Vol. IX NOV. 15, 1917 Nov. 23

That Hon. F. B. Carvell will be re-elected by acclamation appears to be the determination of a majority of both Liberals and Conservatives in the constituency. No one doubts the sincerity of purpose for which the union government was organized, and so grave is the present crisis in the progress of the war that Canada can only do her utmost by the united parties giving their best endeavour. Let Carleton-Victoria place no hindrance in the way.

MR. CARVELL'S ADDRESS

Hon. F. B. Carvell's address to the electors of Carleton-Victoria is not long, but it covers the ground. In terse and vigorous sentences he sets out clearly the great issue before the country in this hour of national peril, and states the reason for the existence of a union government. Not lightly or hastily did he and his union Liberal colleagues part company with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but only after four months of fruitless effort to find a common ground of action. In the end the momentous step was taken, because they were convinced the policy of Sir Wilfrid would not enable Canada to throw her whole strength into the war, and give the men in the trenches the support they have a right to demand from the people at home. Mr. Carvell makes it clear that the union agreement ceases as soon as the country is again placed on a peace footing, and that matters of merely local political interest are to remain in abeyance until the war has been pressed to a successful issue. For himself Mr. Carvell says:

Holding these views, and upon this platform, I confidently appeal to you for support, and, if elected, promise you that not only will I give my whole energy to the great object for which this Government was constituted; but, also, so far as my Department is concerned, and so far as my opinion may prevail with my colleagues, the affairs of this country will be run upon a business basis such as never existed heretofore. Patronage committees and patronage lists will be abolished, and the appointments to offices and other necessary functions of Government will be divided between both political parties in as equitable a manner as is possible. In other words, I intend to practice in office what, for the past six years, I have been preaching in opposition.

This is the forthright declaration of a straightforward, honest man, in whose firmness of purpose the people have learned to repose full confidence. Its appeal to his constituents should be irresistible, and they would be doing themselves honor to return Mr. Carvell by acclamation.—St. John Times

Hartland Has Khaki Wedding

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Curtis on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 8, when their younger daughter, Laura, was united in marriage with Capt. B. O. Kinney, R. A. M. C. Only the immediate family was present when the nuptial knot was tied by Rev. E. C. Jenkins of East Florenceville. Little Miss Margaret Cameron, niece of the bride, was very sweet and dainty as ring-bearer, Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played by Miss Jean Allison of Sussex, who, a close friend of the bride came for the occasion. Capt. and Mrs. Kinney took the afternoon express for St. John and went later to Montreal from whence the captain will sail overseas.

Captain Kinney was graduated as a physician from McGill in 1916 and went to Hartland temporarily to take the practice of Dr. MacIntosh who was then on overseas service. In the autumn he enlisted and for several months was over the water on service. For a few weeks he has been home on furlough.

Mrs. Kinney is one of Hartland's most popular young women. Graduated from Emerson School of Oratory in Boston she accepted a position on the teaching staff of Mount Allison Ladies' College which she held for two years.

A host of friends will wish the captain's safe return from the war that the young couple may have years of peace and prosperity.

Be Ready For Emergencies.

The best way is to always keep a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house, ready for emergencies.

Then when croup, or colds come suddenly they can be promptly cured before they have time to reach an acute and dangerous stage. To meet this requirement we have put the syrup up in family size bottles which contain nearly three times as much as a 25-cent bottle and sell at 60 cents.
