A HOME DRUGGIST

Popularity at home is not always the best test of merit, but we point proudly to the fact that no other medicine has won for itself such universal approbation in its own city, state, and country, and among all people, as

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The following letter from one of our best-known Massachusetts Druggists should be of interest to every sufferer:—

REUMATISM. "Eight years ago I had an attack of Rheumatism, so severe that I could not move from the bed, or dress, without help. I tried several remedies without much if any relief, until I took AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by the use of two here. less of which I was completely cured. It sold large quantities of your SARSALALLA, and it still retains its wonderful popularity. The many notable cures it has effected in this vicinity convince me that it is the best blood medicine ever offered to the public.

River St., Buckland, Mass., May 13, 1882.

SALT RHEUM. GEORGE ANDREWS. overseer in the Lowell Carpet Corporation, was for over twenty years before his removal to Lowell afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form. Its ulcerations actually covered more than half the surface of his body and limbs. Ho was entirely cured by AVER'S SARSAPARILLA. See certificate in Ayer'S Almanac for 1883.

A JIG DANCER WITHOUT LEGS CAPTURES A HAND-SOME WIFE-A CASE OF LOVE AT FIRST BIGHT.

Miss Squeers admired Nicholas Nickleby because he had "such be-yeotiful legs," but there was a pretty girl in Toronto last week who fell desperately in love with a man who had no legs. Probably she fancled him because he never put his foot in it, and he loved her because she never tred on his corns. Frequenters of the Dime Museum will remember a legless jig dancer named Engene Ward who played an engagement here recently. He had his legs taken off in a railway accident and had learned to dance jigs, hornpipes and hoe downs on his stumps. He was quite a card and drew a big salary. Mr. Ward boarded at Mr. Fitzgerald's York Hotel on York street, Torcato, where he waxed fat on the good things provided. She who waited on him and handed him his ham and eggs of a morning was a big, handsome, buxom English girl latily out from the old country. Her name was Annie Jones, country. and between her and him from the first it was a clear case of love at first sight. Her voice was low and sweet when she asked Mr. Ward if he would have some more milk teast or buttered pancakes. Like all other sex, she knew that the shortest cut to a man's heart was through his stomach, and she went down his threat with his toast. She went to see him dence, and that finished her, and from that moment it was a settled thing with both of them. Ward took the precaution to consult Mons. Bushnell, a member of the company, as whether he would be sacrificing his dignity by marrying a wafter girl, but Mons. Bushnell gallantly replied that as far as he was concerned if he loved a girl he would marry her, no matter who she was. Mr. Ward sald that that coincided with his ideas exactly, and that he would wed with Miss Jones, even though she, had not a second dress to her back. He consequently called a back, took his love to a

HIGH GRADE AND LOW GRADE

PIANOS. The New York Plano Company complain that the manufacturers and agents of cheap pianos exhibit wonderful ingenuity in comparing their instruments with those of the highest standing and reputation, drawing inferences decidedly favorable to their own. They say:-

"The high musical standard and undoubted excellence of the Weber planos have made them the object of envy or imitation of a whole army of manufacturers and agents for the last dozen years, and his planes, more than any other, suffer from this unfair treatment." At one time the wily agent represents that his plane "has the Weber action," or "is made from the Weber scale," or "Weber's foreman is now in their factory," &c., &c. In one notable instance a factory was established in Canada to make planes with the Weber name, and the worthless trash was sold all over the country by agents who represented them as the" real Weber" planes. Another dealer in cheap pianos advertises all over the country that his planes "took the prize at an exhibition where the pianos of Albert Weber, of New York, were competing;" and still another, encouraged by this success in deluding the public, advertises that his planes "are taking the posttion formerly occupied by the Weber in places of amusement in New York," and, in the same papers where this advertisement appears (La Minerve and La Patriel, they ofter "a beautifalcarved, fuil round Weber plano for $225." Patience at last ceased to be a virtue, and the N.Y. Piano Co., who are the agents of the genuine Weber planes in Capade, reply to these attacks in pretty foreible language. They say: " If the Weber plane, advertised by Messrs. fairly described, we will give one hundred dollars more than the price asked even though the piano should have been used for ten or fifteen years, but," say they, " the $225 named in the advertisement is far too high for the bogus Kingstor Weber," which, as in this case, has so long done duty as a decoy to trap the unwary. As to Weber's being replaced by the piano in the places of "amusement" in New York, they say. "We acknowledge, it is true. The wealth and fashionable society, with classic music and the fine arts have, in New York, as in other cities, moved up town to the Academy of Music and Grand Opera House, taking with them the great representatives of music and art, Patti, Nilsson, Albani, Carreno and their constant companion, the Weber plane, leaving behind the old places of amusement, the Bowery Theatre, etc., now to be occupied by dance houses, low comedy, dime shows and the

The N. Y. Piano Co. also asks why the Messrs. - advertise their bogus Weber in the Minerus at $225, while they offer the same instrument to the renders of the Star for $200, and they pertinently ask if these dealers do not insult their 95 tf | the English do.

TO SIBERIA. Sr. Peterseure, April 8.—M. Natanson, the banker, who is guardian and benefactor of the Hebrew primary schools in Warsaw, was recently exiled to Siberia under very painini of cometances at the instigation of M. Apuchtys, Curator of Schools. M. Apuchtyp, in a tour of the Watsaw schools, ordered that all studies should be given out in the Bussian language. M. Natan a son being informed of this, immediately called on M. Apuchtyn, begging him not to lay this burden on the school, and saying that even if the Bussian language were made compnisory he thought the Polish should not be suppressed, as it was the daily language of the people. He also eaked that the decrees should be given in writing. M. Apuchtyn replied that in a few days he might receive the written resolutions. But in two days after this interview a kibitka stopped before the Natanson's door, taking him for a start toward Siberia, tearing the peaceful gentleman from his family, his banking in-terests and numerous young students who were being educated at his expense and now find themselves without a guardian.
