Editorial Comment.

Do you know that Professor Campbell said, speaking of the Cardston District, "You have the cream of the whole country and don't know it." Maybe we don't "know it" but anyhow just watch us skim one of the largest and best grain crops ever gathered. Some people "don't know it" but the people who are fortunate enough to come along just now must surely know it.

Here's to the health and long life and success and happiness of our new Customs Officer. His name? Why didn't you know that it was the original and comely, E. N. Barker. Yes that's the fellow. Mr. Shaw has been promoted to take the General Post at Lethbridge and the Sub Port here has been turned over to E. N. Barker. Now we know why he was so anxious to catch that train at Raymond that he got left. He will probably attend to the "duty" of the A. R. and I. in a very rigid manner. There is only one great big regret that the Cardston people and the people of Southern Alberta will have in this promotion and that is the fact that one of the best and most capable publicity men will be taken from public life. The Council will lose an efficient and faithful member while the Board of Trade and the Farmer's Association will lose a thorough and aggressive secretary. Cardston will be the heaviest loser in the deal but Cardston's loss will be Barker's gain for men of his calibre and integrity are very seldom compensated for the work they do for the people and the district—it's mostly a labor of love and more love—but no chink.

Some good people imagine that they get a fair view of Cardston District and her products from the Railway Car. This is not so in any degree. The best grain in this district is not to be seen from the railway. Take east of the St. Mary's River and south of Cardston and you begin to see the Cardston District. Our friends should not pass judgment on what they see from the cars although we are free to confess that what they do see from the cars between Magrath and Cardston cannot be excelled anywhere along the line, still we have much better grain than that—grain that will yield under normal conditions, 50 bushels to the acre. This is not exaggeration. Remember also that the grain we speak of is not under irrigation and also set it down in your note book that there is not a spear of grain or other field products irrigated in the Cardston district. So many people inquire as they look over the fields of grain, "Has this been irrigated?" One intelligent glance over the country would convince anyone that it would be impossible to irrigate in this district.

Unknown Friends.

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with splendid results, but who are unknown because they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are none the less friends of this remedy. They have done much toward making it a household word by their personal recommendations to friends and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the home and is widely known for its cures of diarrhoea and all forms of bowel trouble. For sale by all druggists and dealers.
