The New Household Manual and Ladies' Companion is a valuable book for the household and a useful guide in every home. It may be obtained from H. A. H. Morrow, 90 Garden street.

The sub-committee on the application of J. Fraser Gregory and others for a lease of the islands above the falls will meet Wednesday afternoon when all persons interested are invited to be present.

The Shore Line fishermen are out on strike. There are 16 in number and they are asking for an advance in wages of 20 cents a day. Trueman have been getting $1 per day and foremen $1.25 per day.

Attention is directed to the advertisement in this paper for shares in the river below Fredericton and now held in the several booms. This is a large tract and keen competition is expected.

That some United States business people are hazy on the geography of Canada is illustrated by a ridiculous letter to the editor received from a firm in Akron, Ohio, by a Moncton gentleman. The address reads, "Prince Edward Isl., Moncton, N. B., Canada."

Miss Louise Webster, formerly teacher of elocution at the Ladies' College, Sackville, was married, a few days ago, to Quebec to Wm. P. Gilles, of Toronto. The bride was Miss Cook of Sackville, the bridesmaids were Mr. Barrick, of Winnipeg.

There were 12 deaths last week, resulting from the following causes: Conventions; carcinoma of liver, carcinoma of stomach; cancer of throat; 1 disease of spinal cord; 1 heart failure; 2 inflammation of lungs; 1 old age; 1 paralysis; 1 phthisis; 2.

The police of the city have received word from W. S. Stout, general manager of the Dominion Express Company, to the effect that F. S. Ballard, C. P. R. telegraph operator at Nepeawa, Man., left that place on October 24 with $300.85 of the company's funds, also money belonging to and is supposed to be in New Brunswick.

The St. John board of trade has fallen in line with the boards of trade of the Canadian cities in endorsing the scheme of preferential trade within the empire. At a meeting held last night the local board adopted a resolution on the same lines and incidentally the travelling of a portrait of the late R. W. William F. Bunting, whose name stands prominent among the many distinguished craftsmen who have belonged to the lodge.

A ceremony which will be of special interest to the pastor and his flock will be carried out on Monday evening next when a mortgage for $1,700 which has been standing on the church parsonage for almost 40 years will be burned. The mortgage was held by the Eaton estate and of the money with which it was liquidated about $1,000 was paid in connection with the century fund. It is expected that the remaining $700 will be secured at next Sunday's services.

After several weeks of operations at Palmer's Point log boom, the tug boats Hercules, Sea King and Waring arrived at Indian Point Sunday forenoon. The Sea King having in tow from the Reach a boom of 10,000 pieces, which she deposited in the Mill boom. It is a matter of doubt as to whether the Hercules and Waring will return up stream, but the Sea King left last Sunday night. She had on board Arthur Sewall and his appliances for "sacking" lumber, which she will use at Oromocto. The term "sacking" means to remove into the stream what ever sticks have become stranded. At Oromocto there are many in this condition.

By reason of a difference of opinion as to who should possess the title to the Townsend Logan property referred to in the letter of the day before, the Officer-Superintendent on Saturday afternoon it appears that Mrs. Logan (whose husband was drowned recently in the Kennebec river) has a relative named Randolph Logan, who resides on Chesley street. About a month or more ago Mrs. Logan had occasion to journey to Somerville, Mass. Her child, a male infant about six months old, she left in the care of Randolph Logan's family. When the mother who is at present staying with Mrs. Appleby, of Brunswick street, called at Randolph Logan's house on Saturday for her baby it is alleged that she found her child somewhat in the nature of a task. Finally as a last resort she went to the North End police station, procured Officer Sample and with his escort returned to renew her efforts. This course was successful, but not before a candid exchange of remarks relating to the guardianship of the baby had passed between the mother and Randolph Logan's family.

Mr. John Connor, of St. John, who arrived here yesterday morning, returns to the commercial metropolis this evening. Mr. Connor is here in connection with the St. John Valley Railway. The time limit in the charter of this company had lapsed and Mr. Connor is seeking to have the charter revived by the legislature. The government have expressed themselves as opposed to reviving charters unless fully satisfied as to the bona fides of the company. In this case it is felt that the work was suspended because of the death of one of the contractors and that until his business affairs were wound up a legal title could not be secured. The death of public interest among our citizens and has lagged in subscriptions. As it is desirable that the fund be closed up without delay, however, the opportunity for receiving subscriptions will be presented only until Saturday next, after which date the fund will be closed and turned over to the nurses for distribution. The termination is certainly a worthy recognition of the valiant deeds of courage of girls who deserve public cognizance of their heroism. Any who wish to contribute further to the fund will, therefore, please send their subscriptions to the Daily Telegraph this week. All contributions will be acknowledged in these columns.

The fund for the benefit of the hospital nurses of this city who distinguished themselves during the smallpox epidemic, has unfortunately not awakened a great deal of public interest among our citizens and has lagged in subscriptions. As it is desirable that the fund be closed up without delay, however, the opportunity for receiving subscriptions will be presented only until Saturday next, after which date the fund will be closed and turned over to the nurses for distribution. ## WERE MANY IMMIGRANTS.

FIGURES OF WORK AT SAND POINT BY UNITED STATES OFFICIALS.

More Than Four Thousand Passed Through to Uncle Sam's Domain -- Some Cases of Parties Held Back or Deported.

The past season has been a busy one for the immigration officials and the new immigration building has been constantly in use since its construction, although it is not yet altogether finished.

Commissioner John Thomas, of the United States immigration service, with an able corps of assistants, has had a great lot of work to do in the examination of all immigrants who were destined to the United States and his duties have been made harder at times on account of lack of facilities. The total number of passengers examined in St. John from December 1 up to March 13 is 4,739 and of this number 3,963 went through to the States, having passed the necessary examination, and 776 were detained.

Of the number held over 488 were detained on account of not having the required amount of money, 8 for fares, 37 for treasuries, 13 for hernia and 41 for miscellaneous causes.

Under the strict examination made by Commissioner Thomas and assistants it is found to be undesirable that persons be allowed to enter the country who are not of the proper character and are not of the proper age.

DEATH OF R. C. JOHN DUNN.

Well-known Architect Passed Away Sunday Night--Splendid Buildings His Monument.

R. C. John Dunn, the well known architect, died Sunday night in the General Public Hospital, after a lingering illness.

St. John had no citizen who was better known or whose demise will be more sincerely regretted than R. C. John Dunn.

Of a kind and genial disposition he made friends of all with whom he came in contact; ever with an encouraging word or cheerful salutation he was as familiar to St. John people as he was the many of our handsome buildings which owe their being and beauty to his creative skill.

Weekly Expenses Reduced

Entered according to Act of the Parliament of Canada, in the year 1901, by Lever Brothers Limited, at the Department of Agriculture.

If your grocer mixed sawdust with meal, or sand with sugar, would you be satisfied to purchase loaves composed, however cheap it might be? Certainly not, for everyone knows there is no nourishing property in sawdust, and sweetening property in sand. To purchase sawdust in meal, or sand in sugar, is not merely buying something useless but something harmful, and that later will cost double for doctors' bills.

Adulteration in food is repelled strongly by everyone, because he or she feels directly its harmful effects, and has to pay dearly for the experience in health and pocket. People generally, however, do not think much of the direful effects of adulteration in household requisites because they do not realize or have not thought out the cost to themselves of such adulteration. Size and weight of the article for a given price often overbalance every other consideration.

If a woman were buying a sweeping brush, is it not better to pay a little more for the brush with double the number of hairs or bristles than to purchase a cheaper one with so few hairs that it will not take up the dust at one sweep, but requires two strokes for one stroke of the better brush? It stands to reason that the cheaper brush, requiring double the number of strokes, will wear out in half the time of the other; it will never do its work so efficiently, and will require double labor to do the same work.

In the poorer article one has to pay the same cost for the labor of manufacturing, the same cost for storing and handling, the same cost for carriage, as for the better quality. It is common sense to calculate that the best ought to be the cheapest.

When one makes a purchase it should be because the article looks cheap, but because of its thorough suitability for the purpose for which it is required.

This essay is intended to bring more particularly before householders the waste and expense incurred weekly by the destruction of linen and other washable clothing in the wash tub. The example quoted in this essay is given as a cheap one—not that it will apply in every case to the letter. It is a fact put in approximate figures that it may be the more forcibly grasped by the busy housewife who has little time to think out the subject for herself.

In many families the value of the clothing washed weekly would be less, in some cases it would be more, and the life of the articles washed would depend upon their quality. The one important fact remains, that common, adulterated soap is a waste of money, and that Sunlight Soap is a saving.
