oo perfons rking from he enfuing commodate ean time, I am

am to recommend to your favour and protection Mesfrs. Amos, Botsford, Cummings, and Haufer, Agents for the Loyalitts, as well for those that go this autumn as for those that follow after (a more perfect lift of whole names, and the number of each family, as far as can now be afcertained, they will have the honour to prefent): and I am to defire you, Sir, to give them the neceffary affiltance in exploring the country, in order that they may be able to fix on proper places for fettlements; and for this end it will be necessary also, I presume, that they should have such access to the Records of the Province as may be just and proper. Their expectation is, that they shall be accommodated with fuch tracts of unappropriated lands as they shall chuse to settle in, and 5 or 600 acres be granted to a family, and 300 to a fingle man. You will find likewife, that provision will be made by the Agents for grants of land for the use of the Church, and for Schools; and that it will be defired that 2000 acres may be appropriated to the former, and 1000 to the latter; which I cannot but very earneftly recommend.

These perfons are to be confidered as real efficient fettlers, already acquainted with all the neceffary arts of culture, and habituated to fettlements of the like kind; and who, independent of their just claims, will bring a large accession of strength, as well as of population, into the province. And as they have merited much by their exertions in support of Government, fo they will not only, in my judgment, be well entitled to grants now defired (exonerated of all prefent and future pecuniary demands), but to all fuch advantages of every fort as may have heretofore been promised, by proclamation or otherwise, to perfons invited to fettle in that province.

I am to inform you, Sir, that it is my intention to furnish those who mean to pass into your province this fall with as many necessfaries and accommodations of every kind as I shall be able, in order to support them during the winter; and I am further, Sir, earness they can only locally obtain; I mean, more particularly, materials for building, and the aid of such workmen, as, in so just a cause, and so strongly recommended from home, your own zeal will enable you to supply.—For the rest, I must refer you, Sir, to those B 2 gentlemen
