VERDICT IS EXPECTED FROM JURY TO-MORROW

Famous Fight for Scott's Millions is Drawing to a Close—Sir Edward Carson Upholds Validity of the Will—Has Been Very Interesting Case.

LONDON, July 7.—The jury which for eight days has been hearing the case to break the will made by the late John Murray Scott, by which he left £500,000 to Lady Sackville, to-day sustained the will. They found no evidence of fraud on the part of Lady Sackville. Sir Edward Carson declared that Sir John Scott could have changed his will at any time twelve years before his death in favor of the Sackvilles, at any time he had wished to do so. The only hope of the plaintiffs, the members of the Scott family, was, he said, in the magnifying and exaggerating the trivial quarrels of a long friendship to the appearance of something important. The charges were true, continued Sir Edward, the Sackvilles would be disgraced in society. They were charged both with a crime against the estate of an individual, who was leaving his property, and with a species of injury to the relatives to whom he might have left it. Frederick E. Smith, counsel for the plaintiffs, said the jury had the choice of two views of the case. "One is Lady Sackville's own view expressed by her will, that she would have liked Sir John just as much if he had not a penny, and the other view is that she followed up this chance acquaintance in order to get his wealth and to obtain as large a portion of it as possible for herself and her family." Sir John Scott, said Attorney Smith, a man easily influenced. He was physically weak and constitutionally incapable of asserting himself or of using a scene or a quarrel. Hence he gave way to Lady Sackville, because she was alarmed and dominated by her temper. He continued: "In all your experience of life you have never encountered a more arrogant and dominating personality than Lady Sackville. In cross-examination she showed an extraordinary and uncanny cleverness in dealing with every phase of this case."

LONDON, July 7.—Lady Sackville, the person mostly interested in the outcome of the fight for the millions, was not present in court when the concluding stage of the case opened to-day. It was stated that she felt the need of rest after her long journey from the witness stand last week. When Sir Samuel Thomas Evans, the presiding judge, took his seat for the eighth day's hearing of the action by relatives of the late Sir John Murray Scott to plead the invalidity on account of alleged undue influence of the will by which he left nearly £500,000 to Lady Sackville, the court was again crowded with representatives of aristocratic families. Sir Edward Carson at once began to address the jury on behalf of Lord and Lady Sackville, upholding the validity of the testator's will. The verdict is expected to be delivered to-morrow.

Two Killed

In Rear End Collision of Roller Coaster Cars At Park.

LONDON, July 7.—Two men were killed and twenty and thirty persons were injured in a rear-end collision of two trains last night on a roller coaster at Palisades Park near New Jersey, across the Hudson River from uptown New York. Arthur Olson and Frank Lechler, two men who were being carried from the wreckage of the two trains on the coaster. Of the injured, two are not expected to live many hours, while a score are suffering from broken bones and internal injuries.

The accident occurred after the first train of two cars had ascended the first incline and descended to the dip beyond, where it was cradled when the electric-propelled cable failed, to carry it up the next slope. The second train of two cars meanwhile reached the top of the first incline, and dashed down the dip into the first train. The occupants of the two trains were thrown from their seats on to the wooden structure fifteen feet above the ground, to which many fell.

BOY LIVED FOUR DAYS ON BERRIES

Lost in the Wilderness Near Gravenhurst—A Remarkable Incident.

Gravenhurst, Ont., July 7.—A most remarkable incident occurred in the wilderness near Gravenhurst, Ont., on Monday morning, June 30, a little lad, scarcely ten years old, wandered into the wilderness and had been wandering about for four days and four nights. Search parties were organized and the neighborhood thoroughly searched. For the last two days it was expected that he had perished in the swamps or drowned in the lakes, and that probably even his body would never be recovered. Friday morning a large party was organized and search was made in the vicinity of Leg Lake. The boy, Meyers, by name, was found along the shore of the lake, his clothing off and carried on a stick. He was wandering about quite unconcerned, and stated upon inquiry that he had berries to eat. The town is quite joyous this morning over the recovery, none the worse for his experience—four full days and nights in the wilderness with a most ample diet of rain storms. His body was scratched quite badly by the briars and other undergrowth.

From Boatwain to Lieutenant, R. N. The promotion of Chief Signal Boatwain Thomas Graham to the rank of lieutenant, dated June 2, was gazetted on Tuesday.

HER CURIOSITY GOT THE JEWELS

Famous New York Robbery Cleared up by Inquisitive Woman.

[Canadian Press Despatch] LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 7.—It was a woman's curiosity that led to the recovery yesterday of most of the $50,000 worth of jewels which were stolen on the evening of July 2 from the home here of Harry L. Haas, a New York lawyer. It is learned that the arrest of James McIntyre and R. Rhind, in Greenwich Conn., yesterday, as the alleged principals in the robbery, and the result of detective work on the part of Mrs. Eugene Scott, in whose home Greenwich, Conn., McIntyre visited Rhind and the lady's curiosity was such that she listened while the men were talking in Rhind's room, led to the police, the disposition of some jewels.

GERMAN EMPEROR AMUSED BY CARTOONS OF HIMSELF

Wilhelm Enjoys the Funny Pictures and Keeps Them.

BERLIN, July 7.—The impression generally prevailing in Germany that Emperor Wilhelm becomes incensed every time he sees himself caricatured is quite erroneous. It is in the class of popular misconceptions concerning the German Emperor, and has no foundation in fact. On the contrary, Emperor Wilhelm finds much amusement in these caricatures, and he has made an extensive collection of them, to which he is constantly adding. He makes selections from foreign papers as well as German ones, and has many American cartoons of himself properly indexed and classified. The signatures of the best American caricaturists are about as familiar to him as they are to most American newspaper readers.

THIS WAR'S SLAUGHTER IS HEART BREAKING ONE

Servians and Bulgarians Fight at Point of Bayonet—Eleven Thousand Servians Reported to Have Been Slain—Horrible Sufferings.

LONDON, July 7.—The Belgrade correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says that the losses of both Servians and Bulgarians are heart-breaking. There is reason to believe, however, that the Bulgarians suffered most, because throughout they hurled themselves on the Servian positions in close formation with bayonet, regardless of the sacrifices such primitive methods entailed. "Thus," adds the correspondent, "throughout the 60 mile front there has been for a whole week a series of desperate night attacks with the bayonet, resulting in great slaughter. It is easy to understand that the Servians proved more than a match for their formidable enemy and it is obvious that the Bulgarians underestimated both the valor and skill of their opponents." The correspondent asserts that Isip has been burned, but not occupied by either side owing to its being surrounded by marshes. It thinks a decisive battle will be fought out near Kustendil and around Krivolak. 11,000 Killed. VIENNA, Austria, July 7.—Eleven thousand officers and men of the Servian Timoc division were killed during the battle with the Bulgarians in which it was defeated, according to the Sofia correspondent of The Reichspost. The division consisted of 15,000 men who were surrounded by a Bulgarian army who outflanked them. Only 4,000 of the Servians survived and these were taken prisoners. According to other newspaper reports a Bulgarian column composed of 14,000 troops has succeeded in reaching the Servian town of Vranja and is threatening the line of retreat of the Servian army. The Bulgarians presumably were pushed forward from Egri Palanka.

Charles Gibson Would Have Been Hanged Within 48 Hours.

[Canadian Press Despatch] TORONTO, July 7.—Less than 48 hours before the time set for him to be hanged for the murder of a junk dealer named Rosenthal, over a year ago, official word came to Charles Gibson this morning that the Dominion Cabinet had granted him a three months' respite having changed his date of execution to October 9. In the meantime Gibson's father, his counsel and others who have been foremost in the movement to secure for him a new trial have endeavored to substantiate their belief that new evidence has been secured to warrant such action to the satisfaction of the minister of justice and his colleagues.

PRIEST RISKED HIS LIFE AND SAVED THE HOST

Spectacular Fire in Montreal Destroyed St. Charles Church.

[Canadian Press Despatch] MONTREAL, July 7.—Father Plante, assistant pastor of St. Charles Catholic church, risked his life on Saturday to save the Host from destruction by fire which wiped out his church on Saturday afternoon, causing a loss estimated at $200,000. St. Gabriel's presbytery, immediately adjoining the church, was damaged by the fire which destroyed the St. Charles church. One fireman was injured. It was a fierce blaze and was one of the most spectacular seen in Montreal in years. Three priests, including Father Plante were in the church about five o'clock when they noticed smoke coming from the huge pipe organ. Summoning Remi Decarie, a decorator, they instructed him to sound the alarm while they proceeded to gather up the sacred ornaments. Returning from the fire box Decarie rushed into the church and with superhuman effort amid the smoke and rush of flames, he carried out the statue of the Blessed Virgin, a feat of which he was very proud, and he was complimented by the onlookers. St. Gabriel's presbytery, immediately adjoining the church, was damaged by the fire which destroyed the St. Charles church.

highly esteemed among men, and approved by human standards, are an abomination in the sight of God. Contrariwise, sometimes things disapproved by man are in accord with the Divine Law. God seems to put justice in the very highest place in His estimation of sin, while poor human judgment sometimes gives it a very low place. For instance, some will cry out vigorously and vengefully against immoral dances and petty thievery, who would not hesitate to join in a Trust interest, to deprive thousands of fellow-creatures of their share of the blessings of our day. In the eyes of human judgment, these would be esteemed noble examples; while in the sight of Divine Justice, we believe, they would rank as very vicious and criminal. When ten lepers came to our Lord praying for healing and were granted their request, only one of them returned to thank the Saviour; and Jesus called attention to the fact, who well illustrates the difference between the two classes of the saved. The entire ten lepers would well represent the world of mankind in sin. All would be glad to be relieved of the leprosy of sin and to be holy and happy. But as only one of the ten was so appreciative as to come back and worship the Redeemer and offer Him his services, it represents the fact that only a small proportion of humanity is properly appreciative of the blessing of forgiveness of sins and healing therefrom. The only one who was thankful would well represent the class of sinners who now constitute the true Church, and who, realizing the Divine arrangement for the forgiveness of sins, come thankfully and offer the Lord their little all to be used in His service. The "exceeding great and precious promises" of God's Word are given only to the thankful and consecrated, who have already presented themselves living sacrifices to God. "To you it is given to know the mysteries of the Kingdom." "God hath revealed them unto us by His Spirit," which is granted only to the consecrated. These promises are to strengthen and nerve the consecrated and to enable them to overcome, by fulfillment of their covenant of consecration.
