

What Wives Cost in Africa.

Girds are articles of trade in Africa. The price of a girl varies in different tribes, but a fair value is two bullocks, one cow, one goat, one brass kettle, several yards of cloth, a red cap and six wash basins.

HUMANE SOCIETY
AFTER MEMBERS

D. C. Moyer Arrives in City To Launch Campaign on Monday.

With the arrival in the city from Toronto of D. C. Moyer, the London branch of the Humane Society begins a campaign for membership. Mr. Moyer, who is a southerner and from Virginia, has been in Toronto for some time past in the interests of the Humane Society there. His special work is to arouse the people to an active interest in the prevention of cruelty to animals, and he says that in the two months, which he expects to spend in the city, he will be able to enroll a membership of 3,000.

With the coming of the hot weather there is an increasing need for watchfulness. Intense heat brings hydrophobia in its wake and even if such cases are very few, many animals suffer intensely for want of proper attention.

The membership campaign will be launched on Monday by Mr. Moyer, with a strong committee working under him, and he hopes to cover the entire city in two months time.

Col. Eric Reid is president of the London society, with Ed. McKone as vice-president, Miss J. Elliott as treasurer, and Mrs. O. Clement as secretary. Several thousand dollars pass through their hands in a year in the interests of Humane Society work, and the largest part of this comes in through donations, already showing a keen interest on the part of citizens. In the past month alone 200 animals were taken in by Inspector George Tustin—140 dogs and about 50 cats—and the majority of these animals had to be destroyed.

Many very sad cases come to the attention of the inspector. Recently a dog was found wandering about with part of its jaw shot away, a cat with one eye hanging out, and a decrepit 20-year-old horse was found in an old gravel pit from which it could not get out. But these are but a few of the cases which are constantly coming to the attention of the society.

WEDDINGS

ROBINSON-WOODS.

St. James' Anglican Church, South London, was the scene of a pretty wedding this afternoon at 2 o'clock when Edna Leila Woods, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Woods and the late Samuel James Woods, was married to William David Robinson, son of Mr. Joseph Robinson, of the city. Rev. Leslie Armitage performed the ceremony.

As the wedding march was played by Mr. Evelyn Davis, the bridal party entered the church, which was effectively decorated with quantities of marguerites and white peonies. White streamers and fluffy bows marked the guests' pews. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Dr. H. M. McFadden, wore a sleeveless gown of a corded-pleated white georgette, with Spanish lace trimmings. It was fastened with an apron at the front, and graceful panels falling at the back, and was caught at one side with a soft bow of georgette. Her veil of embroidered net was arranged with a coronet of pearls, and she carried a shower of opheelia roses.

Miss Evelyn Woods was her sister's bridesmaid, wearing a gown of rose georgette, heavily beaded, over rose and under dress of silver cloth. She also wore a becoming leghorn hat, trimmed with rose, with a single rose on the side, and carried an arm bouquet of Columbia roses. Little Miss Lenore McFadden of Thorncliffe made a dainty flower girl, wearing a frilly dress of blue shot taffeta, with a hat to match, trimmed with white and knotted ribbons. She carried a basket of white flowers.

The bride wore a graceful gown of

ANGELICAN SOCIAL SERVICE WORKERS.

Delegates to the recent Anglican Church Conference of Social Service Workers in Toronto included (left) Mrs. W. D. Reeve of Toronto, and (right) Mrs. John M. Glenn of New York, president of the Church Mission of Help.

ket filled with sweet peas and lily of the valley. Mr. Jack Borden of this city acted as best man. During the signing of the register, Miss Gertrude Smith of Petrolia sang "O Promise Me." She wore a pretty gown of poudre blue georgette over sunset, and a white georgette hat.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold bracelet, and the bride's gift to the groom was a gold watch chain. The bride's gift to the groom was a gold watch chain.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Marley Place, which was attractively decorated with pink and white flowers, and marguerites. Mrs. Woods, mother of the bride, wore a black crepe gown, with a large black hat. A wedding breakfast was served, and the table was adorned with peonies arranged in a silver basket, and was covered with the wedding cake. The guests numbered fifty. A number of young assistants, wearing white summer frocks, assisted in serving. They were Misses Rosa Gee, Sybil Higman, Alma McKay and Jessie Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left later on a motor trip to Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cleveland and Detroit, and upon their return they will reside in Askin street. The bride, who is travelling a brown coat, and a black marcella wrap with a silver fur collar.

Among the guests from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gee, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood, Dr. H. M. McFadden and Mrs. McFadden, all of Thorncliffe, and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Reid of St. Mary's.

BERRY-HILL.
A pretty house wedding took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. D. Eggett, and Mr. Eggett, in Ontario street, when Madeline Mildred Hill, youngest daughter of Mrs. Victoria Berry of Detroit, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Berry of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. M. Thompson.

The house was effectively decorated in pink and white, with quantities of summer flowers arranged throughout the rooms, and the ceremony took place upon a canopy of white streamers, and peonies, with a white bell hung in the center. As the wedding march was played by Miss Gladys Udy, during the signing of the register, Miss Eula Abbott sang "For You Alone."

The bride wore a graceful gown of

WOMEN and THE HOME

C. E. F. GARDEN FETE
IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Attractive Program Presented on Lawn at Mrs. Dunlevy's Home.

In spite of the rain of the early afternoon a large crowd attended the garden party given last evening at the home of Mrs. B. J. Dunlevy, Quebec street, under the auspices of the C. E. F. Returned Chapter, I. O. D. E. Chinese lanterns were strung across the grounds, and the booths were gayly decorated with flags, bunting and many summer flowers. A splendid program of music was provided by an orchestra, and the Kiltie Band also played a number of stirring selections. Dancing on the green was an attractive feature of the evening. Several clever young dance pupils of Miss Marion Stark presented a pretty dance program, those taking part were Miss Ena Goodings, Miss Gertrude Smoothie, Miss Frances Riddle and Miss Dorothy Wassel. Piano numbers by Mrs. McLean and Mr. Carter, violin selections by Mrs. Bond, and vocal numbers by Mrs. MacKenzie, Mrs. H. C. Tull and Mr. John Lindsay were also enjoyable numbers of the program.

Several vocal numbers by Mrs. Bond, and vocal numbers by Mrs. MacKenzie, Mrs. H. C. Tull and Mr. John Lindsay were also enjoyable numbers of the program.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held, followed by a buffet luncheon. The bride's mother wore a navy blue gown with a corsage of sweet peas, and Mrs. Berry, mother of the groom, was gowned in a purple brocade with a corsage of sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. Berry left later on a honeymoon which will be spent in Buffalo, Cleveland and Washington, and upon their return they will reside in Detroit.

The bride, who is travelling a brown coat, and a black marcella wrap with a silver fur collar.

Among the guests from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gee, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood, Dr. H. M. McFadden and Mrs. McFadden, all of Thorncliffe, and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Reid of St. Mary's.

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

The bride wore a graceful gown of

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Can a Broken Home Be Restored Through the Husband's Contrition?—The Girl Who Is Foolishly Trading Her Youth and Beauty for "Wild Parties"—Is There Any Help for the Too-Stout Lover?

Dear Miss Dix—What would you advise in the case of a man who, through his own fault, caused a separation between himself and his wife and child, she returning to the home of her parents and he to his friends?

This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: You appear, Mr. Man, to take the usual masculine view of the unfaithful husband. This man now realizes what his own home means to him, yet he is unable to effect a reconciliation with his wife. She steadfastly refuses to live with him again, despite the fact that he has suffered and atoned. However, she accepts and insists on an allowance, even though she is employed herself.

Is love dead here, and should the man seek a divorce or wait and hope? The child is only two years old and the separation has been for a year and a half.

A PERPLEXED FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Catches Lions for a Living.

Catching mountain lions is not an ordinary way of earning a living, but that is what Bob Bakker of Libby, Montana, does. The animals are for zoological gardens and circuses, and in 20 years he has captured 500.

LONDON NURSES RETURN FROM IMPORTANT MEETINGS

Miss Margaret McDermid Tells of Work Accomplished by Nursing Profession.

WORLD SESSIONS

Hopes To Attend International Conference in Finland Next Year.

Miss Margaret McDermid of the Institute of Public Health has just returned home after attending two important nurses' conventions, the first, a week ago in Detroit, when 10,000 nurses gathered for the biennial national nursing convention of the United States, and the second, this week in Hamilton, when the nurses of Canada met for deliberations.

Miss MacDermid brings home an interesting story of these conventions. The Hamilton convention approved of the university scheme for offering degrees for the nursing profession and mention was made of the fact that the Western Ontario University of London was the first Ontario University to offer a bachelor's degree for nursing.

The problem of the small hospital was discussed. The nurses of Canada are very anxious to raise the standard of the profession, but this is difficult in view of the limited facilities of the smaller hospitals. A plan whereby the smaller hospitals might become affiliated with the larger institutions for the purpose of improving the training schools, was discussed.

The matter of the trained attendant came up for consideration. The Canadian nurses were not favorable to the introduction of such a person. However, they favored the training of visiting housekeepers, such as is now being done by the Red Cross Society in Toronto. They strongly advocated home nursing classes in every center.

An interesting figure at both conventions was Miss Riepmann of Copenhagen, secretary for the International Council of Nurses, to be held in Finland next year, and which Miss McDermid of this city, hopes to attend.

While in Detroit, Miss McDermid was the guest of Miss McLaughlin, superintendent of the Harper Hospital. The convention in Detroit was exceedingly interesting, the discussion ranging through such subjects as communicable diseases, the making of large cities healthy, child welfare, nursing conditions, and so on.

Charles Stelze, publicity councillor for social agencies of New York, paid a big tribute to the press. He said: "The enormous service rendered by the daily newspapers in promoting welfare work has been beyond the comprehension of the average person, even those who are directly engaged in such work. There is no doubt that the value of this service could be counted by millions of dollars annually."

Mrs. A. C. Joseph of this city also attended both conventions, and returns enthusiastically over the work which the nursing profession is accomplishing.

Woodward, Miss E. L. Deacon and Mrs. Walker.

Mrs. Gordon Sutton, 208 Waterloo street, and infant son, Stanton, together with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rushworth and daughter, Clarice, are sailing for England on the S.S. Montcalm from Montreal next Friday, July 4. Mrs. Sutton is returning for a three-months' sojourn with her parents in London, England, and plans on visiting the world-famous Wembley Exhibition during the summer.

After visiting London, Mrs. Rushworth will spend some time in Huddersfield renewing acquaintances in her old home.

Mrs. W. Coles entertained the members of the executive of the Soldiers' Wives League this week, when plans were made for the league's garden party, which will be held early in September at her home. "The Beches," South London. It had been decided to hold the garden party this month, but owing to the uncertainty of the weather, it has been postponed and will take the form of a garden party and bridge. Mrs. A. Campbell, the president, was in the chair for the meeting, at the close of which the hostess served tea, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Hec- Connelly of Montreal, and the Misses Marion and Kathleen Coles.

ICED TEA
when pure, delicious"SATADA"
SALLADA

is used, is a satisfying and refreshing summer-beverage.

DON'T THROW YOUR OLD CARPETS AWAY!

No matter how old, how dilapidated (we thoroughly clean and sterilize them), a rope under them and send to us to be made into the famous VELVETEX RUGS.

Reversible! They wear a life time. We have thousands of recommendations from our satisfied customers. In Montreal, Toronto, Windsor, Walkerville, Sandwich, Ford, St. Thomas, Sarnia and other cities, our driver collects your carpets from attic, cellar, or off the floor.

Beware of imitations. We are the only makers of "Velvetex Rugs." We pay express charges on orders sent anywhere. Send for and see our guarantee in leaflet. Phone 418 for our representative to call or write to the

CANADA RUG COMPANY
Velvetex Building, Carling St., London, Ont. Established 1903.
Sixteen Years Building Public Confidence in Quality.

J7.14.23

The Measure of Life

CUT this rule measure out and paste it on your mirror, or some place where you will see it frequently. It represents the normal span of seventy years of life for men and women, narrowing towards the top because expectation of life narrows from year to year, and each year seems to pass more quickly than the last. The scale breaks off suddenly at the end because, even if extended a few years, active life is practically at an end.