Potato War Threatened, Premier Lloyd George's intervention in the potato crisis is regarded by the Sunday newspapers as an eleventh hour effort to avert the potato war which has been threatening for some time. Lloyd's Weekly News says that people everywhere are dis-contented over the dearth and dearpess of potatoes, while retailers are rebellious and refuse to sell at the price fixed by the controller. Serious famine exists in virtually all the large Lancashire towns, par-

The usual week-y output from the Ormskirk district of Lancashire is between 3000 and 1000 tons, but this month not 100 tons en sold by retail, yet it is expected that there are more than 20, 000 tons of potatoes within a ten-mile radius of Ormskirk. Acting under orders from Dublin, the police in Ireland visited the market at Drogheda, Middleton, Limer-ock and elsewhere and ordered the armer sellers not to charge more
