

Coals or Culm imported as aforesaid; and it was directed by the said Act that the said Imposition of Six-pence should continue from the Twenty-ninth Day of September One thousand seven hundred, for the Term of Fifty Years, and the said Impositions and Duties have since been continued by subsequent Acts of Parliament for the further Terms of Thirty-five Years, and Forty-six Years and Five Years and Three Quarters of a Year making together the term of eighty six years and three quarters of a year from the Expiration of the said Term of Fifty Years: And whereas it is expedient that screened Coals, for which by this Act the reduced Duty of One Shilling per Chaldron is made payable as aforesaid (whether alone or intermixed with Cinders) should be exempted from the said Imposition or Duty of Sixpence for every Chaldron or Ton be it therefore enacted, That so much of the said recited Act of the Fifth and Sixth Years of the Reign of King William and Queen Mary, and the Acts by which the said Imposition is continued, as makes screened Coal (whether alone or mixed with Cinders or Ashes) for which the said reduced Duty is by this Act made payable as aforesaid, subject to the Payment of the said Imposition or Duty of Sixpence for every Chaldron or Ton of Coal or Culm imported into the Port of London, shall be and the same is hereby repealed: Provided nevertheless, that such said screened Coals alone or intermixed as aforesaid, shall be liable to the said Imposition or Metage of Fourpence for every Chaldron or Ton, and to all other Duties and Charges payable in respect of Coals or Culm imported into the Port of London (except the Duties of Customs,) and to all the Charges,

So much of W. & M. as imposes a Duty of Sixpence on screened Coals, repealed.

Proviso, that such Coals shall be subject to the Duties of the Port of Duties and Payments, Regulations, Restrictions, and Provisions, touching the Vend and Delivery thereof in the Port of London imposed and directed by an Act of Parliament passed in the Forty-seventh Year of the Reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled An Act for repealing the several Acts for regulating the Vend and Delivery of Coals within the Cities of London and Westminster and the Liberties thereof, and in certain Parts of the Counties of Middlesex, Surrey, Kent, and Essex, and for making better Provision for the same.

London, directed by 47 G. 3. c. lxxviii.

XIX. And whereas the Company of Merchants of England trading to the Levant Seas has been dissolved: And whereas some of the Members of the said Company who were residents at Places where Factories of the said Company were established in the Levant, were possessed of shares in British registered Ships, and such Persons may be desirous of continuing to reside at such Places, and also to retain their Rights in such British Ships; be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for any Person who was a Member of the said Company at the Time of its Dissolution, and who was a resident at any of the said Factories, to continue to own any Share or Shares in any British registered Ship of which he was at that time an Owner, although such Person shall reside at any of the Places where such Factories existed prior to the Dissolution of the said Company; any thing in any Act for the registering of British Ships to the contrary notwithstanding

Persons who were Members of the Levant Company before its Dissolution, and who were Residents at the Factories, permitted to continue their own Shares in British registered Ships.
