

The Good Shepherd

He leaves the Ninety and Nine within the Fold (Today, O, even to-day!) and hurries back To the dark hills. The night falls down amain, The thunder rumbles and the lightnings flash, The storm-wind kisses, but with steadfast eyes He climbs the cliff to find the lost sheep! His hands are torn with brambles and His feet Are bruised by the sharp rocks. The storm and rain Beat on His Face. He will not be deterred, He searches long (Today, O, even to-day!) Seeking the lost one. Then so tenderly, He bends and lifts it on His shoulders there, And brings it back rejoicing to the fold. Now is there joy in Heaven! But Christ goes out Again into the darkness, for He hears Another cry, and he must-ram again Searching amidst the mountains of Despair, And bringing back the lost unto the fold!

Mother And Home

Concluded WHAT A GOOD MOTHER DOES

A good mother lays down the foundation of her children's success in life with her own heart's blood. In order that her growing boys and girls may have the food they need, she eats often sparingly. In order that they may present a creditable appearance she toils over the wash tub, and the sewing machine far into the night. If they are sick it is mother who watches beside their beds with tireless devotion. If they bring home a prize from school it is Mother who is proudest and most rejoiced over it. If when they go out into the world they fail, and come back bruised and beaten and sin stained, it is Mother who received back the prodigals with open arms, and asks only to bathe their wounds with her tears. Mother works, not the eighth or ten-hour day of union, but the twenty-four hour day of the poor wife and mother. She cooks and cleans and scrubs and patches and nurses from dawn till bedtime, and in the night is up and down getting drinks for thirst lips, covering restless little sleepers, listening for croupy coughs. She has time to listen to the stories of boyish fun and frolic and triumph. She has time to say the things that spur one's ambition on. She never forgets to cook the little dishes you like. She does without the dress she needs, that her children may not be ashamed of their clothes before their companions. The home that Mother made was never too small nor its larder too scanty, not to have room at any time for her children, no matter when or how they returned. There is not a mother who does not deserve to have her children cover her work-knotted old hands with diamonds, and to have silks and velvets and lace hung on her poor stooped shoulders, and if they cannot do this, the least they can do is to make her the honored guest in their homes and lavish upon her the affection and appreciation that is even more precious in a mother's eyes, than jewels and fine clothes.

DUTY OF CHILDREN

There are few children mean enough to actually begrudge an old mother her support, but there are a great many children who think they are repaying their debt to their mother when they pay her a scanty board or provide merely for physical needs. This is not enough anymore than it would have been enough for the mother to have simply clothed and fed her children. She gave them more. She gave them love and tenderness, and took interest in their small affairs. She took the pain and trouble to make them happy, and no sons and daughters are doing their duty towards their mothers, paying back their debt unless they are showing her the

Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or stagnant condition of the kidneys of liver, and are a warning it is extremely dangerous to neglect, so important a healthy action of these organs. They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by gloomy foreboding and despondency. "I was taken ill with kidney trouble, and so weak I could scarcely get around. Took medicine without benefit, and finally decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. After my first bottle I felt so much better that I continued its use, and six bottles made me new woman. When my little girl was a baby, she could not keep anything on her stomach, and we gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured her." MRS. THOMAS L. W., Wallaceburg, Ont.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It cures kidney and liver troubles, relieves the back, and builds up the whole system. same attention and affection that she showed them—paying her back in the same coin. It takes almost a little to make an old person happy as it does a child; and it is a bitter, burning shame to us all that we withhold that little. A few words of heartfelt love, a warm embrace, a gentle holding of the thin old hand that has toiled so long for us, just the expression of our gratitude and of our honor and appreciation, will make the old face light up and the old heart sing joy. It is pitiful to think that if we only spared ten minutes out of our busy day in making specific return in words and acts to our good old parents, we could make them feel that all they had done for us was not done in vain. And Heaven knows it would be a little of what we can never repay in full no matter how hard we try. It is a debt that we should get busy about paying at once, for our day of grace is short. Soon the account will be closed, and when we look upon the work-worn hands entwined with a rosary, folded over the quiet breast whose every thought was for us, we shall know that no matter what we did for her we did not do half enough for Mother. God bless our mothers!

The Vatican Rose

Pope Leo X, who filled the chair of Peter from 1513 to 1520, was a man of singularly benevolent disposition and rare affability of manner. In a special manner he was the friend of children. He was standing one day at a window overlooking the Vatican gardens when he noticed a boy who was climbing with great agility the rather high wall which surrounded the grounds. Having accomplished the difficult feat, he ran swiftly toward a rose bush which had been planted seventy or eighty years before by Pope Eugenius IV, and which was just then covered with lovely flowers. Furtively glancing round, the boy hastily snatched one of the roses and set off a full speed evidently hoping to escape as he had entered. But he was pursued. An officer of the Pope's bodyguard, who had been an unseasoned witness of the larceny, quickly captured the culprit. The Pope whose curiosity was aroused, ordered the body to be brought before him. When the little "criminal" stood trembling in his presents, the Holy Father gently questioned him. "Why did you enter the garden and take away a rose?" "Your Holiness," stammered the youth, "my mother is very ill and we are very poor. Last night she dreamed that she would recover if she had a rose out of the Vatican gardens. I determined to get her one even if I risked my life."

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

It takes the life out of a mother to see the child—the idol of her heart—sneezing away, succumbing to the cruel cough that all the remedies she has tried won't cure. There is nothing so good for children's coughs, or colds, or whooping cough, or bronchitis as Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It is pleasant to take, and it cures so quickly and thoroughly that the heart of the mother is delighted. Mrs. Angus McKinnon, Richmond, P.E.I., writes:—"Last winter my baby was just two months old, when he took a bad cold. He could not keep anything on his stomach with the cough. I tried doctor's medicine, but it gave no relief. I told my husband I would try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and I must say it saved his life. I used four bottles and now he is perfectly cured, and I can't help but express my thanks to you for curing my baby."

HEART PALPITATED

FAINT AND DIZZY SPELLS. WOULD FALL DOWN IN FAINT.

Palpitation of the heart is very often accompanied by weak, faint and dizzy spells, and is generally caused by some sudden fright, or associated with conditions of a nervous breakdown, but whatever the cause, it is of considerable importance that the heart should be strengthened, and brought back to its regular beat. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy to do this for you. Mr. Henry Fawcett, Killam's Mills, N.S., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for heart trouble. I was very weak and run down, my heart would palpitate, I would take faint and dizzy spells, and sometimes I would fall down in a faint. I started to take your pills and I must say they have done wonders for me. I will always speak a good word for your Heart and Nerve Pills."

Good Cheer vs. Worry.

Have you ever seen a more pleasing picture than a cheerful countenance? Like a calm confident being, a cheerful person radiates light wherever he is found, and the effect of his presence is duly felt on his companions. A company of individuals cannot be otherwise than agreeable if one in their midst is of a sunny, cheerful temperament. As sorrowful weighs the heart down, so does cheerfulness bear it up. Many think that a long face, and a sad-weary smile gain sympathy. Perhaps so; but a sunny disposition gains friends. Can there be any two ways of choosing between them? Who does not prefer friends to the doubtfully sympathetic words of a chance listener? "A merry heart goes all the day. A sad heart tires in a mile." Those who worry are constantly under a strain. Worry leaves its marks on the face of its victim and is ever seeking to dispel any trace of happiness to be found. To meet the trials and tribulations of life with a smile and to have no fear of, or solicitude for the future, and to help others by a kind word or pleasant smile—that is true cheerfulness.

Important Daylight Saving Change of Time at 2 a.m. Sunday, March 30, 1919

All clocks and watches used in operation of Canadian National Railway will at 2 a.m. Sunday, March 30th, be advanced one hour. To prevent serious confusion and inconvenience to the public the attention of all concerned is directed to the following conditions resulting from the important change of time:

If cities, towns, villages and other municipal bodies do not change their local time to correspond with the new Railway time, all concerned should keep in mind that while trains continue to leave Railway Stations on present schedule, such schedule will be operated one hour ahead of present local time. Therefore any municipality where local time is not changed to correspond with the new Railway time, passengers must reach Railway Station ONE HOUR EARLIER than shown in current folders and public time posters.

Where municipal time is changed to correspond with the new Railway time, passengers will not experience difficulty growing out of the change. April 2, 1919

Announcement

For the information of our many patrons, in both town and country, we deem it necessary to announce that the Coal Business, successfully carried on in the past by the late Mr. Charles Lyons, will be continued by the BStare, under the old firm name of C. Lyons & Co.

By maintaining a high standard of service and by courteous and honest treatment of the public, this firm has, for a period of more than a quarter of a century, enjoyed a large and ever-increasing patronage; and in announcing our intention of "carrying on," we desire, most earnestly, to give expression to our appreciation thereof. We are deeply grateful to the firm's many patrons for their constant manifestation of confidence in it in the past, and we assure them that if they favor us with a similar evidence of their good-will in future there shall be no economy of effort on our part to make our intercourse both pleasant and profitable to them.

As we possess almost unlimited facilities for supplying the coal trade, and as we are desirous of extending our already large business, we respectfully invite the patronage of new customers; and if we succeed in thus increasing our present connection, we guarantee that we shall be indefatigable in our endeavor to justify the confidence of our new friends.

We again thank our patrons for their past generous patronage, and respectfully solicit a renewal of their esteemed custom.
