A NUMBER OF FINE TWO-STORY
houses for sale or rent, from $15 to $25 a month, and a few more new cottages. Hurry now arrived when recognition might be properly accorded to the Grand Lodge of that colony as an independent sovereign Masonic authority. The East of London, grand master, presided, and moved the resolution, requesting his Royal Highness to take such steps for the recognition of the Grand Lodge of New Zealand, and for the establishment of fraternal good-feeling with the brethren there, as he might consider consistent with the honor of the Grand Lodge of England, and with just consideration for those lodges which might desire to retain their connection with it. The motion was seconded by the Earl of Onslow, provincial grand master for Surrey, who, as a late Governor of New Zealand, knew the state of Masonic feeling in that colony, and said the recognition, which had been previously sought and refused, would be highly prized there. Amendments proposing that the Grand Lodge of England, and Mr. Richard Eve, and long and animated discussions on each took place, but the motion was strongly supported by two old colonists, Messrs. Darzaville and Greenwood, and ultimately it was carried almost unanimously. 8c

In the Castle.

Canadian Artillerymen Honored by the Queen.
The Commons Disagree With the Lords on the Land Bill.
How the Flying-Machine Inventor Met His Death.

John Daly to Be Released From Portland Prison—The Cretan Situation.

CANADIANS HONORED.
London, Aug. 13.—The visiting Canadian artillerymen paid a visit to Windsor Castle yesterday, and by special permission of the Queen, were shown the state and private apartments of the castle.

ANDREWS' AERIAL VOYAGE.
Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 13.—The following telegram from Virgos Harbor was dispatched by Prof. Andrews on Aug. 3: "The balloon has been filled for several days, and all is ready for the ascent. Thus far everything has occurred as anticipated. The wind is still northerly, otherwise all is well."

NO JEWELS FOR MR. HILL.
London, Aug. 13.—At the Birmingham assizes, Viscount Hill, who was formerly engaged in farming near Florence, Kansas, and now of Burford, Ont., sued the Dowager Countess Hill, his step-mother, to recover the family diamonds and jewelry, which he claimed were hidden under the will of his grandmother. Judgment was rendered in favor of the defendant.

TROUBLE AHEAD IN ASHANTI.
Accra, Gold Coast Colony, Aug. 13.—It is feared that serious troubles are impending in Ashanti. It is reported that the Inkoranians and other tribes have joined Chit Samary with the object of expelling the British from Kumasi. The British cruiser Phoebe and the British gunboat Magpie, with a large force of Europeans on board, have gone to Elmina, from whence these native troops will be hurried to Inkoranza and Kumasi.

CANADIAN TRADE WITH ENGLAND.
London, Aug. 13.—Exports to Canada increased 6 per cent in July, 1896, as compared with July, 1895. Exports from Britain to all countries increased over 4 per cent. Imports from Canada increased 7 per cent, and imports from all other countries decreased 2 per cent. Wheat and flour from Canada increased $44,000; hams and hams, $18,000; fish, $23,000; copper, $18,000; wool, $75,000. Cheese declined $45,000. Imports from Canada during the seven months increased 25 per cent, while imports from all countries increased only 5 per cent.

IN A QUEER POSITION.

London, Aug. 13.—In the House of Commons yesterday when all the amendments had been considered a small committee was appointed to formulate the reasons for not agreeing with the Peers. These reasons were submitted to the House of Lords, which postponed their consideration until Friday.

Mr. P. O'Connor's Sun says that Mr. Gerald Balfour's statement places the Government in a critical position, adding, however, that it is improbable that the Lords, having once shown their strength, will compel the Government to adopt a course which would probably involve three Ministerial resignations.

JOHN DALY.

London, Aug. 13.—The Exchange Telegraph Company asserts that the Government is about to release John Daly, the dynamiter, who is confined in Portland Prison under sentence of life imprisonment, and that his brother James has left Limerick for Portland to meet him when he is set at liberty. It is supposed that the Government decided to release Daly because of the bad condition of his health. It is likely that he will make a tour of the continent with his brother James as soon as he is given his freedom. The news that he was to be released caused great rejoicing in Cork and Limerick, where bands played, crowds gathered in the streets, and many bonfires were lit to celebrate the occasion.

THE CRETAN SITUATION.

London, Aug. 13.—After getting through with the Irish Land Bill in the House of Commons, Mr. James C. Monck, "Unionist" member for Gloucester, urged that Great Britain should annex Crete, and thus put an end to the unfortunate condition of affairs existing in that island.

Right Hon. Mr. Curzon said that there was nothing to indicate that Crete or Greece, nor any of the other Powers were in favor of annexation of the island by Great Britain. The Government, he added, was trying to keep the balance between the parties concerned in the struggle, and hoped it might yet be arranged.

Right Hon. Sir Henry Fowler declared that the Government was being, as he said, normally neutral towards Turkey, but in actual sympathy with that country.

Right Hon. Arthur Balfour repudiated the charge. He said that the Turkish question was inextricably bound up in European politics; no power could possibly rise to the level alone to settle it. Hasty steps would have infinitely more terrible consequences than the events in Crete.

THE PROFESSOR'S DEATH.

Berlin, Aug. 13.—Prof. Otto Lillenthal, who died from the effects of a fall from his flying machine, leaves a widow and four children. The machine, which is what is called a "double-decker," upset while it was at a sharp angle, the pressure of air being thus thrown upon the front of the apparatus. Lillenthal had planned an attachment for restoring the balance in such cases, and this was the last ascent he intended to make in his machine. He believed that there was no danger, as he thought that by leaning backward toward the tail of the best of their ability. He pointed out that the late Government had invited tenders for a fast passenger and mail service. The problem now was whether they should go on as the late Government had done or discard that scheme and seek another, or combine it with a cold storage scheme. Cold storage they must have at once, and if it could not be had from the present scheme they must look elsewhere. He would leave the matter to the consideration of his colleagues, especially those who had found a practical farmer for Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Fisher, as a farmer, had suffered along with other farmers, and he was therefore willing to abide by what Mr. Fisher approved. In the way of improving their condition. (Applause.)

Mr. John Torrance, of the Dominion Line, pointed out that cold storage for 600 tons had been provided at a cost of $20,000 in their last steamer for two years, and it was never used once, and should be taken out. The Illans had the same experience with the cold storage apparatus on the Mongolian and Numidian. The Dominion Line was about to put cold storage in their new vessel, which would be the fastest and largest coming to the St. Lawrence.

Mr. A. A. Ayer remarked that something was being done in the way of good, and intimated that the cold storage referred to by Mr. Torrance was of inferior quality. Mr. Torrance, however, replied that it was of the latest improved style.

Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, received a particularly warm welcome. He said that he was able to appreciate from experience the needs of the country in the line of cold storage. He sympathized fully with the deputation and was glad to find from a number of conversations and also from the Premier's remarks at this meeting that cold storage was to be supplied to the farmers. (Applause.) He was willing to place his own experience at the disposal of Mr. Laurier and also to give it to the farmers of the country. The low price of Canadian butter in England was due, not to its manufacture, but to the difference in the method of marketing. During the present season the Government, through Prof. E. H. Iversen, had made arrangements for cold storage in two vessels of the Elder-Dempster line. This morning he saw the agents of the line, and asked them to provide additional insulated compartments, because the amount provided under the original contract was inadequate to meet the demands of the trade. He was glad to hear Mr. Dunlop's remarks about the fruit trade, because there was room for great improvement. The indications were that there would be a large crop of apples in Canada and a poor crop in England. He trusted that the crop in Canada would be so large that the people might reap some of the benefits of that exceptional opportunity. (Applause.)

Sir Richard Cartwright was also vigorously applauded. He declared that the first and chief object of the Government was to lessen the disadvantages of the agricultural portion of the population. It was not in the power of the Government to raise the price of their products, but it was in its power to assist in lessening the rates of freight and putting the products on the market in the best condition. He represented the most important cheese district in Canada, its center being Ingersoll, and from the experience he gathered there he had no doubt that Canadian cheese in direct order could hold its own with foreign products and even the English product. He had seen in London such signs as "Canadian cheese," meaning that a superlatively good article could be had. All that was required were proper facilities of transportation. He regretted that the butter trade had retrograded both in quantity and in price. Last year Britain had imported $29,000,000 of butter from Denmark and only $75,000 from Canada. There was great room for improvement, and the same was the case with apples, eggs, poultry, etc. He had nothing to say against Canadian manufacturers, but he desired to point out that the exports of agricultural products were six to seven times larger than the exports of manufactured articles, even including the item of ice, which figured to some extent in the returns. (Laughter.) He saw with regret all over Canada the painful fact that the farming population was at a standstill. It was time to stop this retrograde movement, and anything that would make the farmers more prosperous would command the unhesitating and earnest attention of the Government. (Applause.)

Mr. Dobell, in response to a call from the audience, made a brief address, calling attention to the importance of looking for new markets, and spoke of the opportunities of trade with South Africa.

A vote of thanks was accorded the ministers on the motion of Mr. A. A. Ayer.
