Times are Changing

We, North Americans, have been held responsible for the "Spendthrift Period" extending over the last couple of years. This may or may not be a just accusation, but, at all events, the fact is that the circulation of money has been curtailed. Now, in these times, good reliable securities are more desirable than luxuries. Luxuries are declining in value and with that decline must come the inevitable rise in the value of high grade securities and hence in the money of this generation. There are better opportunities now.

For a comparatively small commitment you can secure any high grade Stock or Bond listed on any exchange on the Continent.

Let us show you how. Ask for our latest issue of our Investor's Pocket Manual 102.

MONCTON GROWS

(Moncton Times.)

That Moncton is a growing city is something that need scarcely be stated. There are few places, either in Canada or the United States, that can show a greater increase in population and in the evidence of material wealth. The civic tax bills are now being sent out, and while some things are not regarded as pleasant reminders, they afford some satisfaction. The civic tax rate in Moncton is 210, which compares with a rate of 278 in St. John and as high as three and four per cent. in some places. The assessors' books show that the total taxable value of the city of Moncton this year amounts to $22,567,425, as compared with $19,447,576 last year, and about six million ten years ago, when Mr. Price, who recently retired from the office of chief assessor, took charge. The city valuation for the past two years is made up as follows:—

	1920	1921
Land	$5,386,210	$5,657,770
Buildings	6,910,015	7,916,730
Personal	2,779,800	8,075,900
Income	4,871,800	8,811,825

This is an increase in the year of $2,919,550, or fifteen per cent. In addition to the above, property exempt from taxation is of the estimated value of about ten million dollars. This includes, of course, all the land and buildings of the Canadian National Railway system, the city property, parks, city hall and market, fire stations, public school buildings and church properties.

The valuation of all land, buildings, incomes and personal estate in the city of St. John is this year $35,596,500, an increase of $4,886,600, but a million and a half of this increase comes from property which previous to this year had been exempt from taxation, so that practically the actual increase in valuations in Moncton is nearly as large as in St. John, while the percentage rate of increase is but a half times as great.

Other evidences of Moncton, progress are found in the postal revenue, which now exceeds $200,000 a year, making this city with St. John and Halifax; also in the building operations, bank clearings and other things. It would seem that it would be to the advantage of the city to have compiled statistics showing the progress of the city in various ways. These to be incorporated in the annual blue book. There should be in the city books statistics of various kinds that might be carried down from year to year, and once these were compiled it would be an easy matter to keep up the record.
