BONNIE PRINCE CHARLIE: A Tale of Fontenoy and Culloden.

"A historical romance of the best quality. Mr. Henty has written many more sensational stories, but never a more artistic one."—Academy.

WITH CLIVE IN INDIA: Or, The Beginnings of an Empire.

"Among writers of stories of adventure for boys, Mr. Henty stands in the very first rank. Those who know something about India will be the most ready to thank him for giving them this most instructive volume to place in the hands of their children."—Academy.

BY PIKE AND DYKE: A Tale of the Rise of the Dutch Republic.

"The mission of Ned to deliver letters from William the Silent to his adherents at Brussels, the fight of the Good Venture with the Spanish man-of-war, the battles on the ice at Amsterdam, the Siege of Amsterdam, the siege of Haarlem, are all told with a vividness and skill which are worthy of Mr. Henty at his best."—Academy.

BY ENGLAND'S AID: Or, The Freeing of the Netherlands (1585-1604).

"Here you have wars and rumors of wars; the defence of Sluis, the capture of Breda by a marvel of strategy, and the battle of Ivry, with shipwrecks and escapes from the Barbary Corsairs, and the abduction of the loveliest princess in Spain."—National Observer.

TRUE TO THE OLD FLAG: A Tale of the American War of Independence.

"Very superior in every way. The book is almost unique in its class in having illustrative maps."—Saturday Review.

CAPTAIN BAYLEY'S HEIR: A Tale of the Gold Fields of California.

"A Westminster boy who, like all this author's heroes, makes his way in the world by hard work, good temper, and unflinching courage. The descriptions given of a life are just what a healthy, intelligent lad should delight in."—St. James's Gazette.

IN FREEDOM'S CAUSE: A Story of Wallace and Bruce.

"It is written in the author's best style. Full of the wildest and most remarkable achievements, it is a tale of great interest, which a boy, once he has begun it, will not willingly put on one side."—The Schoolmaster.

UNDER DRAKE'S FLAG: A Tale of the Spanish Main.

"A stirring book of Drake's time, and just such a book as the youth of this maritime country are likely to prize highly."—Daily Telegraph.

THE LION OF THE NORTH: A Tale of Gustavus Adolphus and the Wars of Religion.

"A praiseworthy attempt to interest British youth in the great deeds of the Scotch Brigade in the wars of Gustavus Adolphus. Mackay, Hepburn and Monroe live again in Mr. Henty's pages, as those deserve to live whose disciplined bands really formed the germ of the modern British army."—Athenaeum.

FOR THE TEMPLE: A Tale of the Fall of Jerusalem.

"His graphic prose pictures of the helpless Jewish resistance to Roman sway adds another leaf to his record of the famous wars of the world. One of Mr. Henty's cleverest efforts."—Graphic.

THE YOUNG CARTHAGINIAN: A Story of the Times of Hannibal.

"From first to last nothing stays the interest of the narrative. It bears us along as on a stream, whose current varies in direction but never loses its force."—Saturday Review.

WITH LEE IN VIRGINIA: A Story of the American Civil War.

"The story is a capital one and full of variety, and presents us with many picturesque scenes of Southern life. Young Wingfield, who is conscientious, spirited and 'hard as nails,' would have been a man after the very heart of Stonewall Jackson."—Times.

WITH WOLFE IN CANADA: Or, The Winning of a Continent.

"A narrative which will bear retelling, and to which Mr. Henty, whose study of details is worthy of all praise, does full justice."—Spectator.

BY RIGHT OF CONQUEST: Or, With Cortez in Mexico.

"Mr. Henty's skill has never been more convincingly displayed than in this marvellous and ingenious story."—Saturday Review.

IN THE REIGN OF TERROR: The Adventures of a Westminster boy.

"May fairly be said to beat Mr. Henty's record. The adventures will delight boys by the audacity and peril they depict. The story is one of Mr. Henty's best."—Saturday Review.

THE BRAVEST OF THE BRAVE: Or, With Peterborough in Spain.

"Mr. Henty never loses sight of the moral purpose of his work—to enforce the doctrine of courage and truth, mercy and loving-kindness as indispensable to the making of an English gentleman. British lads will read The Bravest of the Brave with pleasure and profit."—Daily Telegraph.

THE DRAGON AND THE RAVEN: Or, The Days of King Alfred.

"A well-built superstructure of fiction on an interesting substratum of fact. Treated in a manner most attractive to the boyish reader."—Athenaeum.

THE CAT OF BUBASTES: A Story of Ancient Egypt.

"The story, from the critical moment of the killing of the sacred cat to the perilous exodus into Asia with which it closes, is very skilfully constructed and full of exciting adventures. It is admirably illustrated."—Saturday Review.

FOR NAME AND FAME: Or, Through Afghan Passes.

"Not only a rousing story, replete with all the varied forms of excitement of a campaign, but an instructive history of a recent war, and, what is still more useful, an account of a territory and its inhabitants which must for long possess a supreme interest for Englishmen."—Glasgow Herald.

ST. GEORGE FOR ENGLAND: A Tale of Cressy and Poitiers.

"A story of very great interest for boys. The author has endeavored to show that determination and enthusiasm can accomplish marvellous results."—Pall Mall Gazette.
