

- (h) “special fissionable material” means plutonium-239; uranium-233; uranium enriched in the isotopes 235 or 233; any material containing one or more of the foregoing; and such other fissionable material as the Board of Governors of the IAEA shall from time to time determine but the term “special fissionable material” does not include source material;
- (i) “source material” means uranium containing the mixture of isotopes occurring in nature; uranium depleted in the isotope 235; thorium; any of the foregoing in the form of metal, alloy, chemical compound, or concentrate; any other material containing one or more of the foregoing in such concentration as the Board of Governors of the IAEA shall from time to time determine; and such other materials as the Board of Governors of the IAEA shall from time to time determine;
- (j) “technology” means technical data that the supplying Party has designated, prior to transfer and after consultation with the recipient Party, as being relevant in terms of non-proliferation and important for the design, production, operation or maintenance of equipment or for the processing of nuclear material or material and (i) includes, but is not limited to, technical drawings, photographic negatives and prints, recordings, design data and technical and operating manuals; but (ii) excludes data available to the public;
- (k) “third country” means any country other than Canada or the United Arab Emirates; and
- (l) “uranium enriched in the isotopes 235 or 233” means uranium containing the isotopes 235 or 233 both in an amount such that the abundance ratio of the sum of these isotopes to the isotope 238 is greater than the ratio of the isotope 235 to the isotope 238 occurring in nature.

2. Other terms which are used but not defined in this Agreement and which are defined in IAEA document INFCIRC/254/Rev.10/Part I shall have the meanings given to them in that document as well as any subsequent amendments to that document which are accepted by the Parties once they have informed each other in writing that they accept the amendments.
