

Let the Grafonola Make You Friends

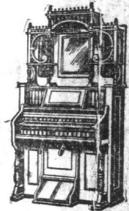

A Columbia Grafonola will introduce you to many pleasant people. Just slip him a couple of Columbia dance records and note the ladies' looks of interest. Give him a Grand Opera aria to reproduce and watch that rich old gentleman prick up his ears. Let him have a well-known hymn and some dear old lady will thank you. Every musical gem on a Columbia Record played on the Columbia Grafonola will make you many a friend. You'll find that you never need to be lonely with a Columbia Grafonola.

TRINITY.

To me, the origin of my family name in Trinity is deeply interesting, and as "one touch of nature makes the whole world kin," I am taking it for granted that others are as deeply interested in the same subject as I am. I now give the names of some families that are still well known to us in Trinity, together with the dates, etc., of the marriages which began the perpetuation of those honoured names. Whilst it is definitely stated in the old Church records, as to where (England, Ireland, Scotland, or Norway) the men of Trinity came from, it is puzzling sometimes to know where the women came from. There is practically no record of women having come here from the old country, either as wives, or daughters, and yet, the hundreds of men who came here either as bachelors or widowers, proceeded almost at once to get married. Some of their predecessors must have had a goodly number of daughters, and there is no doubt about it, however much we may boast of English, Irish, Scotch, or Norwegian blood on our grand or great-grandfather's side, on our grand or great-grandmother's side, we are plain Newfoundlanders.

The earliest marriage record is April 11th, 1757, and that is the marriage of Dennis Young and Johanna Mulkaehy.

Another in 1758, is that of Joseph Hart and Mary Bestone, of English Harbour. And yet another in 1760, is that of Richard Lockyer and Mary Pottle, of English Harbour. It is evident that the Lockyers, Pottles, and Bestones, were amongst the first settlers in English Harbour. Richard Lockyer had a family of several daughters, and two sons. The daughters became the wives of the men who came later, and the sons died young, hence the name Lockyer died out in English Harbour. Whilst scores of family names in Trinity have entirely disappeared, it is interesting to notice that the very oldest names are still represented here. Those names are Tavernor, Jones, Bowe, Tibbs, and Ivamy. They appear, however, in the record of baptisms of 1758, showing that the parents of those children then baptised, had been married before the coming of the first resident clergyman (Rev. Benjamin Lindsay) as his first marriage was, as I have pointed out, in 1749.

I now give dates of the beginnings of some families still in Trinity.

Dampier, 1757. Thomas Dampier, of Dorset, England, married to Ann Sweet, of Trinity.

Hogarth, 1775. Isaac Hogarth, of Hants Co., England, married to Dorothy Blanchard, of Trinity, North Side.

Eagen, 1785. Dennis Eagen, of Cork, Ireland, married to Winifred Dwyer, of Trinity.

Collis, 1800. James Collis, of Somerset, England, married to Sarah widow of James Ivamy, Bonaventure.

Lucas, 1801. Thomas Lucas, of Dorchester, England, married to Mary, daughter of Jasper and Ann Hiscock, of Trinity.

Late, 1801. George Late, of Axminster, Devon, England, married to Mary Dewey, North Side, Trinity.

Hiscock, 1804. Richard Hiscock, of Dorset, England, married to Sarah Woolridge, South Side, Trinity.

Sabbin, 1805. Capt. John Sabbin, of Hants Co., England, married to Joanna Malone, of Trinity. (Capt. Sabbin was lost at sea.)

Lockyer, 1817. James Lockyer, of Hants Co., England, married to Joanna, widow of late Capt. Sabbin.

Gent, 1807. Samuel Augustus Gent, of Sherborn, Dorset, England, married to Mary Pittman, of Trinity.

Christian, 1808. Jacob Christian, of Arundell, Norway, married to a daughter of Maurice and Ann Murphy.

Hunt, 1814. Edmund Hunt, of Dorchester, England, married to Eleanor, daughter of Maurice and Ann Murphy.

Toop, 1816. James Toop, of Dorset, England, married to Grace, widow of the late Thomas Hodder, of Ireland's Eye.

Gardner, 1814. John Gardner, of Somerset, England, married to Grace Stone, of Old Bonaventure.

Ash, 1799. Richard Ash, Captain of the ship "Leon", married to Catherine, widow of the late Andrew Tavernor.

Pilgrom, 1817. Thomas Lambert Pilgrom, of Christ Church, Hants, England, married to Hannah Fifield, of North Side, Trinity.

Bartlett, 1811. James Bartlett, of Dorset, England, married to Mary Welchman, of Trinity.

Mr. Kelson W. Pittman is in town.

Mr. Gilbert Snow, representing P. C. Mars, was a guest at the Garland Hotel last week.

The schr. Prospector, Capt. Vokes, brought the heavy piles for the new Government wharf. They were cut during the winter at Pope's Harbor Pond, and are very fine sticks.

The members of the S.U.F. and their lady friends enjoyed a social evening in the Parish Hall last week.

Capt. Barbour is fitting out his schooner for the fishery on Labrador.

Dr. Fitzgerald is rendering very satisfactory service to those who require medical attendance from Trinity to Ireland's Eye.

After a good deal of trouble in doing so, the owners of a schooner load of birchunks disposed of them at Trinity and Trinity East, for fairly good prices. Those who invested in several thousand of them, will have no cause to regret it within the year.

The village of Lockton has been made a flag-station on the Bonavista Branch. A modern school house is to be built there in the near future.

Tenders are asked for the painting of Royal Albert Hall. We are glad to see this, as the Hall occupies a prominent position in the town, and the painting will improve both the Hall and the town.

Famous Actress Tells How She Uses Derwillo To Beautify Her Complexion

New York.—Miss Ethel Clayton, the clever young actress is famous for her beautiful complexion. When her friends inquired about it she said: "It's all due to a toilet preparation called Derwillo which I use twice daily. The experience I have had prompts me to make my secret public. This wonderful derwillo instantly beautified my skin and its continued use has made the results permanent." When Miss Edna Wilder, the well-known beauty specialist, was interviewed in reference to Miss Clayton's remarkable complexion, she stated: "Any woman can have a beautifully complexion when she knows how. It's a very simple process. I use the same article in my work, and until you try it you have no idea of the marvelous results. The very first application will astonish you. Go to the toilet counter of any drug or department store and get a bottle of derwillo, then make the following test: Examine your skin critically before your mirror, note carefully its appearance, then apply derwillo as directed. After you have made the first application look in your mirror again and note the surprising change. A peachlike color mounts the cheeks; a baby softness comes to the skin; it makes the skin rose-white, velvety and radiantly beautiful. It is wonderful for a dark, sallow skin, shiny nose, freckles, tan, oily skin, sun spots, coarse pores, pimples, blackheads, chapped, rough skin, ruddiness, wrinkles and many other facial blemishes. Derwillo method is absolutely harmless and will not produce or stimulate a growth of hair. It is superior to face powder, as perspiration does not affect it, therefore it stays on better. Thousands who have used it have had the same results as Miss Clayton, and I am sure if you will give it a fair trial you will become just as enthusiastic as I am and always use it in preference to any other powder or beautifier. For permanent results the skin should be cleansed cream. For this purpose I have found nothing superior to Liska Cold Cream.

NOTE.—When asked about Derwillo and Liska Cold Cream, one of our leading druggists said: "They are truly wonderful beautifiers, away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the Manufacturers to refund the money to anyone who is dissatisfied, and we would not permit the use of our name unless these products possessed unusual merit." They are sold in this city under an ironclad money-back guarantee by all department stores and up-to-date druggists, including:

prospecta. If temporal success were assuredly promised to those who unselfishly give of their time, experience and energy, for the common good of their employers, and employees, then Mr. Grant would reap a rich harvest of such success. As usual, we shall miss him in Trinity during the summer months; but we wish him health and happiness, and abundant success; for what will help him in his next summer, will help everybody in Trinity next winter. Mrs. Grant and Miss Florence will accompany Mr. Grant. Mr. Grant went to St. John's on Monday.

I have often heard my father tell the story of the baptism of a child of one John Tobin, in old St. Paul's some eighty odd years ago. When the child was handed to the clergyman, he asked, "Name this child?" And Mr. Tobin answered, "John Tobin." "The clergyman said, "You mean John, not John Tobin." Mr. Tobin was not influenced by this correction, but repeated, with greater emphasis, "John Tobin." Again the clergyman tried to show him that the child had already the surname of Tobin, and now, all that was necessary was the Christian name John. This was too much for the old man, and bringing his clenched fist down upon the corner of a seat, he declared—"John Tobin, be he sowl!" This was the end of the controversy, and the child was baptised John Tobin, and the old man was known as John Tobin be me sowl all the rest of his days.

Salmon made their first appearance last week, and were placed in the market at 20c. a pound.

I don't know just how or why in my references to the school-teachers of the past in Trinity, I forgot "Polly Newhook." I did so, however, in spite of the fact that I attended her school for a year or two, and I am conscious of the fact, that she materially assisted in laying the foundation upon which, since in other schools and in college, the superstructure of useful knowledge was built, such as has helped me to do my duty in that state of life in which I pleased God to call me. And what she did for me, she also did for many others. B.F.

Several bodies were buried in the Church of England Cemetery during the winter, and now the graves are being filled, and care for the Cemetery, on the whole, is well looked after, and is largely what God's Acre should be.

The many friends of Mrs. Jenkins, of Garland Hotel, will be glad to hear that she is better in health than she has been.

Mrs. Eriksen returned from a business trip to St. John's, last week.

A meeting of the Directors of the Trinity Marine Mutual Insurance Co. was held in Trinity last week, for the purpose of passing and issuing policies to underwriters. Such meetings will be held at regular intervals during the summer.

Work began in earnest at the public wharf, on Monday last.

Mrs. Willett, nee Gertrude Maidment, came by Saturday's express on a visit to her mother and the old home. Glad to see you, Gertrude.

Empire Day was a whole holiday in the Bank, the Telegraph Office, and the Post Office.

Capt. Flinder has improved his property by the substitution of a new fence, for an old, broken one, in view of the main road. Ever so little helps to improve.

Mr. Fullerton, representing the Imperial Oil Co., was in town this week.

I saw an interesting contrast in the object of operations a few days ago, not far from Trinity. A woman was digging up soil in preparation for the planting of potatoes in it; whilst not more than fifty yards from her, another woman was going through the same movements, on a bank of snow over four feet deep, hoping thereby to aid its early disappearance.

Mr. Harry Hayter, the ferryman on S.W. Arm, whilst starting the engine on Monday last, got his finger caught in the fly-wheel, and lost a part of the first joint.

The s.s. Malakoff (or as I have heard her referred to as "the Whoop-whoop") called for the first time last Saturday. She gave evidences of speed and comfort; but she has a long road to travel. —W.J.L.

Nujol For Constipation

—the Modern Method of Treating an old Complaint

Nujol works on an entirely new principle. Without forcing or irritating, it softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along and out of the system.

It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Regular as Clockwork

Nujol Booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger." Constipation—auto-intoxication (in adults)—will be mailed gratis on application to sole agent for Newfoundland.
