COMMON COUNCIL

Water and sewerage extensions in Peters street, Fairville, Chesley street, Acadia street and City road and Gilbert's Lane, were authorized by the common council yesterday. Two of these extensions will be paid for out of general revenue and Mayor Frink made the pleasing announcement that he had struck a "streak of oil" in the city's finances which would enable the city to get through the year without an overdraft.

Commissioner McEllan reported on the city rifle range. The total expenditure was $2,048 and receipts $1,680, with a city grant of $1,000. He estimated the assets at about $2,000.

It was decided that the city grant to the mother of the late Policeman O'Leary, who was killed on duty, will not share the increase granted to the police force.

A request of the Canada Nail and Wire Company that they be granted exemption from taxation for the first three years but offering to make up the payments within the following seven years was referred to the committee of the whole council.

The commissioner of lands was asked to report on a request from John Sims that $1,000 be spent on repairs to the house occupied by him.

Mayor Frink announced that he would not pass any more bills for the North End survey until there was an exhibit of the progress of the work; the commissioner of public works was asked to submit a report at each meeting of the council.

Commissioner Potts complained of the quality of poles and their location, used by the St. John Railway Company and said that an understanding would have to be reached.

Commissioners Wigmore and Potts assured the mayor that the present work at Marsh Bridge should make things so that no further repairs would be required for years.

SURPRISE PARTY.
Miss Lillian P. Garnett of Murray street, was given a great surprise on Monday evening when about thirty of her little friends called upon her. They enjoyed themselves with music and games and refreshments were served. They presented to her a beautiful gift.

The Shattered Dough is on tap—

"Large aches from little toe corns grow." (No, it aint new. First uttered by Pericles after a long hike from Rome to Sparta.) Half a crazy coin lying innocently in a curio window started more of a mess than the preacher who kissed the fat soprano in the choir. It led to THE BROKEN COIN, the Universal's gingersy serial written by Emerson Hough during one of his mad, mad moments.

The Broken Coin begins this week in all of America's foremost moving picture houses. The leading sprites in its performance are Francis Ford and Grace Cunard, two of our own screen stars who say they are celebrated—and we guess they are. Most of the picture was made at Universal City—the wonder city of the universe—where we have pieced together seven parts of the civilized and uncivilized world.

It goes with an insane rush. There isn't an instant of slow action. It's swift as a Nebraska cyclone and Grace Cunard has a pal in the play who can lick his weight in wild cats—and does. It is weird, thrilling, blood-freezing and blood-curdling. It interests old and young and middle-aged. It is the kind of a picture play the whole family likes. And if you want to see it, all you've got to do is to say to the manager of your favorite theatre. All he's got to do is get it.

Universal City—a moving-picture city—of 3,000 souls is near Los Angeles which is on the direct line of the Santa Fe. Drop in on your way to the two fairs and

THE BAPTIST MINISTERS

(Maritime Baptist)

Rev. Jas. A. Porter supplied at Marysville (Olivet) and Nashwan on Sunday, June 13 and spent the following week in that vicinity.

Rev. F. C. Reed of Sydney, the esteemed editor of our Young People's Column occupied the pulpit in the German Street church St. John, last Sunday. Pastor F. S. Porter is enjoying his vacation, which he is spending for the most part in Fredericton.

S. W. Stackhouse (Lic.) will spend the vacation season on the Doaktown field. Earle A. Kinley, who recently graduated at Acadia, has taken up the work at Bathurst, where a new church was recently organized. Student I. B. Rouse will assist Pastor J. H. Jenner on the Campbellton field.

A new name has been added to our list of ordained ministers. The account of the ordination of Walter S. Ryder, B. A., will be found in another column. It is to be regretted, however, that our churches are not adopting the permanent council method, according to the recommendation of the convention.

Dr. Robert T. Jones closed an eventful ministry of the thirty-five years with the First Baptist church of Ithaca, N. Y., on Sunday, May 30th. On that occasion he received a purse of $1,000 from friends and members of the church. This is the church to which Rev. George R. Baker goes from Leominster, Mass.

Rev. I. M. Rose has resigned the pastorate at Guysboro, to the regret of the church there. As clerk of the Eastern Association and assistant-secretary of the Maritime convention for the last two years, he has rendered an efficient service to the denomination. He plans to enter Rochester Seminary for a full theological course.

Rev. C. P. Wilson, Home Mission of the First Cornwallis church is an announced. It will become effective in October.

Rev. A. H. McLeod is meeting with continued success on the St. Mary's Bay field. Three have recently been baptised. A purse of money was recently presented to the pastor by the members and friends at North Range. Pastor McLeod's oldest son is serving the empire in France. The rest of the family were at Wolfville during the school year, but are now residing at Barton, Digby county.

Rev. J. A. Ford, Acadia '86, is now pastor of the First Baptist church, Lillooet, North Dakota. In October he will celebrate the 80th anniversary of his ordination.

RALESTON A CAPTAIN

Another former Amherst boy, Ivan S. Raleston, has obtained a commission in Canada's overseas forces. He has been gazetted as captain in the 60th Battalion and is now one of the officers on duty.

At present he is engaged in recruiting work. So that he might take a commission he resigned his position as secretary of the Montreal Trust Company.
