FOR RETURNED BOYS ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Returned Men, 16 Strong, Reach City—More Tonight.

Although there was not a large crowd resent to greet them, the sixteen re-turned men who detrained here last might were accorded an enthusiastic welcome. There was one London man, us on Wednesday next, one which we must recognize as of very primary importance, one affecting, as it must do, the welfare of the children now in training in our schools, who will be the citizens of the next generation.

We want the mother's voice, as well as the father's, to be heard upon the school board of our city, and therefore it is that we would plead with the women of London, who most surely realize what would be the effect of such a power of utterance in the shaping of the lives of their little ones, to come out to the polls on the first day of the New Year and cast their motherly ballots for the three candidates who so unselfishly of-
