

3 DROWN AFTER PARTY ON BOAT

Police Suspect Craft Upset After Fight—Woman Among Victims.

New York, Oct. 20.—Edward Logue, captain of the stakeboat Rak, anchored off Whitehouse, Queens, his wife, and Terry Gillespie, manager of a Whitehouse grocery, were drowned when the dinghy in which they were rowing ashore was overturned. Edward Newton, 28 years old, a seaman, was rescued and lying for half an hour to the overturned boat. Newton's version of the tragedy was that a well had struck the dinghy and upset it. The police of the marine division were investigating a report, however, that there was a fight aboard the tiny craft.

Newton was brought to Manhattan by Captain Lorenzo Johnson of an O'Brien Brothers' Towing Company tug, and after being questioned by the police of the East Twenty-second street station was treated at Bellevue Hospital. Newton said that he and Gillespie had been guests at a "party" on board the Rak last night and, according to the police, admitted that they had had a few drinks. The accident occurred about six o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Logue tried to swim to the Rak when the dinghy overturned. Newton said. Then she clung with him, to the overturned dinghy until her strength gave out.

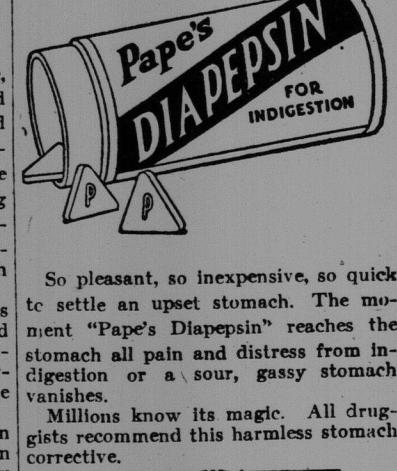

Capt. Johnson recovered her body from the water and also found her dog, a Spitz, that was splashing around near by.

Newton told the police that Capt. Logue was at the oars when the accident happened. Gillespie and Mrs. Logue were in the stern and Newton was in the bow. Logue and Gillespie disappeared when the boat overturned. Newton said. The seaman said also that Mrs. Margaret Callahan, Edward, 14 years old, and Robert, 10.

The Rak is kept anchored off Whitehouse by Owen McCaffrey's Sons, 1 Broadway, a transportation company, and barges in transit are tied to it temporarily.

FRED. W. DORMAN DIED IN MONCTON

Was a Native of St. John and Well Known in the City.

News of the passing of Fred. W. Dorman will recall to the older citizens memories of years long gone, for he was in his eighty-eighth year, and was well known about St. John, in which city he was born and where he spent his life. About a year ago he went to live with his son, George F. Dorman, in Moncton. He had been in failing health for some time, and a week ago suffered a stroke of paralysis. Death came to him yesterday.

For very many years he was employed in the old Opera House, and before that in the old Academy of Music, a key of which was among his cherished belongings. He was there when the Academy was destroyed in the great fire in 1877, and engaged so earnestly in fighting the flames from point to point that he had eventually to take a small boat and row along the Back Shore to join his family, who were later driven from their refuge also. Mr. Dorman's hair and beard were silver, and his clothes partly worn during the experience of that awful day.

He knew Nannan and all the old theatrical men connected with the Academy, and later was identified with the Opera House. The older newspaper men have a kindly recollection of him, for he gave them many a hint of news, and visited the offices when time permitted.

Mrs. Dorman died some nine years ago. For some time Mr. Dorman lived with his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Barnes, of St. John West, but for the last year he was in Moncton. He is survived by four sons—Charles F., of Missoula, Montana; Harry, of Seattle; George F., of Moncton and William W., of St. John, and one daughter, Mrs. J. W. Barnes of this city.

The body will be brought from Moncton today to the home of his son, William W. Dorman, First street, and the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at half-past two o'clock. The family have the sympathy not only of the Pythians, but of many citizens who have kindly memories of Fred. W. Dorman.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

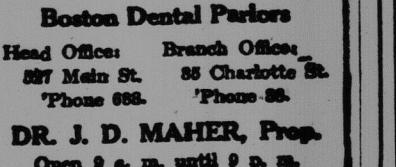

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 88 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, O. K. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

GOLDSTEIN WINS FROM BARMAN

Claim of Championship for Him as Lynch Did Not Appear.

New York, Oct. 20.—Abe Goldstein of New York won the judges' decision over Joe Burman of Chicago in a 12-round match at Madison Square Garden last night. Goldstein substituted for Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, although Burman was recognized as the title-holder in New York State. Lynch dislocated his shoulder yesterday, his manager announced. Burman weighed 118 pounds, and Goldstein 117 1/2.

Goldstein was announced the champion from the ring, although it later was reported that a meeting of the State Athletic Commission would be held on Monday to determine Lynch's status.
