FATAL ACCIDENT ON CHRISTMAS EVE

Edward Thorpe, aged thirty-five, of Mace's Bay, was killed when his car turned turtle on the way home from the city on Wednesday evening. The body was discovered by Frank McCarthy, Jr., under the overturned car on the Lorneville road. The body was brought to Brennan's undertaking rooms, West St. John, where examination showed that the unfortunate man's neck was broken.

Mr. Thorpe was unmarried and lived with his widowed mother, a brother and two sisters at Mace's Bay.

The surviving members of the family are his mother, Mrs. Martha Thorpe; sisters, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Nellie Small, Mrs. Calhoun of St. Martins, Mrs. S. Nobley and Mrs. Mawhinney, and one brother, Frederick Thorpe of Mace's Bay.

Coroner Kenney said last night that there would be no inquest into the fatality, as the death was obviously due to accidental causes.

The former Governor Crown Prince Frederick spent Christmas with his parents in his exile.
