An interesting report on the Mattawa and Nipissing district as a field for settlement is given by Mr. Kirwan, who personally travelled the section of the country along the Canadian Pacific Railway, lying between Mattawa and Algoma Mills.

The Welsh Quarrymens' delegates, Messrs. Williams and Owen, give a report of their visit to Manitoba, containing valuable information collected by them from a number of settlers whose names and address are given in their report.

A report on the Bow River district by Mr. Alex. Begg, shows that a considerable number of settlers enter the Dominion across the frontier west of Emerson, whose numbers it is impossible to state accurately. Mr. Begg thinks that the discovery of mineral wealth in the Rocky Mountains contiguous to the line of the Pacific Railway will cause a rush of immigrants in the spring; and he adds that many prospecting miners are farmers and farmers' sons, who after trying their fortune in the mines, settle on the nearest land which offers the best advantages.

Dr. Spielberg, a member of the German Parliament, gives a very interesting report of his observations on Canada generally; and his report cannot fail to have a very good effect among his countrymen; and to carry great weight owing to the prominent position he holds in Germany.

An extensive report on the Manitoba products which were forwarded to the Dominion and Centennial Exhibition at St. John, N.B., and which were subsequently taken to the Boston Exposition of Arts and Industries, will be found to afford a large amount of information on the products of Manitoba. A number of articles from American papers on the subject will give some idea of the attraction this exhibit afforded; and also manifest the high position it held as compared with exhibits from the U. S. Pacific Railways which had also been forwarded to the Boston Exposition.
