

begins to smoke a little, blow on it and it will break into a flame very much sooner. You don't have to keep a big fire going all day in camp so as to have it ready to cook on at supper time, just keep a smouldering one and you can start it again very easily by fanning a little.

Almost all hunters nowadays carry field glasses and consider them an essential part of their outfit. They are invaluable for searching out and finding game, but it is well to know of another way in which they can be made to serve a useful purpose.

SHADE

By Theodosia Garrison.

*The kindest thing God ever made,
His hand of very healing laid
Upon a fevered world, is shade.*

*His glorious company of trees
Throw out their mantles, and on these
The dust-stained wanderer finds ease.*

*Green temples, closed against the beat
Of noontime's blinding glare and heat
Open to any pilgrim's feet.*

*The white road blisters in the sun;
Now half the weary journey done,
Enter and rest, O weary one!*

*And feel the dew of dawn still wet
Beneath thy feet, and so forget
The burning highway's ache and fret.*

*This is God's hospitality,
And whoso rests beneath a tree
Hath cause to thank Him gratefully.*
