VICTORIA TIMES, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1911 in brief were to the effect that "you did," and "you did not." Back in Italy such retorts may have led to lively consequences, but in the present dir-comstances it is money instead. Mean-time all the Italians and Greeks who whose name is a household term in every land—none other than Charles Darwin, who, in his "Different Forms name is a household FESTIVE HOLLY of Flowers," page 297, says: "During several years I have examined many IN CARROLL CASES OF COMMISSI AND ITS SEX lants but have never found one that re kept from working by weather mditions are taking an interest in was really hermaphrodite." On Thursday the Times published KING GEORGE SHOWS an article on holly, the major part of which dealt with the large number of orders for this shrub received by local growers about Christmas time. Towards the end of the article a brief reference was made to holly itself and its varied characteristics.
