Cooked Meat?

Dear Mr. Griffiths,

In the past two years I have been an ardent follower of your "Meat" section. Although I don't agree with a few of your opinions concerning various reviews I feel that you do a very good job for The Brunswickan, and your section is certainly one of the brighter spots of the paper.

The presentation of the content as well as the content itself is definitely an eye-opener. In particular I thoroughly enjoyed the Buster Gonad and his Unfeasibly Large Testicles. A pure entertainment vehicle should take risks and although I sense quite a bit of flak heading the Brunswickan's way (I hope I am wrong) this should not deter you from creating the section which you try to attain. Keep up the good work and continued success in the future.

Thomas Marshall

Editor's note - The 'Buster Gonad' inclusion was mere the first two panels of a whole story. Check out 'vix' for the entire adventure.

Tom Attack

In last week's Brunswickan the complaints about the Spring Break Daytona trip were redirected to Tom Glistner, the organizer of Tom's Tours. I noticed an advertisement for another trip by the same company for the end of April. Take it from someone who knows; I would not recommend traveling under Tom's organization. His pathetic job the first time around should be some indication of his lack of organizational skills.

In a previous letter, it was stated that Tom cancelled a tour to Sea World due to lack of sales. Funny, when we first had the opportunity to buy tickets for these side trips, it was never an option. Another defender of Tom claims he made every effort to make the trip a success with free beer and good deals at bars. Perhaps this person didn't read the advertisements for these bars. These "deals" were available to any patron. Another night, I went to a bar and if we had been given a card saying we were on "Tom's Tours" the $8.00 U.S. cover charge would have been waived. As for the free beer ... what free beer?? Again, an effort not put forth by Tom.

There is a side trip to Rosie O'Grady's planned in the April trip. Beware, that great deal turned out to be quite a rip-off. It cost $15.00 to go, with the promise of 5 cents/beer all night. It turned out to be $3.50/beer. After Tom listened to much complaining, he slipped everyone $10.00. Perfect, he still made $5.00 per person for absolutely no effort of making special arrangements.

A student party ship was also a guaranteed good time, with a free T-shirt for everyone, according to Tom. Oops, I guess he forgot to make that arrangement ahead of time too. T-shirts were an additional cost.

Another complaint was about buses. Sure, a 40 hour bus trip is hardly expected to be enjoyable but for those who were on the bus without air conditioning, traveling through the southern states was extremely uncomfortable. A lot of other "luxuries" promised were obviously forgotten. We'll never know what happened to the T-V's or comfortable motor coach.

Half way down, we were promised the opportunity to stretch our legs and go for a swim in a motel pool. Well, unless we were planning to swim in the bathtub, other choices looked pretty grim...an outdoor pool with ice in it. Again, broken promises.

Things appeared to look up on the way home. Tom announced the specific steps for meals. What he failed to consider was the fact that there was a 12 hour wait between lunch and supper. We ate at three in the morning. Nice try, Tom!

I could go on, but the point of this letter is simply to recommend that you choose another holiday plan for the end of classes.

Sincerely,

Heather McNeill

Bye-Bye Bruns

Dear Editor,

At last weeks student council meeting Ernest Dunphy proposed a motion that only members of the Student Union will be eligible to receive honoraria thus excluding graduate students, University of St. Thomas Students, Part-time students and other members of the University community from receiving this.

This proposal is already disrupting the staff of the Brunswickan, Kwame Dawes (a graduate student) is intending to resign his position as Editor-In-Chief, as well as adversely affecting at least two other editorial staff members.

We at the Brunswickan feel that the actions of Ernest Dunphy (who is doing this in an attempt to get back at the graduate students association for their political victory in their recent encounters) has made a stupid error which may result in mass resignations of Brunswickan members, not to mention other student groups.

Such a policy would be fine if student organizations were being swarmed with enthusiastic volunteers, but, as many organizers of student groups realize, such is not the case. Damaging strong student organizations on a vendetta against the GSA seems rather foolish.

We feel that the student council should consider the ramifications of such an action before they destroy what has taken 123 years to build.

Campus Entertainment

Plan now to get involved in what is likely to be UNB's most exciting student organisation. We need creative people who are willing to put some work into making this campus a kick-ass place to be in '89-90. Here are some of the areas that you can get involved in:

- Promotions
- Live Entertainment Production
- Speaker Series
- Movie Series
- Winter Carnival Committee.

Organisational Meeting:
Tuesday, April 4,
7:00 pm, Tilley Hall 102.

PS: If you don't give us your input now (when it may actually make a difference) don't give us flak if you don't get what you want!
