

DANGER FOR CHILDREN ON THE STREETS

Rev. W. H. Barraclough in Powerful Sermon Warns Parents.

ADVOCATES SYSTEM FOR PROTECTION

"The Street as an Educational Force" Subject of Powerful Address in Centenary Church.

Advocating a system to protect the boys and girls of this city from going wrong, appealing to the parents to care for their children in a proper manner, Rev. W. H. Barraclough in his sermon on "The Street as an Educational Force," before a large congregation in Centenary church last evening, dealt with the traps and pitfalls that beset the feet of the wayward and unwary and urged upon the congregation the vital necessity of improving the present condition.

In opening his address Rev. Mr. Barraclough said there were two influences at work on the street today, namely, folly and wisdom; folly led to vice and sin, and wisdom to modesty and dignity. Wisdom in the streets means the use of common sense, good judgment and experience. The streets were the gathering places of the poor, not of the rich, and in this connection the injustice of the "move on" of the police was plainly seen. Move on where? asked Rev. Mr. Barraclough, to the bars and places of vice? Many young men and women owe their downfall to the fact that there was no place to go.

"The church must open its door to those who have no place to go and by that," said the speaker, "I do not mean the actual doors of Centenary church, or any other building of its kind, but the hearts of the members must be opened to them, not only to take the lonely into the church brotherhood, but into their homes as well. When this fact is more generally realized by the Church of Christ, the number of those falling into sin will be materially lessened."

When speaking of the so-called street walkers, Rev. Mr. Barraclough pointed to the fact that "on the street," meant out of home, resulting in misery and shame. The street had many temptations and the exposure "dragged into the mire of the street" was commonly heard.

At present there was no hand to guide the feet of the erring, and the influence of the crowd. The influence of the crowd, said Rev. Mr. Barraclough, meant loss of the sense of responsibility, of the sense of property and the sense of shame. Many liberties were taken in a crowd that would never be taken in a small circle, and the sense of responsibility on the street as their influence was bad.

The very appearance of the streets makes for vice or goodness, according to their condition. An air of carelessness about the streets is dangerous.

In conclusion the speaker complimented this city on the condition of the squares and many of the streets. Some of the streets, however, were not what they should be. The squares should be removed and flowers planted, and this combined with the efforts of an agent would do much to improve conditions, not only in St. John, but in any city.

The sermon was listened to with keen attention by the large congregation present.

Tactful Remark.

Mrs. Pateleigh, a lady who did not believe her name, got thirty during a social entertainment, and smilingly mentioned the fact to a group of young men standing near her chair. There was a rush to supply her want, and the young man who reached her first with a glass of water she complimented on his quickness.

"Oh, that's nothing," he replied brightly, "I am used to it. I got into some a stream and managed when I was a boy by carrying water to the stream."

Unable Longer to Withstand the Attack of The Rebels, The Federal Army Gives Up Ojinaga

BEST UNDERTAKING OF THE STOCK COMPANY

Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford at the Opera House Tonight.

The George Randolph Chester series of popular stories entitled "GET-RICH-QUICK WALLINGFORD" done into play form by Geo. M. Cohan was perhaps one of the biggest laughing hits that New York has had in a number of years. It was also highly successful in the other large cities but the production was too heavy and cost too much to play the intermediate towns, therefore, the smaller cities have been deprived of seeing one of the most popular plays of recent years.

The Thompson-Woods Stock Company have gone to extra pains and expense to give this play a superb mounting and a perfect production. The popular idea of J. Rufus Wallingford is that of a middle-aged man of generous proportions but in order to lend something of a romantic tinge to the play it was necessary to picture Wallingford as a young man. The present play was built around the carpet track story which was one of the first and most humorous of the Wallingford series.

Wallingford and his pal, "Blackie" Daw, attempt to float a wild cat scheme and suddenly discover that the scheme has merit and are dumbfounded to find that they have not only made a fortune, but made it legitimately. A potent factor in causing them to be something more than schemers is their love for two of the village belles with whom they came in contact.

Sam Meharry will play the part of Wallingford and Mr. Drummond will be "Blackie" Daw. Miss Brandt will have the part of the bright stenographer, Fanny Jasper.

Wallingford will be one of the biggest productions attempted by the Stock Company this season.

Kicked Window In.

About five o'clock Saturday afternoon a rude disturber of the peace made his appearance on the north side of King Square when Edward Hunter, slightly overcome with toils and apparently tired of the outside which prevailed, turned Gardner's Corner and calmly planted his foot through a large plate glass window in the shop of Edward F. Watson. Then he simply walked up to the storekeeper, confessed to breaking the glass, and after the arrival of Police Officer Anderson he marched quietly up to central station, evidently quite satisfied with himself. On the police books he is charged with being drunk and deliberately breaking the glass.

FEDERAL ARTILLERYMEN DEFENDING OJINAGA FROM REBEL ASSAULT.

Some of them are men upon whom Huerta depended to maintain his military power in the north. Defeat of the federal army at this point marks the most important rebel victory of the present revolution. It leaves the rebels in possession practically of all the north of Mexico.

Mercedo, Castro and Landa were the only remaining commanders of the federal regulars. The other generals commanded volunteers and had been threatened by Villa with death should they be captured.

After his picturesque flight from Chihuahua, Mercedo elected to make the last desperate stand on this little hilltop of Ojinaga, in an obscure border village, sixty-seven miles from any railroad, and that in the United States.

He said he would never give up unless his men ran short of ammunition. He kept his words. For six days, ending last Sunday, he had fought pluckily against odds. The rebels fired more than 1,000 rounds into the federal trenches without avail. It was not until Villa's military head of the revolution, but once a bandit, appeared on the scene, that the reverse came for the federals.

Refuge Under Foreign Flag.

None of the wiser scenes in the month of Villa's movement, he was pouring into Ojinaga and the federals were rushing about in disorder more intensely pathetic than the refugees under foreign flag.

ADDITION TO NUMBER OF SUPREME COURT JUDGES IN ALBERTA

Three to be Named in Accordance with New Legislation—Former P. E. Islander is Mentioned.

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—An order in council of the Alberta government has been issued putting into effect legislation passed the last session creating three new supreme court judgeships. For these vacancies the names of J. D. Hyndman, Edmonton; M. S. McCarthy, Calgary, and W. B. Ives, Lethbridge, are most prominently mentioned.

J. D. Hyndman comes from P. E. I., and has been practicing his profession in Edmonton about ten years. He was Conservative candidate for the commons for Edmonton in 1912. M. S. McCarthy represented Calgary in the House of Commons from 1904 to 1911. W. B. Ives is a son of the late W. Bullock Ives, who was a member of Sir John Abbott's government. Mr. Ives has been Conservative candidate for Lethbridge on two occasions.

General Mercedo was taken at once to Major McNamee, the commander of the United States forces, who held him pending orders from Brig. General Bliss.

A report received late last night by Major McNamee of the United States army was that he would have to care for about 3,000 federals and 1,000 more women and children who had crossed the border a few hours earlier. Hundreds started on the road to Marfa, Texas, but some were brought back by cavalrymen. Two hundred wounded were in the Red Cross hospital.

It was learned that when he had decided to give up to General Villa's rebel forces, General Mercedo, the federal leader, himself went through the village telling soldiers and civilians to flee to the United States. This provoked something of a panic rush for the river, and in mad disorder a mob plunged into the river. Soldiers toppled over women and children, but all reached the American side in safety. General Mercedo remained in the garrison until he saw that all who had been found had left. He came across with the rear.

HEART WAS SO BAD Could Not Do Her Housework

Many women get run down and are unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung. Do all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. Thomas Melville, Saltcoats, Sask., writes:—"I thought it my duty to write and tell you how much my Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. My heart was so bad I could not sleep, eat nor walk about the house. I could not do my housework at all, and what my husband could not do to go undone. I had two small children depending on me besides three men to cook for, and it worried me to not be able to do anything. My husband had taken some of your pills some years ago, and insisted on me trying them, so I started, and before I had taken them two weeks I was considerably better, and before I had taken two boxes I was doing my own work again. Any one suffering from heart or nerve trouble should just give you pills a trial. If anyone cares to write me I will gladly give them all the information I know concerning your wonderful medicine."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or three boxes for $1.25 at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SAYS PANAMA TOLLS QUESTION SHOULD GO TO ARBITRATION

Hon. Sam. Elder Believes Great Britain is Wrong in Matter, But Favors Arbitrating Just the Same.

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—Hon. Samuel J. Elder of Boston, who was one of the United States counsel in the North Atlantic fisheries case, addressed the Ottawa Canadian Club Saturday on the question of the Panama Canal tolls, ably presenting the case from the viewpoint of his country that Great Britain is wrong in her contention that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was being abrogated in the proposal that the United States charge no tolls on American coastwise vessels. However, he emphatically urged that the matter be settled by arbitration, as the principle, he said, was more important than the tolls.

"I thoroughly and heartily believe," he said, "that if the British foreign office desires it, the United States ought to arbitrate the interpretation of this treaty. I have no patience with any one of the excuses or explanations, possibly technically sound, against arbitration. People say 'we must arbitrate before a prejudiced court,' and 'that every other nation is interested in having a decision against us.' Well, if we have bound ourselves to do that, we have got to do it, even if we lose."

General Villa hunted for nearly twenty years as a bandit, is now the undisputed military leader of northern Mexico. He joined Madero's revolution, and was mustered out at the close of that campaign. Six months ago he joined the constitutional movement, his only weapon being a borrowed revolver, and now he threatens to take Torreon and march on to Mexico City, to depose Huerta.

DOMINION COAL COMPANY Tower, at West St. John, Stopped by Workman's Coat.

The heavy wind of the early part of last week was the cause of giving the men, unemployed by the Dominion Coal Company at West St. John, a severe shock. One morning while the tower used for loading cars from scows and barges was in operation, the heavy wind started it from its position at the head of the wharf, and it was only a few feet from the end of the pier when a coat that was lying on the rail stopped its progress.

The big tower is built on wheels and may be moved up and down the wharf in order to more expeditiously reach the holds of the vessels in the slip. The heavy wind caught the tower and since that time the tower has been securely tethered when not being moved.

The officials of the company here, it is understood, have been under the impression that the tower was secured in place, and were quite surprised when they heard of it running before the wind.
