

ST. JOHN STAR, TUESDAY, JULY 18, 1905.

Wednesday's Specials
Will Be
Ladies' Whitewear.

Nearly every day finds us with some special line on sale in order to make this store eminently attractive.

We have secured a lot of whitewear—the end of the season's clearance for the manufacturer, and just the commencement of the season for the retailer—at a little more than half their usual price, and these will be placed on sale on Wednesday morning at 8.30 o'clock. The lot consists of Night Gowns, Drawers and Corset Covers.

90c. Night Gowns will be sold for 60c.
$1.25 Night Gowns will be sold for 75c.
$1.50 Night Gowns will be sold for 90c.
$1.75 Night Gowns will be sold for $1.00.
$2.00 Night Gowns will be sold for $1.25.
25c. Corset Covers will be sold for 17c.
30c. Corset Covers will be sold for 20c.
50c. Corset Covers will be sold for 35c.
50c. Drawers will be sold for 35c.
50c. Drawers will be sold for 35c.
1.00 Drawers will be sold for 60c.
$1.25 Drawers will be sold for 80c.
$1.75 Drawers will be sold for $1.15.
75c. Children's Underskirts will be sold for 40c.
The quantities of this whitewear in some of the lines are not large, in others there are generous quantities, and will be enough to go around. But if you delay coming perhaps the style you want will be sold.

F. A. DYKEMAN & CO. 59 Charlotte St.

25lb SUGAR $1

During this week we will sell 20 lb. Standard Granulated Sugar for $1.00. 22 lb. Light Brown and 25lb. Dark Brown $1.00.
All Pure Cane Sugar, of best quality.
Watch our Ad for next week.

RALPH E. WHITE, 56-62 Wall Street, Tel. 571.

The Rush is On!
Follow the Crowd to
CARPENTER'S, 131 and 133 MILL STREET.

Don't Forget the Place.

We have everything the market affords in our line—MEATS, FISH and VEGETABLES, and what we have is of the best. Don't forget that, too.
KEIRSTEAD BROS., 240 Paradise Row. Phone 1670.

We have Fresh Strawberries arriving daily, also Fresh Lamb and Vegetables.
Give us a call before buying elsewhere.
F. S. PURDY, 92-96 Wall Street Phone 492.

Do You Know We Have the Best 25c Blk. Cashmere Socks For Men in the Town?
WETMORE'S, The Young Men's Man, 154 MILL STREET

Keep Cool.
IT COSTS VERY LITTLE HERE.
Summer Underclothes, 20c, 25c, 35c, 48c and 75c.
Soft Front Shirts, 48c, 75c and 98c.
Light Vests, only $1.68.
Straw Hats, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.50.
C. B. PIDGEON, Cor. Main and Bridge Sts North End.

UP-TO-DATE BARBERS.
If there are seven in the shop you are still next, if eleven in the shop there is only one ahead of you.
YOU DON'T HAVE TO WAIT.
LOGAN & GIBBS, 23 Waterloo Street.

Corsets!
We have just received a small lot of New Military Girdle Summer Corsets in white, sizes 19 to 25, only 30c. 37c. Also a small lot of the New Wire Hair Pad and Comb at 20c. each. Souvenir Maple Leaf Fans with views of St. John, 5c. each.
Arnold's Department Store, 11-15 Charlotte St.

On Time Washing!
GLOBE LAUNDRY, VAIL BROS., Proprietors, 25 Waterloo St. Phone 823.

STORE OPEN NIGHTS
LUSTRE SHIRT WAISTS
with all the good qualities found in a good waist—Good Lustre, Good Fit, Good Sleeve.
PRICE: $1.00 $1.25 SEE WINDOW.
A Special White Lawn Waist Sale at $1.19
Cor. Duke and Charlottes Streets. Store Open Evenings.

LATE SHIPPING NEWS.
PORT OF ST. JOHN.
Arrived.
July 18—Coastwise—Schr. Mary E. McLeod, from River Hebert, N. S.; s.s. Granite, Collins, from Annapolis, N. S.; and s.s. Selma, Nova, from Apple River, N. S.; Able Verna, Morris, from Advocate Harbor, N. S.; Panny, Pike, from Apple River; str. Brunswick, Potter, from Canning, N. S.
Cleared.
Schr. James Barber, Turfs, for Vineyard Haven.
Coastwise—Schr. Ich-Dien, Iversen, for Lunenburg, N. S.; schr. Beasly G. George, for River Hebert, N. S.; schr. Leo, Durant, for River Hebert, N. S.; Swallow, Ellis, for Alma, N. B.

LOCAL NEWS.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

Owing to the increased patronage which Advertisers are giving to the Star, we are compelled to request those who require changes in their Advertisements to have their Copy in the Star Office Before 9 o'clock in the Morning, to insure insertion Same Evening.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast—Moderate southwest and west winds, clearing and warmer, Wednesday, fine and very warm.
Synopsis—A heat wave is spreading eastward from the United States. Winds are light and variable along the coast. To Banks, moderate southwest winds. To American ports, moderate westerly winds.
Highest temperature during past 24 hours, 58.
Lowest temperature during past 24 hours, 54.
Temperature at noon, 55.

Dominion Lodge No. 18 L. O. B. A. will meet in G-son Hall N. E.

Steamship "Lake Manitoba" arrived at Liverpool on Sunday, the 16th.

The members of the Theobald club will hold a private assembly at their summer home this evening.

The St. John Presbyterian church Sunday school will hold their picnic at Westfield Beach on Thursday next.

A meeting of the St. John Presbytery will take place shortly to discuss the resignation of Rev. E. A. Wicher.

The schooner Ravola, now at Munroe Point, C. E., has been chartered to load laths at Richibucto for the Sound or New York at private terms.

Miss Letta Heydendall, of Washington, is enjoying an outing today at Spruce Lake. The party left in two buckboards about nine o'clock this morning.

If the weather should prove favorable a tennis test will be held tomorrow afternoon. It will be in charge of Mrs. Percy Thomson, Miss Avis Armstrong and Miss Trueman.

A number of West End people are to be brought in the police court next Monday, as they have not followed the regulations of the Board of Health in keeping their premises clean.

Quite a sharp advance has taken place in raw beet sugar in London, prices having recently advanced from 10s. 10d. per hundred to 11s., equal to about 1-4 cent increase per lb.

The Sunday school of the Silver Falls Methodist church will hold their annual picnic tomorrow (Wednesday) on the grounds of the Log Cabin Fishing club, Loch Lomond, the directors of the club having kindly given the exclusive privilege for that day.

Another monster trout has been taken from the river last night. It weighed 4 1/2 pounds. It was on show today in Scribner's window on King Square.

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of the Misses Jones, corner of Queen and Bonaventure streets, Moncton, when their niece, Miss Jennie Voneta Jones, daughter of the late Joe Jones, was united in marriage to Geo. H. Perry, of Oldtown, Me.

Secretary Charles Drinkwater, of the C. P. R., arrived in the city this morning in a private car attached to the Atlantic express, en route to P. E. I. Mr. Drinkwater was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. H. P. Timmerman, former chief superintendent of the Atlantic division, and Dr. Graham, of Montreal. His family will spend the summer on the island.

ALL READY AT MOOSEPATH.

The light rain and fog of the past two days has saved the management of the Moosepath Park the trouble of hiring or borrowing a city water cart to put the track in the best possible condition for tomorrow's and the next day's races.

A. H. Merrill, a celebrated starter, who has officiated at some of the big meet meets on the American turf, will arrive this evening and will give the word "go" when the horses pass under the wire in line. All the horses entered are at the track, Misses arriving this morning. Two good days racing is assured.

SMALLPOX VESSEL RELEASED.

A meeting of the Board of Health was held this morning at which the matter of the schooner Winnie Lawry was brought up. The board decided to release the boat with quarantine, and the crew, with the exception of the captain, who will be detained, as he has not lately undergone a successful vaccination.

ENGINEER PAID FOR HIS MISTAKE WITH HIS LIFE.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 18.—By the wreck of a freight car in the East Rochester yards of the New York Central this morning, Engineer James Clark, of Dewitt, was fatally injured and died in the hospital a short time later. Fireman Febsy, of Buffalo, was scalded and a passenger, George White, a negro, was slightly bruised and injured.

THIS EVENING.

Meeting of N. B. Medical Society. 7 o'clock at Seaside Park.
Meeting of Seals Co. Boys' Brigade.
Meeting of Court La Tour, I. O. F.
Regular meeting of Teamsters' Union.

PILOTS' EVIDENCE QUESTIONED

Col. McLean, in Case Against Pilots' Commissioners Makes Serious Charges Against Defendant Witnesses.

Before Judge McLeod today the argument was concluded in the case of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company against the Saint John Pilot Commissioners. This was an action brought to recover back pilotage which the plaintiffs claim was illegally exacted on coal barges.

It was contended by Mr. Skinner, K. C., that the payment in this case was a voluntary payment and therefore could not be recovered back.

McLean argued that the payment was exacted under what is called "color of office" and that all such payments are considered by the courts not to be voluntary payments but payments that can be recovered back in an action for money had and received.

He cited a number of English cases in support of this contention. He also argued that on the facts of the case as proved the payment was a compulsory one.

Mr. Troop, as chairman of the Pilot Commissioners had in 1833 insisted on the payment of pilotage fees and had written to the Department that these coal barges were to be secured the enforcement; that notwithstanding Mr. Likely's protest at that time both written and verbal payment of pilotage fees was collected by the coal barges; that after the case of the "Grande" pilotage was still enforced.

The learned judge, after a long and careful consideration of the evidence given by the plaintiffs and the defendant witnesses called for the plaintiffs had testified that it would be practically impossible to navigate these barges and that they would have to be towed from port to port; that constructed as they were with the masts and small sails they could not be navigated and could not tack.

He criticized very severely the evidence given by some of the pilots especially Pilot Trainor, Pilot Spears and Pilot Miller that these barges were used as a stricture for the purpose of mutton sails and with only 350 yards of canvas could be safely and practically navigated from port to port and that they would undertake to take them around the world. He referred to the evidence given by the other pilots and to the contrary evidence given in this respect by Trainor and Spears and Miller and characterized the evidence given by these pilots as an attempt to deceive the court and to make the court believe that these barges rigged as they are were properly rigged for sailing purposes.

Judgment was reserved.

PILOTAGE FEES QUESTIONED

Col. McLean, in Case Against Pilots' Commissioners Makes Serious Charges Against Defendant Witnesses.

Before Judge McLeod today the argument was concluded in the case of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company against the Saint John Pilot Commissioners. This was an action brought to recover back pilotage which the plaintiffs claim was illegally exacted on coal barges.

It was contended by Mr. Skinner, K. C., that the payment in this case was a voluntary payment and therefore could not be recovered back.

McLean argued that the payment was exacted under what is called "color of office" and that all such payments are considered by the courts not to be voluntary payments but payments that can be recovered back in an action for money had and received.

He cited a number of English cases in support of this contention. He also argued that on the facts of the case as proved the payment was a compulsory one.

Mr. Troop, as chairman of the Pilot Commissioners had in 1833 insisted on the payment of pilotage fees and had written to the Department that these coal barges were to be secured the enforcement; that notwithstanding Mr. Likely's protest at that time both written and verbal payment of pilotage fees was collected by the coal barges; that after the case of the "Grande" pilotage was still enforced.

The learned judge, after a long and careful consideration of the evidence given by the plaintiffs and the defendant witnesses called for the plaintiffs had testified that it would be practically impossible to navigate these barges and that they would have to be towed from port to port; that constructed as they were with the masts and small sails they could not be navigated and could not tack.

He criticized very severely the evidence given by some of the pilots especially Pilot Trainor, Pilot Spears and Pilot Miller that these barges were used as a stricture for the purpose of mutton sails and with only 350 yards of canvas could be safely and practically navigated from port to port and that they would undertake to take them around the world. He referred to the evidence given by the other pilots and to the contrary evidence given in this respect by Trainor and Spears and Miller and characterized the evidence given by these pilots as an attempt to deceive the court and to make the court believe that these barges rigged as they are were properly rigged for sailing purposes.

Judgment was reserved.

PILOTAGE FEES QUESTIONED

Col. McLean, in Case Against Pilots' Commissioners Makes Serious Charges Against Defendant Witnesses.

Before Judge McLeod today the argument was concluded in the case of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company against the Saint John Pilot Commissioners. This was an action brought to recover back pilotage which the plaintiffs claim was illegally exacted on coal barges.

It was contended by Mr. Skinner, K. C., that the payment in this case was a voluntary payment and therefore could not be recovered back.

McLean argued that the payment was exacted under what is called "color of office" and that all such payments are considered by the courts not to be voluntary payments but payments that can be recovered back in an action for money had and received.

He cited a number of English cases in support of this contention. He also argued that on the facts of the case as proved the payment was a compulsory one.

Mr. Troop, as chairman of the Pilot Commissioners had in 1833 insisted on the payment of pilotage fees and had written to the Department that these coal barges were to be secured the enforcement; that notwithstanding Mr. Likely's protest at that time both written and verbal payment of pilotage fees was collected by the coal barges; that after the case of the "Grande" pilotage was still enforced.

The learned judge, after a long and careful consideration of the evidence given by the plaintiffs and the defendant witnesses called for the plaintiffs had testified that it would be practically impossible to navigate these barges and that they would have to be towed from port to port; that constructed as they were with the masts and small sails they could not be navigated and could not tack.

He criticized very severely the evidence given by some of the pilots especially Pilot Trainor, Pilot Spears and Pilot Miller that these barges were used as a stricture for the purpose of mutton sails and with only 350 yards of canvas could be safely and practically navigated from port to port and that they would undertake to take them around the world. He referred to the evidence given by the other pilots and to the contrary evidence given in this respect by Trainor and Spears and Miller and characterized the evidence given by these pilots as an attempt to deceive the court and to make the court believe that these barges rigged as they are were properly rigged for sailing purposes.

Judgment was reserved.

PILOTAGE FEES QUESTIONED

Col. McLean, in Case Against Pilots' Commissioners Makes Serious Charges Against Defendant Witnesses.

Before Judge McLeod today the argument was concluded in the case of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company against the Saint John Pilot Commissioners. This was an action brought to recover back pilotage which the plaintiffs claim was illegally exacted on coal barges.

It was contended by Mr. Skinner, K. C., that the payment in this case was a voluntary payment and therefore could not be recovered back.

McLean argued that the payment was exacted under what is called "color of office" and that all such payments are considered by the courts not to be voluntary payments but payments that can be recovered back in an action for money had and received.

He cited a number of English cases in support of this contention. He also argued that on the facts of the case as proved the payment was a compulsory one.

Mr. Troop, as chairman of the Pilot Commissioners had in 1833 insisted on the payment of pilotage fees and had written to the Department that these coal barges were to be secured the enforcement; that notwithstanding Mr. Likely's protest at that time both written and verbal payment of pilotage fees was collected by the coal barges; that after the case of the "Grande" pilotage was still enforced.

The learned judge, after a long and careful consideration of the evidence given by the plaintiffs and the defendant witnesses called for the plaintiffs had testified that it would be practically impossible to navigate these barges and that they would have to be towed from port to port; that constructed as they were with the masts and small sails they could not be navigated and could not tack.

He criticized very severely the evidence given by some of the pilots especially Pilot Trainor, Pilot Spears and Pilot Miller that these barges were used as a stricture for the purpose of mutton sails and with only 350 yards of canvas could be safely and practically navigated from port to port and that they would undertake to take them around the world. He referred to the evidence given by the other pilots and to the contrary evidence given in this respect by Trainor and Spears and Miller and characterized the evidence given by these pilots as an attempt to deceive the court and to make the court believe that these barges rigged as they are were properly rigged for sailing purposes.

Judgment was reserved.

PILOTAGE FEES QUESTIONED

Col. McLean, in Case Against Pilots' Commissioners Makes Serious Charges Against Defendant Witnesses.

Before Judge McLeod today the argument was concluded in the case of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company against the Saint John Pilot Commissioners. This was an action brought to recover back pilotage which the plaintiffs claim was illegally exacted on coal barges.

It was contended by Mr. Skinner, K. C., that the payment in this case was a voluntary payment and therefore could not be recovered back.

McLean argued that the payment was exacted under what is called "color of office" and that all such payments are considered by the courts not to be voluntary payments but payments that can be recovered back in an action for money had and received.

He cited a number of English cases in support of this contention. He also argued that on the facts of the case as proved the payment was a compulsory one.

Mr. Troop, as chairman of the Pilot Commissioners had in 1833 insisted on the payment of pilotage fees and had written to the Department that these coal barges were to be secured the enforcement; that notwithstanding Mr. Likely's protest at that time both written and verbal payment of pilotage fees was collected by the coal barges; that after the case of the "Grande" pilotage was still enforced.

The learned judge, after a long and careful consideration of the evidence given by the plaintiffs and the defendant witnesses called for the plaintiffs had testified that it would be practically impossible to navigate these barges and that they would have to be towed from port to port; that constructed as they were with the masts and small sails they could not be navigated and could not tack.

He criticized very severely the evidence given by some of the pilots especially Pilot Trainor, Pilot Spears and Pilot Miller that these barges were used as a stricture for the purpose of mutton sails and with only 350 yards of canvas could be safely and practically navigated from port to port and that they would undertake to take them around the world. He referred to the evidence given by the other pilots and to the contrary evidence given in this respect by Trainor and Spears and Miller and characterized the evidence given by these pilots as an attempt to deceive the court and to make the court believe that these barges rigged as they are were properly rigged for sailing purposes.

Judgment was reserved.

PILOTAGE FEES QUESTIONED

Col. McLean, in Case Against Pilots' Commissioners Makes Serious Charges Against Defendant Witnesses.

Before Judge McLeod today the argument was concluded in the case of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company against the Saint John Pilot Commissioners. This was an action brought to recover back pilotage which the plaintiffs claim was illegally exacted on coal barges.

It was contended by Mr. Skinner, K. C., that the payment in this case was a voluntary payment and therefore could not be recovered back.

McLean argued that the payment was exacted under what is called "color of office" and that all such payments are considered by the courts not to be voluntary payments but payments that can be recovered back in an action for money had and received.

He cited a number of English cases in support of this contention. He also argued that on the facts of the case as proved the payment was a compulsory one.

Mr. Troop, as chairman of the Pilot Commissioners had in 1833 insisted on the payment of pilotage fees and had written to the Department that these coal barges were to be secured the enforcement; that notwithstanding Mr. Likely's protest at that time both written and verbal payment of pilotage fees was collected by the coal barges; that after the case of the "Grande" pilotage was still enforced.

The learned judge, after a long and careful consideration of the evidence given by the plaintiffs and the defendant witnesses called for the plaintiffs had testified that it would be practically impossible to navigate these barges and that they would have to be towed from port to port; that constructed as they were with the masts and small sails they could not be navigated and could not tack.

He criticized very severely the evidence given by some of the pilots especially Pilot Trainor, Pilot Spears and Pilot Miller that these barges were used as a stricture for the purpose of mutton sails and with only 350 yards of canvas could be safely and practically navigated from port to port and that they would undertake to take them around the world. He referred to the evidence given by the other pilots and to the contrary evidence given in this respect by Trainor and Spears and Miller and characterized the evidence given by these pilots as an attempt to deceive the court and to make the court believe that these barges rigged as they are were properly rigged for sailing purposes.

Judgment was reserved.

PILOTAGE FEES QUESTIONED

Col. McLean, in Case Against Pilots' Commissioners Makes Serious Charges Against Defendant Witnesses.

Before Judge McLeod today the argument was concluded in the case of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company against the Saint John Pilot Commissioners. This was an action brought to recover back pilotage which the plaintiffs claim was illegally exacted on coal barges.

It was contended by Mr. Skinner, K. C., that the payment in this case was a voluntary payment and therefore could not be recovered back.

McLean argued that the payment was exacted under what is called "color of office" and that all such payments are considered by the courts not to be voluntary payments but payments that can be recovered back in an action for money had and received.

He cited a number of English cases in support of this contention. He also argued that on the facts of the case as proved the payment was a compulsory one.

Mr. Troop, as chairman of the Pilot Commissioners had in 1833 insisted on the payment of pilotage fees and had written to the Department that these coal barges were to be secured the enforcement; that notwithstanding Mr. Likely's protest at that time both written and verbal payment of pilotage fees was collected by the coal barges; that after the case of the "Grande" pilotage was still enforced.

The learned judge, after a long and careful consideration of the evidence given by the plaintiffs and the defendant witnesses called for the plaintiffs had testified that it would be practically impossible to navigate these barges and that they would have to be towed from port to port; that constructed as they were with the masts and small sails they could not be navigated and could not tack.

He criticized very severely the evidence given by some of the pilots especially Pilot Trainor, Pilot Spears and Pilot Miller that these barges were used as a stricture for the purpose of mutton sails and with only 350 yards of canvas could be safely and practically navigated from port to port and that they would undertake to take them around the world. He referred to the evidence given by the other pilots and to the contrary evidence given in this respect by Trainor and Spears and Miller and characterized the evidence given by these pilots as an attempt to deceive the court and to make the court believe that these barges rigged as they are were properly rigged for sailing purposes.

Judgment was reserved.

PILOTAGE FEES QUESTIONED

Col. McLean, in Case Against Pilots' Commissioners Makes Serious Charges Against Defendant Witnesses.

Before Judge McLeod today the argument was concluded in the case of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company against the Saint John Pilot Commissioners. This was an action brought to recover back pilotage which the plaintiffs claim was illegally exacted on coal barges.

It was contended by Mr. Skinner, K. C., that the payment in this case was a voluntary payment and therefore could not be recovered back.

McLean argued that the payment was exacted under what is called "color of office" and that all such payments are considered by the courts not to be voluntary payments but payments that can be recovered back in an action for money had and received.

He cited a number of English cases in support of this contention. He also argued that on the facts of the case as proved the payment was a compulsory one.

Mr. Troop, as chairman of the Pilot Commissioners had in 1833 insisted on the payment of pilotage fees and had written to the Department that these coal barges were to be secured the enforcement; that notwithstanding Mr. Likely's protest at that time both written and verbal payment of pilotage fees was collected by the coal barges; that after the case of the "Grande" pilotage was still enforced.

The learned judge, after a long and careful consideration of the evidence given by the plaintiffs and the defendant witnesses called for the plaintiffs had testified that it would be practically impossible to navigate these barges and that they would have to be towed from port to port; that constructed as they were with the masts and small sails they could not be navigated and could not tack.

He criticized very severely the evidence given by some of the pilots especially Pilot Trainor, Pilot Spears and Pilot Miller that these barges were used as a stricture for the purpose of mutton sails and with only 350 yards of canvas could be safely and practically navigated from port to port and that they would undertake to take them around the world. He referred to the evidence given by the other pilots and to the contrary evidence given in this respect by Trainor and Spears and Miller and characterized the evidence given by these pilots as an attempt to deceive the court and to make the court believe that these barges rigged as they are were properly rigged for sailing purposes.

Judgment was reserved.

LATE PERSONALS

Mrs. Fred Moore of Fairville arrived home from the country yesterday.

W. Frank Hatheway, head of the Tighe-ton, house, one of St. John's brightest men of business and a leader in literary and political circles, visited Chatham on Wednesday. He went out on the Oriana in the afternoon, being a yachtsman of experience, and had a good sail—Chatham World.

Mrs. Arnold Martineau will be at home to her friends on Wednesday, 19th inst., afternoon and evening, at corner Queen and Ludlow streets, west end.

J. W. Carruthers, druggist, of Montague, leaves Monday morning for St. John, N. B., to take a special two weeks' course in optics. During his absence George MacDonald of Summerside will have charge of his business—Guardian.

Mrs. Hazen Taylor will receive her friends on Tuesday afternoon and evening, 21st inst., at the residence of O. S. Dykeman, No. 1 Camden street. J. Murray Kay of Boston left last evening for the Bonaventure River salmon fishing.

At his Sunday school picnic at Halifax Friday last, Rev. H. F. Waring fell and struck his head against a pile of stones. Several stitches were required to close the wound.

Dr. Nugent, of Bridge corner, arrived in the city yesterday to attend the N. B. Medical Society's annual session.

Mrs. Daniel Monahan and her daughter, Mrs. Roderick Doherty, left on the steamer Calvin Austin Saturday for Boston. Mrs. Monahan will spend a short vacation with her daughter, Mrs. Doherty, in Cambridge, Mass.

Mrs. (Dr.) Carter and Miss Bertha M. Carter, of King street West, returned at the end of the week from Fredericton.

Irving Scott, amateur fencing champion of the United States, is in the city, staying at the Royal Hotel.

Mrs. W. R. Burns and Miss Burns left today for Montreal.

Mrs. E. A. Kincaid, Mrs. Lee, will receive her friends Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings, July 20th and 21st, at 441 Main street.

Miss Georgia L. Brown, of 41 British street, has gone to spend a part of her vacation across the bay, the guest of Miss E. Frost.

Miss Helen Fotheringham, daughter of Rev. Dr. Fotheringham, is visiting in Sussex.

C. Lee arrived this morning from Boston.

Mrs. Harrington, of Philadelphia, is visiting Mrs. Wm. Gilchrist.

Miss Letta Heydendall, of Washington, D. C., Master Chapman Calkin and Master Fleming Calkin, of Franklin, Mass., are the guests of their cousin, Mrs. E. N. Allingham, 28 Charles street.

Rev. Father Carson, of St. George's, was in the city today.

Miss Clare Hamilton, of Halifax, is visiting Mrs. F. C. Brock, Rothesay.

Miss Letta Heydendall, of Washington, D. C., Master Chapman Calkin and Master Fleming Calkin, of Franklin, Mass., are the guests of their cousin, Mrs. E. N. Allingham, 28 Charles street.

Rev. Father Carson, of St. George's, was in the city today.

Miss Clare Hamilton, of Halifax, is visiting Mrs. F. C. Brock, Rothesay.

Miss Letta Heydendall, of Washington, D. C., Master Chapman Calkin and Master Fleming Calkin, of Franklin, Mass., are the guests of their cousin, Mrs. E. N. Allingham, 28 Charles street.

Rev. Father Carson, of St. George's, was in the city today.