20th Century Men's Fine Tailored Garments

"Once upon a time"—and not many years ago at that, most men wouldn't buy ready-to-wear clothing at any price. Their reasons were that they couldn't get a fit; that the materials weren't all they ought to be; that the workmanship was poor; that the garments didn't look like the made-to-order merchant tailor kind, and didn't keep their shape any length of time. Their objections were not without foundation at the time, and even up to recently, but times have changed, and the wholesale tailoring business has changed, too. You can get as good a suit of ready-tailored clothes, an overcoat, or a pair of trousers nowadays as most men would want to wear. That is if you buy 20th CENTURY BRAND FINE TAILORED GARMENTS. The prices are one quarter to one third less than good made-to-measure clothes. Carrying on a progressive, successful custom tailoring business and continuously improving our productions enables us to judge good clothing; we therefore recommend 20th Century Brand garments as the best we can secure in Canada.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S MYSTERIOUS WREATH.

At the time of Queen Victoria's funeral there was much comment in the newspapers about a mysterious wreath laid upon the coffin. It was one of the finest there, but bore only the words, "O Rest in the Lord!" No name was attached, and there was a great deal of speculation as to who had sent it.

It has now been revealed that the wreath was placed there by Queen Alexandra on behalf of Miss Ada Crossley, the famous Australian contralto. She was often "commanded" to Windsor Castle by Queen Victoria, who greatly admired her singing.

Once she happened to choose Her Majesty's favorite song, "O Rest in the Lord!" The Queen wept bitterly, and explained that she could never hear that song without thinking of her dead husband, the Prince Consort, who also had loved it dearly. This was the reason why Miss Crossley sent the wreath.

INSANE OVER FATHER'S SUICIDE. AMHERST, N. S., Sept. 21.—The eighteen-year-old son of Abel Smith, who committed suicide last week, has, by physicians, been pronounced insane and will be sent to the institution at Dartmouth, brooding over his father's rash act, it is supposed to have unbalanced his mind.

SUCH IS LIFE. "The poor are always with us," is a saying somewhat gross. And misers, as you doubtless know, are likewise pretty close.

SEEING THINGS.

Oh, See the Man!

How Proud he Looks! How Extended is his Chest!

He walks about! What is the cause of his Chestiness?

He went without a Vacation this summer, my Boy. Also, he Worked hard and saved his Money. He now has Quite a Bunch of the Needful!

Oh, See what he has in his Hand! It is very Heavy. He is staggering under the Weight of it. What is it?

That, my Son, is his Roll. It has cost him Six Months' Hard Labor and much Self-denial. In spite of the fact that it is all in Ones and Twos, still there is Enough to Buy a Meal Ticket for a Week or Mo' in case the Store should not Need him any Longer.

Oh, See what he has in his Other Hand. It is not much Larger than a Calling Card. What is it?

That, my Son, is a Free Pass to the Exhibition.

Will the Man make Use of the Pass?

Yes, my Son. The man who turns down a Free Pass to Anything, even an Exhibition, is yet Unborn.

Will he Take his Roll with him when he goes to the Show?

Yes, my Boy. He is Afraid to Put it in the Bank, for fear the Bank would Break from carrying such a Heavy Load.

Ah, he has disappeared in the Crowd. I cannot see him any more. Can you?

No, my Boy, but I can see his Finish.

WILL SPEAK HERE.

Hon. T. C. Casgrain, M. P., and Dr. P. Clarke, M. P., are expected to arrive here on Annapolis Monday afternoon, the third of October. It is understood that they will speak here Monday evening, at Fredericton, Tuesday, at Woodstock, Wednesday, at Moncton, Thursday, and probably at Campbellton on Friday.

GAVE THEM SUIT CASES.

International Harvester Men Surprised the St. John Managers.

J. A. Brookbank and E. J. Benninger, manager and assistant manager of the International Harvester Co., were surprised last evening. They had gone to their homes and were settled down for a comfortable evening without any business matters to disturb them, when messages came to the effect that they were wanted at the office. Neither one cared to go, but as the messages stated that the matter was important, they grew up, put on their coats and went.

Down at the offices of the road representatives of the company in the three provinces had assembled, and greeted Mr. Brookbank and Mr. Benninger when they arrived. F. H. Pooler, the Charlottetown agent, was chosen chairman and after some remarks, called upon J. P. Lynch of St. John. Mr. Lynch made a happy speech, expressive of the feelings entertained by all towards the managers, and on behalf of the party, presented them with suit cases. The whole affair was a surprise, Mr. Brookbank said so. Then he thanked the friends for their thoughtfulness and proceeded to say nice things about the staff and the very satisfactory business of the past year. He congratulated the agents on the work they had done, and himself on being provincial head of so capable a staff.

Mr. Benninger also replied thanking the members of the staff. The chairman then called, upon different ones present, and all contributed to the pleasure of the occasion. These provincial representatives have been meet in St. John during the week for the purpose of settling up last year's work and making plans for the coming season. Those present were:

New Brunswick—F. E. Corbett, St. John; J. J. McLean, Moncton; Mr. Gerard and Mr. Fallon.

Nova Scotia—J. P. Lynch, Truro; E. I. Peel, Bedford; A. E. Tupper, Antigonish; P. H. Pooler, Charlottetown; and Willard Ellis, Lower Stewiack.

P. E. Island—R. M. Grant, Charlottetown; P. H. Pooler, Charlottetown; P. D. Bowen, Cardigan; D. A. Wedlock, Stanley Bridge, and S. M. Hicks, Summerside.

WORLD'S SUPPLY OF COAL.

The British Output is Increasing While Foreign Falls.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The report in which the Board of Trade annually reviews the production, consumption and export of coal throughout the world has been issued, covering the years 1902 and 1903, and furnishes striking evidence of the extraordinary quantities in which the fuel is demanded.

The total known coal production of the world exclusive of brown coal (lignite) has now reached the gigantic quantity of 780 million tons.

In the case of the United Kingdom, the production has increased in the last year by more than one-third.

Our output has been steadily increasing. In 1885 it was a little more than 150 million tons. In 1897 it reached for the first time 200 million tons, and last year the total was 290,324,000 tons.

Germany, our great commercial rival, takes third place among the coal-producing countries of the world; and her annual output has more than doubled in twenty years.

It does not follow from the fact that we are consuming our coal more and more to a larger extent each year that the money value of this great national asset shows corresponding increase. The reverse is the case. The value of the output in 1902 was £28,521,000; but although the production in the next year was three and a quarter million tons more the total value fell to £28,228,000.

For 1901 the average value of British coal at the collieries was £4 1-2d; last year there was a further fall of 7d. per ton.

There was a year almost sixty-four million tons, which exceeded the export of the previous year by 3,400,000 tons. Great Britain is a long way off from being the chief coal-exporting country.

Half the consumption of Canada is derived from the United States, but with the exception of the Cape of Good Hope, the remainder of the British coal-producing colonies are principally self-supporting.

WONDERFUL INTELLIGENCE.

At the beginning of the horse show yesterday, James McClay, shepherd of the Chocomaok Farm, gave an exhibition of the wonderful intelligence of the collie dog. He turned loose in the field a dozen sheep, giving them a small pen not more than fifteen feet square, to which he gave the dog.

He then ordered the sheep to be driven. The dog set out after them, and in a very short time had all the sheep together and drove them into the pen. Every time they attempted to start in a wrong direction the dog with great tail would head them off, and no man or even two men could have done better. Once Mr. McClay turned all the sheep out into the outside grounds, in which were at least five minutes the dog had them back again. The dog was of a beautiful brown and white color, and its skill and knowledge were enthusiastically cheered by the crowds who witnessed them.

JAMES ROSS IN TOWN.

James Ross of Montreal came to the city on Halifax yesterday afternoon and will leave on this evening's train for Montreal. Mr. Ross spent some time last night in consultation with the officials of the Street Railway. As usual, he has very little to say. His visit here is not for any particular purpose, simply to meet some of the people with whom he is connected in business matters. He has nothing to say about the Street Railway or any plans for further extension.

With regard to the Dominion Coal Co.'s business, Mr. Ross believes that there should be a good market in Mexico, and thinks that the first shipment, which left Sydney on Tuesday, will be an experiment, will be by no means the last, although he does not say that other shipments will be sent forward at once.

PRESENTATION.

Yesterday afternoon some of his friends of St. Luke's church waited upon H. W. Miller of Douglas avenue, presented him with a pocket Bible and an engraved address, of which the following is a copy.

Mr. Miller left for his home to attend the School of Technology there.

To Mr. H. W. Miller:

Dear Fellow-worker—We, your associates in the work of St. Luke's church, wish to convey to you our great regret that circumstances have made it necessary for you to break for a time, a connection which has been so full of happy associations for you and us. We are sure that you are now taking in in preparation for it; therefore we feel in asking that God's blessing be upon you and that you and your Lord Jesus Christ may find help into paths of still greater devotion.

WORK ON THE SHORE LINE.

By the middle of November the managers of the Shore Line railway will be in a position to go ahead with the work of putting the road into proper shape. Matthew Neilson, who has been in charge of the work, stated that the steel bridges which it had been decided to put in were nearing completion and would be delivered early in November.

Contracts have been completed with various persons for one hundred and fifty thousand sleepers, ten thousand of which are for immediate delivery and the balance for next spring. There has been some slight difficulty in securing sleepers, and the Shore Line people were not able to make contracts for the full number in cedar, but had to be satisfied with the best that could be got. Whenever these articles will be commenced.

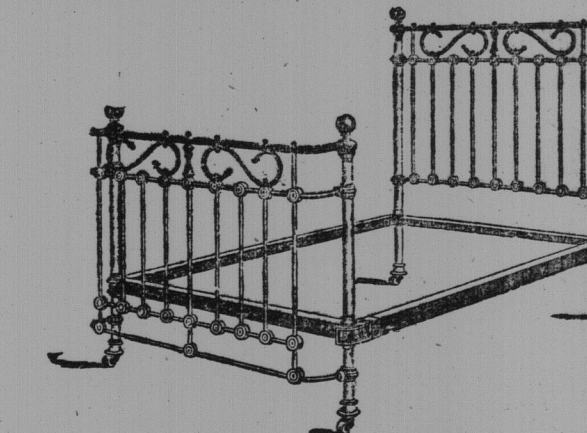

YORK THEATRE.

Being determined to make the opening a gala week, Mrs. Hyde has added the celebrated gymnasts, Newell and Steele, to his already long list of attractions, and is negotiating with his Boston agent for more strong acts, which if secured will be duly announced. There has never before been such a long list of headliners presented on one bill in St. John as will be seen next week at the York's grand opening.
