Our Graduates' Institute.

THE COURSE OF STUDY IN THEOLOGICAL COLLEGES.

By REV. G. D. BAYNE, B.A., Ph.D., Pembroke, Ont.

Among the chief elements which enter into the permanent strength of the Church must be placed the efficiency of the ministry. And, vitally connected with this is the “Course of Study in our Theological Colleges.”

On the importance of this subject I need not enlarge. It is a vital matter. The habits, the mental attitude, the character established in College are usually permanent. Very seldom are they radically departed from. And, strange as it may appear, the same thing is true regarding our conceptions
