One of the attractive calendars for the new year comes from Steele Briggs, Canada's greatest seed house. The calendar itself is useful and the design combines art with business.

The C. R. Willmott Company, Ltd., of Milton, Ontario, manufacturers of farming implements, have issued a neat and well gotten up prospectus. The objects of the Company are to make a standard line of high grade farm machinery to sell at reasonable prices and pay dividends to its shareholders. A conservative estimate of the annual sales and profits of the Company would be: Estimated sales, $400,000; estimated gross profits after allowing discounts to sales agents, $80,000; estimated cost of supervision, taxes, insurance, depreciation on plant, bank interest, etc., $40,000; dividend at 6 per cent. on capital stock, $12,000—$52,000; estimated balance of profits for further distribution to reserve and shareholders, $28,000.
