WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24TH, 1894.

-THE serious illness of the "Autocrat or all the Russias" is just now attracting the attention of the civilized world, as his death, which seems likely to occur at any time, will add greatly to the complications which just now beset European statesmen. In even a less critical time than the present, when the war in the east may lead to such tremendous consequences, the illness and death of a Russian Czar is an event of incalculable moment. No other living man wields such tremendous power. He is the sole legislator, judge and executive for over 87,000,000 of human beings. For that number of people he "makes laws, levies taxes, expends the revenue and condemns to exile or death according to his own will, without let or hindrance." The struggles of the will add greatly to the complications which or death according to his own will, without let or hindrance." The struggles of the Russian people for a constitutional government, and the sternly repressive system adopted by the Czar to crush out all liberal and progressive ideas, are of course well known. The iron hand of the present emperor has thus far been able to stem the tide which carried away every other absolute sovereign of Europe. With his death the sovereign of Europe. Political Indications.

Montreal Herald: Every move that is being made now on the political chess board is more or less with the contingency of a general election in view. It is known that at Ottawa preparations for the election have been going on for months; and now it is understood that everything is in readiness excepting the lists of voters. This would seem to indicate either that there may be a general election even although it should be held upon the old lists, or that the election may take place on the new lists, but before the session. The view held in government quarters has for some time been that the dissolution of parliament may be looked for at any moment. It may be understood, therefore, that the readiness for that event is complete. The finance minister has gone to England, however, and the prime minister is going next week, if nothing happens to prevent him. That of course suspends the probability of dissolution at least until their return.

Ralifax School for the Blind.

We have received the twenty-third Annual Report of the Board of Managers of the Halifax School for the blind. During the past year 54 blind persons have been under instruction, 38 males, 16 females; 6 of these have graduated or left the school, and one has been removed by death, making the total attendance, on December 31st, 1893, 47. Of these 24 are from Nova Scoti-1 afform Brunswick, 2 from P. E. Island, and 7 from Newfoundland. The different departments are managed with great care; the staff of teachers look after the physical, intellectual, social and moral welfare of the pupils; these pupils are taught useful occupations-that will prove a source of profit to them in after years. The school does a grand work in looking after those who unfortunately are deprived of the sense of sight, and it is cheering to learn from this report that the labors of the managers and teachers are so far crowned with success.

Obituary. Mr. Abner Foster, one of the aged and respected inhabitants of this county, passed to his rest on Saturday morning last at his residence in this town, the immediate cause residence in this town, the immediate cause of his death being heart disease, with which illness he had been suffering more or less for a number of years. The deceased was a native of Hampton, but for the last thirteen years has been living in this town, and was held in the highest esteem by all citizens, who, with his many other relatives and friends, will sadly mourn his demise. He was a consistent and zealous member of the Baptist church, and never let an opportunity pass without making all present at the prayer meetings, at which he was a regular attendant, to prepare themselves to weet him in the home beyond the skies, and of which he se often spoke.

On Tuesday evening next, 30th inst., the Salvation Army of this town are to hold a banquet in Victoria Hall, at which many members of the local corps will be in attendance. Among other interesting features to take place in connection with the ban-quet, and the first in the history of Bridge quet, and the brist'in the history of Bridge-town, will be the marriage of two of the Army's captains. The wedding ceremony will be performed in the Methodist church at 8 o'clock, by Brigadier Jacobs, assisted by the Rew J. B. Giles. Ensign Alward, and Lieut. Smith, the colored singer, will also be present and take part in the hallelujah wedding.

School of Horticulture.

The Advertiser in reporting the races which took place on the Kentville track on Wednesday last, says:

After considerable scoring the horses were given a good send-off, and entered the back stretch in a bunch. All the way down the stretch Sir William and Rowdy were lapped, with Resolution a good third. This order of things continued for the rest of the heat, and the trio raced down the home stretch through pools of water like demons, but The Nova Scotia School of Horticulture, established by the N. S. Fruit Grower's Association in Wolfville last year, will open Thursday, Nov. 1st. The prospects for a larger attendance is evident. The improvements made during the past season has placed the school on a good basis for all kinds of practical work in plant, house, laboratory and field. The course prescribed is a liberal one. Tution is free to all students. Board and expenses very light. For circulars and calender apply to Prof. E. E. Faville, Wolfville.

In our mention, in the last issue of this paper, of the business meeting of the shareholders of the Bridgetown Driving Park Co., we unintentionally omitted, on behalf of the gentlemen who were present, to thank R. J. Uniacke, Esq., of Annapolis Royal, for his valuable aid and assistance in the undertaking, as well as for services performed by him, gratuitously, at a good deal of inconvenience to himself. Mr. MacLean has already commenced the work of grading, and is ruehing things with his usual vim.

Celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary. A large number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Downie, of Margaretville, met at their home the other evening, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of their wedding. A very enjoyable time was had, and it was not until a very late hour that the crowd dispersed, with the wish that their host and hostess would enjoy many happy returns.

In all probability the verdict in the case will be appealed to a higher court. The action of Smith against the company, a similar case, has been postponed until next spring.

and the trio raced down the home stretch through pools of water like demons, but SIR WILLIAM HAD THE SPEED and got the heat. Time 2.39. Rowdy was set back one place for running. In the second heat, Sir William was set off a good two lengths behind, but he paced like a whirlwind and before a hundred yards he had the pole and the lead. Down the back stretch he raced, Rowdy, Resolution and Rampart, jr., close up. On the turn Sir William stepped into a hole and broke, and Hill dew Rowdy short across and pocketed him. Rampart jr. and Resolution passed Sir William, and Lydiard wisely laid his horse up. On entering the home stretch Rowdy led slightly, and down the stretch was one of the prettiest races ever seen the three being lapped at the finish, Rampart jr. slightly shead, then Rowdy and Resolution. Hill's horse was set back to fifth place for pulling out of position on the home stretch. Sir William won the third heat handily without being headed, though he and Rowdy were in close company all the way. Lydiard evidently had something up his sleeve in case of an emergency, and no matter how much whip Hill used he could not gain, though he made a hard drive home in each heat. Resolution came in third, but he was set back for taking Sir Brenton's position. In the fourth heat Sir William went for the pole and lead, got both and kept them to the finish. Resolution did some splendid trotting in this heat, and at one time it looked as though he would down the pacers, but Gibson had to take him back to steady him one or twice. He finished a good third.
