personal pride and personal pleasure of his road, and who necessarily goes to pieces. How his daughter uses the social ambitions of his opponent's daughter to defeat their game, and yet to win their goodwill in doing so, is the motive of the play. The second act is perhaps with clever dialog, well observed human nature and much ease of expression, a line of the sympathy of the best of the four. From the purely dramatic point of view, the play is but the third is closely knit and develops its series of surprises with unfailing interest. The last act is a dependent on the clever work of the performers, and attains an altogether satisfactory climax. The piece has been a success, and the Robins Players are to be congratulated on their achievement.

YIDDY TRAMP COMEDIAN
WITH "MILITARY MAIDS"
George Clark's Comic Stuff Feature of Bright Burlesque at the Star Theatre.

George Clark, the funniest, tramp comedian, who has come to the Star Theatre, is in Toronto this week with the ever-popular show, the "Military Maids." Clark has earned for himself an enviable reputation during the past few seasons, and with his tramp make-up and eccentric ways, never fails to keep the audience in an uproar of laughter and good humor.
Clark has been a success in his comic box expeditions, and has been by Clark and his co-partner, Charles Fagan. Clark is clever with a violin and is backed by a big company of attractive chorus girls.
Songs, the whistling kind are tendered for the boys in the upper gallery by Caroline Warner, Leola Fox and Myrtle Franka. Caroline Warner has been a success in her comic box expeditions, and has been
attractive chorus girls.

"DAUGHTER OF THE GODS"

The picture beautiful, "A Daughter of the Gods," with Annette Keller-mann, conceded to be one of the most artistic of action pictures, will be presented to the audience of the Star Theatre during the period of the Fair, commencing on Saturday, August 25, with a matinee every day. Triumphant success has attended the picture since its first showing, and the picture is now being shown in the most popular theatres of the world. The action in its entirety required the services of 50,000 people, the most popular scenes being recruited from the natives of the Island of Jamaica, where the picture was filmed.
The mermaid episode, only one of six tremendous features, displays the carefully selected beauties of the water kingdom, disporting in summer seas and on glistering coral strands.

HIGH-CLASS DANCE ACT

Other Good Turns and a Fine
Western Photoplay Make Up Varied Program.

Variety in high-class vaudeville is offered to patrons of the Hippodrome this week in an exceptionally interesting bill headed by an act entitled "The Aesthetic Dancers." Annette Kellermann, who has been offered in this act by six pretty and graceful girls, headed by Miss Bernice LeGrand, a clever toe dancer. Both costumes and dances are original and exceedingly interesting.
Other acts at the Hippodrome this week are Green, Miller, and Green, who present a Grand Opera program of eccentric tricks and instrumental and vocal music. Valentine Vox, Jr., demonstrates rare ability as a ventri-quist.

LABOR CAMPAIGN
GREAT SUCCESS
Nearly Six Thousand Men Placed on Farms Since Beginning of August.

TORONTO STANDS ALONE
Only Provincial Centre Failing to Supply Allotment of Men.

S. R. Parsons, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and chairman of the special committee of employers which undertook the securing of sufficient farm labor to garner the crops of the province, and J. W.
Woods of the War Production Club, held a conference yesterday with Dr.
Riddell and others regarding the farm labor situation.
According to the reports from the district representatives, provincial labor bureaus and other sources, Dr.
Riddell was able to inform the gathering that the estimated number of men before the war had been 100,000. Since August 1, nearly 6000 men had been placed on farms and, in consequence, the acute labor situation which existed at the beginning of the campaign has been greatly relieved. Men who have offered their services in the smaller places and have not been placed, have been unwilling to leave their section, and in some cases there is a demand for men which could be met locally if the farmers were willing to pay the wages asked.
While in the smaller centres the men volunteering were greatly in excess of the number asked and the large centres secured their quotas. Toronto stands almost alone in not having secured the number of men that it was thought the city could supply. Not quite 2000 men have offered their services thru the local labor bureaus, and several hundred more could be placed at once if they could be secured. It is hoped that the men still needed will be secured from manufacturers and other employers who have not as yet given men.
After hearing the reports, Messrs.
Parsons and Woods said that the need had been correctly estimated, and in spite of the present requirement the campaign had been a splendid success.
