DOCTOR'S FOOD TALK.

Selection of Food One of the Most Important Acts in Life.

A Mass. Doctor says: "Our health and physical and mental happiness are so largely under our personal control that the proper selection of food should be, and is one of the most important acts in life. On this subject, I may say that I know of no food equal in digestibility, and more powerful in point of nutrition than the modern Grape-Nuts, four heaping teaspoons of which is sufficient for the cereal part of a meal, and experience demonstrates that the user is perfectly nourished from one meal to another. That the extensive and general use of high class foods of this character would increase the term of human life, add to the sum total of happiness and very considerably improve society in general. I am free to mention the food, nor I personally know its value."

Grape-Nuts food can be used by babies in arms, or adults. It is ready cooked, can be served instantly, either cold with cream, or with hot water or hot milk poured over. All sorts of puddings and fancy dishes can be made with Grape-Nuts. The food is concentrated, very economical, for four heaping teaspoons are sufficient for the cereal part of a meal. Read the little book, "The Road to Well-being," in pictures. "There's a Reason."

ELIZABETH LOVING'S STORY RIVALS THAT OF EVELYN NESBITT THAW

HOUSTON, Va., June 25.—Between stifled sobs, with tears streaming from her bright blue eyes, and while striving to hold back the huge lump in her throat, Miss Elizabeth Loving, who has occupied the centre of the stage in the trial of her father, Judge William G. Loving, for the murder of Theodore Estes, told on the witness stand here today the story of her alleged ruin by the young man, whom her parent shot down. The recital was probably the most dramatic ever heard in a Virginia court of justice and rivaled the story told by Evelyn Nesbitt. That of her ruin by Stanford White. It was the same story she told to her father on the morning of the tragedy, and which culminated in his hunting down and slaying the man whom she charged with perpetrating the deed. She testified that on the following morning when her father asked for the cause of her being brought to the home of County Clerk E. L. Kidd, where she had been visiting Miss Kidd, her husband, the body was cold. Confessed during which the annual grant of $100,000 is to be made by the Dominion to the province of British Columbia if held by extended from ten to thirty years. Mr. F. Banbury was speaking when the house adjourned on operations. Winston Churchill said it was a most disgraceful and flagrant act of obstruction in which he expressed a wide variety of views.

If so whether he can assure the house that the government will not assent to any proposal which conflicts either with recommendations of the select committee on steamship subsidies or with pledges given by the Liberal party at the general elections to promote economy in public expenditure, whether the committee had before it the Canadian proposition that the line be equipped in such manner that the perishable products of the Dominion may be landed in the mother country in the best condition and whether it is part of the policy of the government to tax British and Irish farmers in order to enable competing Canadian producers to compete with the Atlantic at less than commercial rates.
