Warning Issued By SDC Chief

With the Winter Carnival fast approaching, Ted Boswell, chairman of the Student Disciplinary Committee, states that wrongdoers during the event will receive "the usual treatment".

He said that penalties for misconduct will not be increased, but that the usual standards of justice will apply. He also reiterated the following regulations concerning student behavior:

(1) Any student at a student function displaying the fact that he has intoxicating liquor in his possession shall have his name reported to the SDC, shall have the liquor confiscated and shall be asked by the campus police to leave the function.

(2) Students making a display of profane language at any student function are liable to discipline through a report from the Campus Police to the SDC.

(3) Unbecoming conduct at a student function may result in discipline through the SDC acting on a report from the Campus Police. Meanwhile, Bill Pollock of the Winter Carnival Committee said that all available campus policemen would be on duty during the celebrations. They will be reinforced by a number of committee members authorized to serve as policemen.

The committee has also arranged to have a number of city policemen on duty at the dances.

CARNIVAL TO FEATURE STAN WILSON

Fireworks Display Set For Thursday

This year's Winter Carnival fireworks display will be the biggest yet, the carnival committee announced this week.

The show is scheduled for the green opposite the Legislative Building at 7.30 p.m. Thursday. Following the display, a torchlight parade, consisting of about 200 torch-bearers, will wind its way up University Avenue to the Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium, where the carnival will be officially opened.

Also to take part in the parade will be the UNB Band, cheerleaders, drum majorettes and any interested students.

'Streets of Pompeii'

Come and have your fortune told, wish on three coins in a fountain in an authentic Roman courtyard with Roman colonnades, music and lovely maidens beside the "Streets of Pompeii" on February 16th.

Art Through Thought At SCM

Miss Lucy Jarvis, Director of the Art Centre, will speak to the SCM this Sunday at 2:30 p.m. on the theme, "Art and Religion". In the talk Miss Jarvis will discuss the role of art from the Middle Ages until the present century in mirroring the development of Christian thought. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

PEOPLE NEEDED

People are urgently needed to carry more than 200 torches in the parade immediately following the fireworks on Queen's Square.

Stan Wilson will be the featured entertainer at this year's Winter Carnival. Stan has a free and easy singing style, and is at home with anything from calypso to folk and popular songs.

He is scheduled to sing at the carnival's opening night show on Thursday, Feb. 5, in the Lady Beaverbrook Rink; and will also perform during the Friday and Saturday night dances in the Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium. This will be his first appearance in Canada. He arrives in Fredericton by air tomorrow evening.

Well known on the west coast of the USA, Stan was the headliner at San Francisco's Hungry Eye Club for three years. Then he left for Hawaii where he did a record-breaking 63 weeks stint at Waikiki's Puka Rathseller.

Stan's other engagements have included stays at the Tiffany Club in Hollywood, the Thunderbird in Las Vegas, and the Riverside Hotel in Reno, the Blue Angel in New York, and Chicago's famous Black Orchid. In all, these clubs, according to the show business paper Variety, the patrons kept calling for more and more of his songs.

His stay at the Clouds, a top club in Honolulu, brought the following comments from a local newspaper critic: "One of the most warmly received entertainers ever to appear here. His style can be described in one word, stirring."

Frankie Laine gave Stan his first recording break, after hearing him sing, he recommended him to Cavalier Records. Since then he has also recorded on such labels as Verve and Clef.

Some of Stan's recordings can be heard on the Norm Butler Show over CFNB. Norm will be spinning them from now until Carnival time. A Combination of Belefonte, Burl Ives, and Josh White; that is what they call him, so Stan should please a good majority of the people.

Sculpture, Float Plans Completed

The snow sculpture competition, a popular feature of the Winter Carnival, has assumed added importance this year with the expected presence of representatives of "Life" and "Time" magazines. A greatly increased number of entries is anticipated, and all attempts must be registered with Dave Fairbairn of the Winter Carnival Committee at 5-3001 by 12 o'clock on Thursday to be eligible for judging. All entries for the float parade must also be registered by noon tomorrow with Dave.

A new sculpture competition has been started this year because of the additional men's residences. They and the Lady Beaverbrook Residence will compete for a trophy donated by "The Daily Gleaner". In addition a new scoring system has been initiated. Twenty points each will be awarded: finish, detail, originality, general appeal, and size.

In past years a Saturday morning Float Parade has been one of the biggest highlights of the Carnival. One of the most highly contested competitions in this feature is the annual faculty competition. This year the Carnival Committee has attempted to stimulate further competition by offering a cash prize of $50 for the best float in this class.

In conjunction with the new judging system for snow sculptures, a similar plan has been initiated for floats. There will be 20 points each for: originality, finesse, color, method of presenting Queen, and additional features — such as, humour and mechanical movement.

All the faculties have entered this year's parade. The University's four residences will compete for a trophy donated by Mayor Wm. T. Walker. Many floats for the town competition have already been entered, but any other group or club interested in entering a float will be gladly welcomed.

This year's parade will again feature the University Band, capably led by Mr. A. F. Trythall, UNB's music director. Efforts are now in progress to obtain the services of another band or marching group.

The Fredericton Riding Club, UNB's cheerleaders, and drum majorettes will once again add sparkle and beauty to the parade.

ART BALL SOON

The Robin Roberts Orchestra will provide the music for the forthcoming "Arts Ball" on Friday, February 20, at the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel. Tickets are available to all Arts, Bus. Admin., and Phys. Ed. students (one guest couple may be invited also) for $2.00.

Dancing is from 9.30 - 2., and no corsages is the rule.

Ticket Sales Said Heavy

Advance ticket sales indicate that the Winter Carnival will be a sell-out, the carnival committee said this week.

Carnival passes are available all day at George's Men's Wear and at the Teenager Shop and in the afternoons only at Creaghan's. Up the Hill, tickets will be sold at the Bookstore during regular business hours and at the Student's Centre between 12 noon and 2 p.m. daily.

Separate admissions will be sold for all events except those taking place in the gymnasium. Only passes will be honored at the varsity basketball games and the two sock dances.

Students are reminded that admission to "Vicki" will be honored only on the date shown on the carnival pass.

Vandals Rifle Gym, Locker; $180 Missing

A thief or thieves Thursday afternoon forced a locker in the Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium and made off with the contents of a wallet, the property of Vaughn Dunfield, a second year engineer, reported to contain the sum of $30 in bills and a cheque to the value of $150. This has been but one of a series of locker riflings reported in recent weeks. City Police are investigating, but had made no announcement concerning arrests at press time.
