STABBED AT A FAIR

MIRL EXPRESS ROBBERY.

A Toronto Bookbinder's Stationery Charge of Robbery - Dying from Wounds Received.

A fatal stabbing and the outcome of an old quarrel took place on Friday afternoon in the sitting room of the Cleland House at Severn Bridge, a little distance from Brockville, in the northern division of the Grand Trunk Railway, 100 miles north of Toronto by rail, sixteen miles north of Ottawa, and two miles south of the station. The victim of the tragedy was John Scott, a respectable young man, and his alleged assassin is John McKenzie, a fellow-employee in the same line of business. The tragedy occurred on the morning of Friday, October 5th, at about 11 o'clock. The two men were sitting in the sitting room of the Cleland House, which is a large and comfortable establishment. They were engaged in conversation, and McKenzie was holding a book in his hands. Scott was sitting next to him, and they were both looking at the book. McKenzie suddenly turned towards Scott, and with a look of intense anger, he drew a knife from his pocket and struck Scott on the forehead. The blow was so hard that it caused a deep laceration, and McKenzie then struck Scott on the neck with the hilt of the knife. Scott fell to the ground, and McKenzie fled from the scene. Scott was taken to the hospital, and he died of his wounds on the morning of Saturday, October 6th.

TOPICS OF A WEEK.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR A FAY WARDEN.

The memorial service for the late Warden Fay was held at the City Hall on Monday evening, October 7th. The service was attended by a large number of citizens, and the Rev. Mr. Woodcock officiated. The service was a most impressive one, and the citizens present were deeply moved by the recitation of the eulogy and the singing of the hymns.

Weak and Nervous

Describes the condition of thousands of people at this season. They have no appetite, cannot sleep, and complain of the most distressing form of warmer weather. This condition may be remedied by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which creates an appetite and tones up all the organs. It gives good health by making the blood pure.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, cure headache.
