DEFEAT OF THE RUSSIANS.

Latest despatches from the far east tend to strengthen the conviction that the result of the three days' fighting around Liaoyang was the crushing defeat of the Russian army. It is quite evident now that the retreat of the Russians across the Taitse river was not a piece of brilliant pre-arranged strategy, but a movement prompted by bitter necessity. Kuropatkin accepted battle at Liaoyang, after having strongly fortified his position there, because he believed that he could not be dislodged and consequently that the Japanese armies would be checked if not defeated and compelled to retreat. He had guarded against flanking movements, and evidently planned to make the battle of Liaoyang the decisive engagement of the campaign. But Japanese strategy and fighting force once more prevailed. The fact that in evacuating Liaoyang the Russian army blew up the magazine and set fire to the enormous quantities of military stores which had been accumulated there is enough to indicate the character of the reverse to the Russian armies. Reading between the lines of the despatches, even those from St. Petersburg, it is plain that the retreat strongly resembled a rout. When regiments lose half their strength during a retreat of a few miles it is easy to guess the nature of that retreat.

But if the Russian soldier is not unconquerable, the optimism of the St. Petersburg officials is. Even in the news of this great disaster they find matter for comfort and for boasting. If Kuropatkin had not ordered a withdrawal to the right bank of the Taitse, say they, he would certainly have been surrounded and compelled to surrender; therefore "the commander-in-chief has actually converted what might have been disaster to himself into what is regarded as a reverse for the Japanese."

After this, we are likely soon to learn from St. Petersburg that the fall of Port Arthur is really the best thing that could happen from the Russian point of view, and would reflect great credit upon General Stoessel.

WORLD OF SPORT

BOWLING

CHATHAM'S VICTORY.

The bowling tournament at Blenheim on Monday was enjoyed very much by the Chatham bowlers, since they secured the trophy. The country was well represented. Chatham, Dresden, Thamesville, Ridgeway and Blenheim each had two rinks playing. The Chathamites seemed to be right at themselves and to have no other idea than to win the championship trophy.

Thamesville lost to Ridgeway in the morning. This was the only game in the morning.

In the afternoon Chatham defeated Dresden.

LA GRIPE COMING AGAIN.

The doctors believe another epidemic of Gripe is here, and already many are suffering. The medical men are not afraid of Catarrhozonia, a disease was introduced, and the claim that no one will ever catch this disease who inhales the fragrant, healing vapor of Catarrhozonia a few times daily. Catarrhozonia kills the Gripe germ and prevents it spreading through the system. "Last winter I had an attack of Gripe," writes C. P. Mackinnon, of St. John's. "I bought Catarrhozonia and got relief in short time. I found Catarrhozonia better than anything else and was cured by using it." Catarrhozonia prevents and cures Gripe, colds and catarrh. Two months' treatment $1.00; trial size 25c.

If money is the root of all evil it must be a bad thing—to be without.

MUST ALSO EAT

And What they Eat Must be Digested—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets What They Need.

Students, writers, book-keepers, clerks and all others who sit inside and work their heads for a living, should be alive to the important part the stomach plays in the day's work.

If the stomach is right, the mind works easily, the pen runs smoothly and all is one grand, sweet song. But when the stomach is wrong all the rest is out of gear. Let us show by example. Let Hene Trudel, a student of Three Rivers, Que., give his experience:—

"I was troubled with Dyspepsia," he says, "and it made alarming progress to the point that every day saw me in despair and I was resolved to give up my studies. Then I determined to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They made me better. To-day I have no bad head, no weariness, no pain. I am cured."

If you want to do a good day's work easily use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The use of a laxative occasionally. For a mild, safe and certain relief use Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Specially suited to children. Let your children use only Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Price 25c.

EVERY WOMAN IN POOR HEALTH

Has an awful struggle. Lots to do, all kinds of worry, most combined with loss of sleep, poor appetite and tired nerves. Her only desire is for more strength and better health. This is exactly what comes from using Ferrozine, the greatest tonic sickly women can possibly use. Ferrozine makes the blood light and grows red, the cheeks grow rosy, the eyes bright, Ferrozine invigorates the body, develops new strength and makes life living. Ferrozine, the sort of tonic that builds up, it gives one a reserve of nerve force and establishes such healthy conditions that sickness is unknown. Let every woman use Ferrozine. Price 50c.

OLD RESIDENT GONE

Rosellen Findlay, one of Kent's best known and most highly respected pioneers passed away Monday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Everett, in the 77th year of her age. Deceased has been ill for some time and her death was momentarily expected. Death was due to heart failure.

Deceased was the relict of the late Wm. Findlay, who died about twelve years ago. She was born in Ireland and lived in the vicinity of Ridgeway in the County of Kent, for about half a century.

Six daughters and four sons survive. They are Mrs. A. R. Everett; Mrs. W. D. Frost; of Ingersoll; Mrs. Geo. Teagan and Mrs. Thom. Smith, both of Detroit; Mrs. A. Link, of Pontiac; George at home; James, of Travers City; Joseph, of Ridgeway, and E. D., of Denver, Colorado.

The funeral will take place Thursday from the residence of Geo. Findlay, Queen street, at nine a. m., to the C. P. R. depot. The remains will be taken to Ridgeway. Rev. G. H. Cobblehead will conduct the services here.

FIX BOUNDARY LINE

Toronto, Sept. 6.—An Ottawa despatch says it is highly probable that the minister of marine may order a survey of the Detroit river between Detroit and Lake Erie, in order to delimit the international boundary. The last survey was made in 1822. It is said, and of late, owing to physical changes, it is hard to tell where the line of demarcation between Canada and United States territory extends. This makes difficult the enforcement of the fishery laws, for some offenders when caught have pleaded that they were in United States waters, and in view of the doubt existing they could not be proceeded against.
