Unveil Memorial Tablet and Font

The firm of H. McGrattan & Sons has just completed a beautiful memorial tablet and baptismal font for St. George's church, west side. The memorial tablet is of pure white marble in the form of an open book measuring four feet by three. At the top of this tablet is an inscription following in black enamel with the names of the men from St. George's church who have enlisted for foreign service. The tablet is to be unveiled in the church on August 4, the anniversary of the declaration of war.

The baptismal font is of white granite, three feet high and octagonal in shape bearing on its sides the following figures: Alpha, Omega, Trinity, Calvary, I. H. S., St. George's Cross, St. Andrew's Cross and St. Patrick's Cross. The inscription on the tablet and the names follow:

To the Glory of God, this font and tablet are placed in honor of those who served in the great war.

"Well, that's all right, if you happen to be Paul."

Hottest July Day In Thirty Years

Yesterday was the hottest day experienced in St. John during the month of July in thirty years, and in any month during the last seventeen years, the mercury registering 86.2. One man, Arthur Daigle, a member of the 3rd C. G. A., was prostrated. He collapsed in Main street. He regained consciousness last night, but the doctors said that he had a close call from death. The thermometer registered 88.9 in July, 1887.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE

The heavy storm of Monday did damage in the province of Quebec to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Three large bridges were washed away by the rising water. The spire of Notre Dame church, Montreal, was struck by lightning.

PROMINENT BAPTISTS.

(Maritime Baptist.)
We enjoyed a call last week from Rev. W. H. Freda, of Dorchester, N. B. He was returning to his field after a month's vacation spent in Boston and vicinity. During his stay there he supplied the pulpit of the Union Square church, of Sonerville. We may be allured to express the hope that he will not be induced to leave the work in these provinces. He is a laborer whom we can ill afford to lose at this time of need.

Rev. H. P. Everett, who a few months ago resigned at Springhill, N. S., to accept a call from Dunham, Man., is meeting with good success on his new field. During July he occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church of Winnipeg, the pastor, Dr. F. W. Patterson, being absent on vacation. This is an honor for a young man, and may be regarded as a tribute to the quality of Mr. Everett's pulpit work.

Rev. A. J. Vincent, now pastor of the Immanuel church, Truro, has been called to the Main street church, Sackville. We understand that he has accepted and will take up his work there about the first of October. Nearly three years ago he became pastor of the Immanuel church at a critical time in the life of that church. Under his leadership the work has greatly prospered and his acceptance of the call to Sackville will be the cause of deep regret in Truro.

Rev. Clifford T. Clark, of Houlton, Me., is spending his vacation at Chance Harbor, N. B. He has been pastor of the Free Baptist church in Houlton for three years and the work there has greatly prospered under his leadership. There are many of our men in pastoral service across "the line" whom we covet for work in their native land. Brother Clark is one of them.

A cable from London a few days ago reported that Major Eric MacDonald, D. S. O., had been compelled to undergo an operation for appendicitis. The operation was said to have been successful, and a full and speedy recovery is hoped for. Major MacDonald has of recent months been in command of a training school in France. His honor, aid, is still busily employed as assistant director of the Canadian Chaplain services, with headquarters in London.

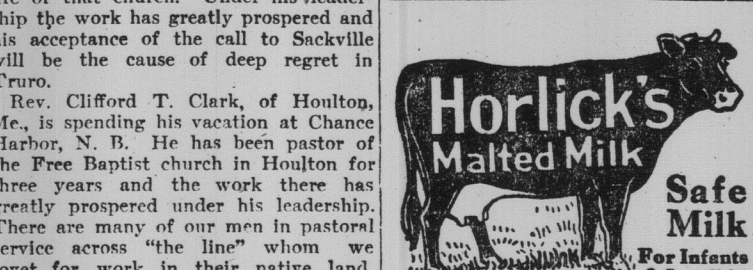

We are glad to learn that the church at Bridgetown has secured a successor to Rev. G. C. Warren in the person of Rev. M. S. Richardson. During his pastorate at the First church, Truro, and at Newcastle, N. B., Mr. Richardson showed the qualities of his pastoral leadership and became recognized as a pastor of rare devotion and spirituality. For more than a year he has been at his boyhood home at Jeddore, where his aged parents have needed and received his filial care.

Family Trait

At the annual prize-day of a certain school, the head boy rose to give his recitation.

"Plends, Romans, countrymen," he vociferated, "lend me your ears!"

"There," commented the mother of a defeated pupil, sneeringly, "that's Mrs. Bigg's boy! He wouldn't be his mother's son if he didn't want to borrow something."

Thorough System Needed To Collect New Income Tax

Experience in Other Countries Which Have Imposed Similar Tax Shows That With Perfected Machinery Only Small Percentage of Taxable People Escape

(Toronto Star.)

Will it be easy or possible to dodge the new income tax? Not if the machinery created at Ottawa for its collection is efficient. In the United States the tax has proved somewhat hard to collect. It was recently stated by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington that the plan of "withholding at the source" is "valuable neither as a means of complete collection nor as a method of disclosing adequate information to government officers." Only about ten per cent of the tax collected during the past three years was withheld at the source. On the other hand, the principle of self-assessment is proving unsatisfactory, partly due to misunderstanding or misinterpretation of the provisions of the law and partly due to evasion. The latter is the cause of loss of revenue has been shown during the past year to have been very considerable, and the commissioner now says it is "axiomatic that the government cannot rely entirely upon a taxpayer's declaration as to his own tax liability."

Two Methods of Change.

Experience is admittedly showing more and more plainly the defects and unfairness of the present income tax. Two days are evident for changing the situation, the one the changing of the basis for the tax putting it on a more scientific footing as to levy and collection, while the other is the application of more incisive and positive measures of ascertaining income and the placing of the tax on the basis of gross income instead of net, no deductions to be made. The latter plan is the easier to pursue and at the same time much harder and more unjust to the taxpayer, who would as a result suffer from an increased application of double taxation in many instances.

Carl Snyder, an income tax authority of the United States, has said that 75 per cent of the people with taxable incomes under the law in 1916 paid no taxes, and that the amount of income which escaped taxation was about $5,000,000,000. W. P. Melburn, assistant secretary of the United States Treasury, disagreed with these figures, stating that investigation into the lowest classes of returns is limited and consequently many of this class fail to make returns. This, he contends, is the necessary result of economical administration, not intentional injustice. "It is possible," said Mr. Melburn, "that some day a sufficiently large force of investigators will be provided to check all returns and to investigate cases where no return is made, but even then, when investi-

"The Poor Man's Potato" has become the rich man's luxury. Whether at three dollars a bushel, or twenty-five cents a bushel, potatoes are not a complete food. Two or three Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk furnish more real, body-building nutriment than a meal of potatoes or meat, are much more easily digested and cost much less. Shredded Wheat is 100 per cent. whole wheat, nothing added and nothing taken away—gives mental vim and physical vigor for the hot days. Delicious for breakfast, or any meal, with sliced bananas, berries or other fruits, and milk.

TRIBUTE TO PERCY R. ALLABY, WHO DIED DEATH OF HERO

(Maritime Baptist.)

When Percy R. Allaby, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Allaby, was lying mortally wounded during the fight at Vimy Ridge, he said to the bearers who found him: "Never mind me; do what you can for the rest." The following verses were sent to the family, who are anxious to learn the name of the author:

"Do what you can for the rest," he said.
When the rescue party found him.
Helpless upon the ground he lay,
With the wounded and dead around him.

Ten of them went over Vimy Ridge,
Sent on an urgent mission.
Only the one who had brought them aid
Was unharmed on that expedition.

Swiftly the rescuers were led.
On their errand of hope and mercy;
Swiftly were friendly hands at work
To care for the dying Percy.

His parting message they bent to hear,
And the words that he faintly mut-
tered
Were simply "Do what you can for the rest."

The last that on earth he uttered.
Thus at his death was the spirit seen
That had ruled all his conduct, living:
An earnest care for his comrades then.

For himself no fear nor misgiving.
The self-same spirit that brought him
There,
Not bloodthirsty love of fighting.
But that there were others who needed help.

And wrongs that required righting.
That spirit throughout the world today
Has gathered, and joined as brothers,
White men and yellow, black and red,
United in aiding others.

Such a spirit deep in the people's hearts
Means the real strength of a nation,
And opposing injustice and tyranny
May accomplish the world's salvation.

A good story of the battle of Jutland is told by a chaplain of the grand fleet in a ship which was in the thick of the action and was well hammered by the enemy many a poor fellow lost the number of his mess and many more were sadly wounded. Among these latter was a sailor whose leg was so much shattered and lacerated by a splinter of shell that there was nothing else to do but amputate it above the knee. The poor wounded man was practically unconscious from loss of blood, so the surgeons were not able to tell him of his intentions of operating. Some hours later he recovered consciousness and found himself comfortably tucked up, with the stump dressed and bandaged. When he asked what had happened he broke into an agonized cry—"no, not for the crippling he had undergone; his cry was 'Where's my leg? For even's sake, find my leg, somebody! It's got all my money in the stocking!'"

No Allowance Life Insurance.

The criticism is heard that the measure introduced by Sir Thomas White makes no allowance for life insurance premiums. It is thought that the man who provides for the future, sacrificing present income to a certain extent, and reducing the possibility of his relatives being entirely or partly state charges after his death, should have more consideration than the man who, says, spends his life insurance premiums on luxuries or pleasures. The English Act makes allowance for this. Persons assessed for the tax are entitled to deduct from their income figure before assessment the amounts of life insurance premiums paid during the year up to one-sixth of their income. A person is not entitled to deduct in respect of any premium more than 7 per cent. of the actual capital sum assured.

LABOR DAY FAIR.

A meeting was held in the rooms of the War Veterans' Association last evening by the committee appointed to arrange for the fair which is to be held on Labor Day. St. Andrew's curling rink has been secured for holding the fair. Two new members were added to the committee, Captain Gordon Johnson and Gordon Nuttall. It was decided to give a door prize of $25 to one lady and one gentleman each day during the fair. A special lottery of $250 was also decided on. Arrangements were made for advertising and the City Council and the Temple Bands will be in attendance. Letters will be sent to the business men in order to secure their co-operation and a committee was formed to obtain the
