Re Summing up.

Neither the Prosecution or the Defence felt it necessary to Sum up after the trial. Both stating that the facts were fairly simple and fresh in the minds of the Court. Also that the evidences was very contradictory and many times and incidents were irreconcilable. Both suggested it was purely a question of Credibility and our decision would be absolutely dependant on whom we believed.

R. J. Thellow Capt.
Presidents