Big Fire At Rossland

Blaze Causes Eighteen Thousand Dollars Damages at Mining Camp.

Application of Hendryx Process to Iron Ores Waited With Interest.

Concentrators Steadily at Work—The Ore Shipments For the Week.

Rossland, Nov. 14.—Fire did $18,000 damage here at an early hour this morning. Shortly after midnight flames were observed issuing from near Daniel & Arthur's establishment, and half an hour was required to extinguish the blaze. Almost three hours later the fire broke out again in the adjoining premises, and the second conflagration did extensive damage to the interior as follows: W. M. Newton, London, Eng., destruction of block, $4,000; Empey Bros., Glasgow, damage to clothing and furnishings, $800; Thomas Embleton, grocer, damage to stock, $1,000; Daniel & Arthur, damage to stock, $3,500; R. J. Bealey, destruction of block, $2,500; Fitch & Schwartzman, bakers, damage to stock and fixtures, $200; Chas. Clift, loss to house and furniture, $1,000. The insurance effect on the premises represented about half the damage.

The week passed somewhat uneventfully in connection with the actual operation of the big mines, although widespread interest was created by the introduction of a probable solution to the problem of utilizing the enormous deposits of low-grade heavy iron ores, typical of Monte Cristo and Colombian iron ores, and developing largely in the form of the Kishineff, Monte Cristo, Evening Star, Mascot, etc. The Hendryx system of electro-cyanide treatment is said to accomplish remarkable results with these ores, and it is confidently expected that the process will be put into actual practice during the approaching summer. The successful treatment of these ores means as much for the Rossland as it does for the successful application of concentration to the alluvial ores of Red Mountain.
