KING'S ADDRESS TO PRINCE FREDERICK WILLIAM.

London, Jan. 29.-The following is the text of the address of King Edward VII., to the Crown Prince of Germany, Frederick William, on the occasion of his majesty presenting the insignia of the Order of the Garter to the Crown Prince in the council chamber of Osborne House yesterday morning:

-In conferring on your imperial and royal highness the ancient and most noble Order of the Garter, which was founded by my ancestor Edward III., 1349, many centuries ago, I invest you with the order of knighthood, not only as the heir to the throne of a mighty empire, but also as my near relative. It was the wish of my beloved mother, the Queen, to bestow it on you, as a mark of her favor, and I am only carrying out her wishes, and am glad to do so to one of my illustrious relatives.

"To the German Emperor, to whom I wish to express my sincere thanks for having come at a moment's no-tice to this country and for having assisted in tending and watching over the Queen and remaining with her until her last moment, I desire to express the hope that my action in conferring on you this ancient order may yet further cement and strengthen the feeling which exists between the two great countries, and that we may go forward hand in hand with the high object of insuring peace and promoting the advance of civilization of the world."

St. Joseph, Mich., Jan. 29.-Mrs. Lewis Kirby, nee Hittell, a beautiful young woman of Benton Harbor, has returned here from her honeymoon broken-hearted. When she had gone a short way on her wedding trip she discovered, it is alleged, that her new husband had several wives besides herself. His name is Lewis Kirby, and is well known on the vaudeville stage throughout the country as "The Sweet Whistler." Kirby was a musitra, which was engaged to play at a fashionable social function where was strangely drawn to the handsome violinist, and a week later, when the orchestra was waiting to open a concert the elopment was announced.

Kirby, whose stage name is Hutchins, is now supposed to be a fugitive and his wife has resumed her work as instructor of music at the Benton Harbor College. The police of Ken-dallville, Ind., are looking for Kirby on a charge of bigamy. It is firmly believed by them that he has several other wives in Michigan and Indiana. The honeymoon in Kendallville did Mr. Harry Peel, the star point of not last long. As the couple were about to take a train for a short side

RASCALITY

Is What the Globe Terms London Hockey Club's Actions.

The Matter May Be Further Ventilated in the Courts.

O. H. A. Executive Did the Only Pro per Thing - Who Are the Guilty Parties?

Following is the Toronto Globe's account of yesterday's O. H. A. meeting: The most important business at vesterday's meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association executive was the disposition of the charges against the London hockey club, which organization was convicted not only of deliberate fraud in its last match, but also of procuring in its last match, but also of procuring false evidence to cover up the fraud. Fortunately for the good reputation of Canadian passimes, this monstrous rascality has been promptly detected, exposed and punished by the governing body in hockey in Ontario, and other punishment is still to come. It will be remembered that in the intermediate match with Stratford at London on the lefth of this month, the London team included a player named Lindsay, and the public was given to understand that he was Campbeil Lindsay, a member of the London club, residing on the farm of Mr. Richard Gibson, a few miles outside of London, and holding a permit to play with the London team. A Stratford visitor, who was for many years resident in Montreal, was present at the match, and he recognized "Lindsay" as Frank Winn, of Montreal. When the match was protested on that ground and others, the London club filed a basketful of statutory declarations, some of which stated positively that Campbell Lindsay was actually the person who played in the match. There was even one to that effect from Lindsay himself, but the committee was not to be imposed on, and put these aside for a few days to take up the investigation at close range. A member of the executive went to Delaware, saw Lindsay, and obtained an affidavit from him to the effect that he did not play in the game.

The evidence before the association false evidence to cover up the fraud.

The evidence before the association was that the "ringer" was brought into the rink on the night of the match and introduced to the hight of the match and introduced to the other players as Lindsay by W. A. Mace, the secretary of the London club. On the evidence of Mace's earlier letter to the association he knew the real Lindsay well, so that the executive officer of the club was directly connected with the disreputable transaction.

Mr. Arthur Little, president of the London club, came to Toronto yesterday to see a member of the executive and to see a member of the executive and to straighten out an erroneous statement that he had written on the Monday to say that Lindsay's declaration had not been secured, whereas it had been made on Saturday. His letter was received, not written on Monday, though, as a matter of fact, but without Mr. Little's knowledge, Lindsay made the declaration about 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. Little was invited to attend the meeting yesterday, and did so. He declared that he was not aware until the matter came under investigation til the matter came under investigation that there was anything wrong about the identity of any of the players. He was satisfied now that some officer of e club had conspired to commit the t which brought the organization in-its present deplorable condition, but did not know who was the "engineer" supported by a statutory declaration, that William A. Hern, of the London club, had played hockey for pay and under an assumed name in a previous season, which had been laid over tili yesterday for an answer, but none was put in, and Hern was declared a pro-

Frank Winn was also declared a professional, and so also were Frank Hobbs. Lang, Ashplant, Peel and Little, who played in the match with Winn. Hobbs was a member of the O. H. A. executive until this action was taken. Campbell Lindsay was expelled from the Ontario Hockey Association, and declared ineligible to participate in future in any hockey game, either as a player or an official.

W. A. Mace, secretary of the London club, for actively promoting the dishonorable tactics of the club, was declared a professional and expelled forever from connection with hockey or hockey

The London hockey club was expelled from the association, but the juniors will be readmitted on condition that they dissolve all connection with the present officers of the club and elect a new set. The following resolution was also pass ed and the attention of all clubs in the association drawn to it:

"Believing that the good of the whole surpasses the interests of individual members the executive committee demembers, the executive committee de-sire to place on record their unqualified condemnation of the pernicious parti-sanship and misguided idea of loyalty to local interests which leads club officers to either fair to assist in clearing up charges against their clubs or to ham-per and obstruct the efforts of the ex-ecutive in that direction. The executive takes the view that they are the agents and servants of the association in transacting its business and enforcing compliance with its rules and constitution, and that the individual clubs and club officers are in duty bound to render every assistance to that end."

The information in the possession of the association in the London case will be placed in the hands of the crown for the think the control of the crown for the control of the crown for the crown that the crown t further proceedings.

DID THE RIGHT THING. The case of the London hockey club is the talk of the hockey world in this province, and there seems to be a general opinion that the O. H. A. ex-ecutive did the right thing in acting as they did at yesterday's meeting. The fact that Lindsay did not play in the game in protest was clearly prov en, and the fact was also shown that several false statements were made in trying to make the O. H. A. executive believe Lindsay was the man who played the game and, not Winn, of Montreal.

Clause 22 of the O. H. A. constitu-tion, under which London was expellreads: "The executive may suspend or expel a club for notorious and continued foul play, or unfair, unsportsmanlike or ungentlemanly conduct, individually or collectively, has been issued: Gross earnings, $2,988,- on the ice or in any rink where a hock-911: working expenses, $1.550,546; net ey match is being played. or at any profits. $1,438,365. Any che suspended can only be admitted by majority vote and resolution of the whole executive." WHERE TO ATTACH THE BLAME. The Toronto News of yesterday says: The matter of procuring false evidence is more serious than the actual false declaration, because the latter might be made on the strength of willful misstatements on the part of person trying to procure the false vidence. The executive are, no doubt, in possession of all the facts in connection with this case, and know

Delaware will have two kinds of whipping posts, one for brutal husbands and another for cruel wives. To offset Senator Clement's measure providing this penalty for wife-beating, Ewing has introduced a bill to punish husband beaters. Mr. Ewing will have it referred to the committee on crimes and punishments, although most of the legislators regard it as a man is living here today whom many people in and about Somerset, Man., no doubt think to be in the grave. His name is Arthur Coley, and when he left Somerset in 1894, he was in the last stages of Bright's Disease and Diabetes. "Many will be surprised, I am sure, to find that I am alive," says Mr. Coley, "for I was utterly prostrated with Bright's Disease and Diabetes. Wit and music galore will be found in "Finnigan's Ball," which will be able thankfully to say that pain and seen at the London Opera House on weakness are unknown to me. I am a farmer, and can now do as hard a day's work as anyone, whereas before using

Not Dead, as Many of His Friends Thought He Would Be. Swan Lake, Man., Jan. 28.-A young
