

Acadia Men From Kings Co., Who Have Enlisted For the Empire.

(Continued from Page Two)

from Canada on June 9, 1915. After spending four weeks at Shorncliffe he was transferred to France. He went into the trenches August 2, and to the front line of trenches on September 24, where he now is "somewhere in France."

Henry Hoyt Pineo, B. A., Acadia 1912, L.L.B., Dalhousie 1914. Waterville, N. S. Enlisted at Amherst in February 1915 as first lieutenant of the 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles. He sailed from Canada on July 16, 1915, and spent three months at Shorncliffe, England. He took a staff course at Napier Barracks, leading his class of 47 men, which gave him a first class field officer's certificate qualifying him for the rank of major. In the final inspection of troops before leaving for France he was congratulated before the regiment by Col. Shaw, on having the finest troop in the regiment. Now on duty "somewhere in France."

Harvey Todd Reid, B. A., Acadia 1912, Rhodes scholar, Trinity college, Oxford, England. Shortly after entering Oxford he joined the King Edward Horse and trained two weeks in July 1913. He was training in July 1914, when he was called back to London. In December, 1914 he joined Kitchener's Army as second lieutenant in the Royal Field Artillery, training at Aldershot. In February and March, 1915, he took an officer's course at Shoeburyness, England, and on May 1, sailed for France. He was promoted to 1st lieutenant. He has been on active service since May 8, and his division took part in the September drive. A particularly interesting and vivid description of this drive from his pen appeared in the Maritime papers.

William Charles Archibald, B. A. Acadia 1913, Wolfville, N. S. Enlisted April, 1914, at Montreal as a member of A. M. Y. Medical Corps, C. E. F., organized by McGill University. Sailed from Canada on May 6, and spent one month at Shorncliffe, England. He is now assistant surgeon in Field Hospital in France.

Frank Foster Chute, B. A. Acadia 1913, Berwick, N. S. A teacher at Acadia Collegiate Academy, he enlisted in No. 1 Overseas Stationary Hospital, C. E. F. Now in training in Halifax.

Henry Cyril D'Almaine, Acadia October 1910—June 1913, Wolfville, N. S. Enlisted at Wolfville November 1, 1914, as a member of the 2nd Divisional Cycle Corps and sailed from Canada on June 15, 1915. He spent three months at Shorncliffe and was then transferred to Belgium where he is now in active service. Before leaving he was promoted to senior corporal of the battalion.

Frank Chapman Higgins, B. A. Acadia 1914, Wolfville, N. S. He trained at Toronto and later at Halifax, taking lieutenant's, captain's, machine gun, and field officer's courses. Enlisted at Montreal on September 25, 1915, as lieutenant in the 4th Universities Company, reinforcements Princess Patricia C. L. I. and sailed from Halifax on November 27, 1915.

Charles Preston Hilsley, Acadia, October 1910—June 1915, Berwick, N. S. Enlisted at Ottawa on March 28, 1915, as a sapper in the 6th Field Co. Canadian Engineers, 2nd contingent, and sailed from Halifax on April 18, 1915. Remained at Shorncliffe May 1 to September 16, and was "somewhere in France" only two weeks when he experienced an acute attack of appendicitis. He remained in a base hospital until attack subsided, then was taken to Cambridge hospital, Aldershot, and operated upon October 5. Now in Edinburgh on sick leave.

Eric Whidden McDonald, Acadia October 1910—June 1911, St. John, N. B. Enlisted on August 5, 1914, in the 12th Battalion, 4th Brigade C. E. F. as lieutenant and sailed from Canada in October, 1914. He spent eight months at Salisbury Plains and has since been in active service as reconnaissance officer in his battalion, concerning which he has received commendation. In June, 1915, he was transferred to the 10th Battalion, 2nd Brigade. He has been in a number of local engagements and under heavy fire but he has not been wounded. In September 1915, he was injured while on duty and is still in the hospital. His father, Captain J. H. McDonald, '91, is also at the front.

William Elliott Mellor, Acadia, October 1910—June 1912, Kentville, N. S. Enlisted at Strassford, Ont., on August 8, 1914, as a sapper in the Canadian Engineers and sailed with the first contingent C. E. F. in October, 1914. He trained at Salisbury Plains sailing for France in February, 1915, where he has been in constant service since in the trenches. He was slightly wounded but not incapacitated.

William Mather Young, Acadia, January 1911—June 1912, Kentville, N. S. Enlisted at Halifax in May, 1915, as a private in the 2nd Divisional Cycle Corps, and sailed from Canada in June, 1915. He spent eleven weeks at Shorncliffe, England, after which he was transferred to Belgium, where he now is in active service.

Paul Roy Tingley, Acadia, October 1912—November 1915, Wolfville, N. S. Enlisted at Halifax in November 1915, as private in No. 7 "Overseas" Stationary Hospital. Now training in Halifax.

Carl Douglas Woodman, Acadia, October 1913—June 1915, Wolfville, N. S. Enlisted at Wolfville, October 3, 1915, as a private in 8th Battalion Nova Scotia Highlanders. Now training at Halifax.

John Inglis Mosher, Acadia, October 1914, Aylesford, Nova Scotia. Enlisted at Wolfville Oct. 19, 1915, as a private in the 4th Universities Company Reinforcements Princess Patricia C. L. I. Trained at Montreal and sailed from Canada November 27, 1915.

Randolph Winston Churchill, Hantsport, N. S. Enlisted at Halifax in October 1914 as a lieutenant in the Canadian Garrison Artillery. After serving one year he was transferred to the 6th Battalion C. E. F., as signalling officer. He was promoted to captain and is now second in command of his company in the 112th Battalion. Now stationed at Shelburne as recruiting officer and commanding the Shelburne detachment of the 112th.

Roland Chesley Cox, Kingsport, N. S. Enlisted at Halifax in February 1915 as a private in the Cycle Corps and trained at Halifax. Sailed from Canada January 13, 1915, and spent three months at Shorncliffe. He was then transferred to Belgium. He has been wounded twice.

Eric C. D'Almaine, Wolfville, N. S. Enlisted at Wolfville on February 1, 1915, as a private in the Cycle Corps and trained at Halifax. Sailed from Canada June 15, 1915, and spent three months at Shorncliffe, where he was transferred to Belgium and is now there in active service.

William Elderkin, Wolfville, N. S. Enlisted at Saskatoon on July 28, 1915, as a private in 3rd Universities Company Reinforcements Princess Patricia C. L. I. and sailed from Canada on September 3, 1915. He trained at Shorncliffe, England.

Ralph Arthur Harris, B. A., 1915, Sheffield Mills, N. S. Enlisted at Sussex, September 29, 1915, as Field Secretary of Battalion Y. M. C. A. of the 64th Battalion. On November 2nd, was transferred to Halifax with his battalion. Transferred to Truro, N. S., Jan. 1916, with the 106th Battalion.

Eldon Rainsford Lovely Henshaw, Acadia, October 1911 June 1914, Wolfville, N. S. Enlisted at St. John in November 1914, as a private in the 26th Battalion, C. E. F. and trained in St. John. Sailed from St. John on June 13, 1915, and trained further at Sandling Camp, Hythe, England. In September 1915, he was injured in a motor accident, but was discharged from the hospital although not yet ready to go to the front.

Roy Joseph Millett, Acadia, October 1911—February 1, 1912, Gaspareau, N. S. Enlisted at Halifax, November 4, 1915, as a private in No. 7 Overseas Stationary Hospital, C. E. F., now training at Halifax.

Alfred Douglas Borden, Acadia, October 1912—November 1915, Wolfville, N. S. Enlisted at Halifax on October 27, 1915, as a private in the 85th Battalion Nova Scotia Highlanders, now training at Halifax. Promoted in November 1915.

William Henry Chase, Acadia, October 1912—November 1915, Wolfville, N. S. Enlisted at Halifax on November 9, 1915, as a private in No. 7 "Overseas" Stationary Hospital, now training at Halifax.

Hugh Allison Crawley, Acadia, October 1912—June 1914, Wolfville, N. S. Trained at Toronto and later at Halifax, taking lieutenant's, captain's and machine gun courses and volunteered for overseas service. Was given a commission in the 85th Battalion, C. E. F., as lieutenant. Now training at Halifax.

Henry Burton De Wolfe, Acadia, October 1912—October 1915, Wolfville, N. S. Took the "lieutenant's" and machine gun courses at Halifax. Enlisted at Wolfville on October 19, 1915, as a private in the 4th Universities Company Reinforcements Princess Patricia C. L. I. Trained at Montreal and sailed from Halifax, November 27, 1915. Promoted to lance-corporal in November, 1915.

Graham Ross Parsons, Acadia, October 1912—June 1914, Wolfville, N. S. He is lieutenant in 14th Kings Canadian Hussars (militia) took lieutenant's, captain's and machine gun courses. Enlisted at Halifax, October 1, 1915, in the 85th Nova Scotia Highlanders as lieutenant. Now training at Halifax.

Harold Fletcher Bishop, Acadia, October 1913—June 1915, Auburn, N. S. Took lieutenant's course and enlisted at Halifax on October 11, 1915, as a private in the 4th Universities Company Reinforcements Princess Patricia C. L. I. Trained at Montreal and sailed from Canada November 27, 1915.

Donald Bedford Chase, Acadia, October 1913—June 1915, Port Williams, N. S. Enlisted at Wolfville on September 23, 1915, as a private in the 4th Universities Company Reinforcements Princess Patricia C. L. I. Trained at Montreal and sailed from Canada November 27, 1915. Promoted to lance-corporal.

Everett Clare Cox, Acadia, October 1913—June 1914, Middleton, N. S. Enlisted at Middleton on August 30, 1915, as a private in the 64th Battalion C. E. F. Trained at Sussex, now training at Halifax.

Leonard Eaton, Acadia, October 1913—February 1914, Wolfville. Enlisted at Kentville in February 1915, as a private in the 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles. Trained at Amherst. Sailed from Canada July 17, 1915. Spent three months at Shorncliffe and sailed for France October 22, 1915, where he is now in active service. Promoted to corporal in April and to sergeant in May.

Charles William Fitch, Acadia, October 1912—October 1915, Virren, Man. Enlisted at Wolfville on October 19, 1915, as private in the 4th Universities Company Reinforcements Princess Patricia C. L. I. Trained at Montreal and sailed from Canada on November 27, 1915.

Edward Durlin Fletcher, Acadia, October 1913—June 1914, St. John, N. B. Enlisted at St. John on August 8, 1914, as private in No. 1 Field Ambulance and sailed from Canada September 25, 1914. Trained at Salisbury Plains until March 1915, when he went to France, where he has since been in active service. At the battle of Ypres in April 2,000 wounded were handled by him.

Harold Temple Johnson, Acadia, October 1913—June 1915, Wolfville, N. S. Enlisted at Wolfville on September 30, 1915, as a private in the 4th Universities Company Reinforcements Princess Patricia C. L. I. Rejected on account of inability to pass physical examination.

Clarke Kenneth McLeod, Acadia, October 1913—June 1914, Wolfville, N. S. Enlisted at Moncton, in September, 1914, as private in No. 1 Clearing Casualty Hospital. Sailed from Canada September 29, 1914, and trained in England at Salisbury Plains, Cliveden and Toplow. Sailed for France in February, 1915, where he has since been in active service, promoted to lance corporal January 1915.

Isalah Wallace, Annapolis, N. S. Enlisted at St. John in October 1914, as a private in the Army Service Corps. Trained in St. John and sailed from Canada on June 13, 1915. Spent six months at Shorncliffe after which he was transferred to France, where he is now serving as an orderly.

George Young, Kentville, N. S. Enlisted in Winnipeg as a private in the 90th Battalion, but was transferred to the 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles as sergeant. Trained at Amherst and sailed from Canada on May 20, 1915. He spent four months at East Sandling after which he was transferred to Belgium, where he now is in active service. On May 19th he became a lieutenant in the 25th Battalion C. E. F.

To Keep Our Men in the Trenches Warm.

Halifax, January 4—The public generally will be interested to know that the Field Comforts Committee forwarded from the Red Cross warehouse, Pier No. 2, over 1,150 pairs of socks, together with several hundred mufflers and wristlets, to the men of the Twenty-Fifth Battalion, the "comforts" being accomplished by a letter to Major Stanley Bauld, requesting him to distribute them wherever most needed. The supplies were sent in care of the War Contingent Association. The committee also sent a large box of socks, mufflers, and wristlets, to the Sixth Mounted Rifles, these to be distributed to the various Nova Scotia regiments as they are received.

Amsterdam, Jan. 3—Russian warships have sunk two German submarines off the Bulgarian Black Sea port of Varna, according to reports reaching here today.

Asquith Keeps Faith

London, Jan. 5—The British government today definitely embarked upon the policy of compulsory service, when Premier Asquith submitted to the house of commons a bill drafting eligible unmarried men to military duty, and championed the measure in a stirring speech on the necessity of this step to meet the growing exigencies of the war.

The scene within the house of commons was one of the most notable in the history of that body, with the benches packed with members, all the ministerial seats occupied, and the galleries overflowing.

With the prospect of a keen duel between the prime minister and his former colleague, Sir John A. Simon, over the momentous issue which caused the late home secretary's resignation, the biggest assemblage of commons since the outbreak of the war faced Mr. Asquith when he introduced his Military Service Bill. Virtually the only absentees were those who were barred from attending by the military necessities. These to a man, favor compulsion.

There was a feeling of intense interest and anxiety over the culmination of the controversy, which has shaken the country as no other event since the war began.

Flocked to Colors At Lord Derby's Call

London, Jan. 4—Lord Derby's recruiting figures for the period between October 23rd and December 15th, shows that 1,150,000 unmarried men and 1,679,263 married men presented themselves for service.

Of the grand total 2,829,268 married and single men, 103,000 unmarried and 112,431 married men enlisted immediately. Eight hundred and forty thousand single men and 1,344,979 married men registered.

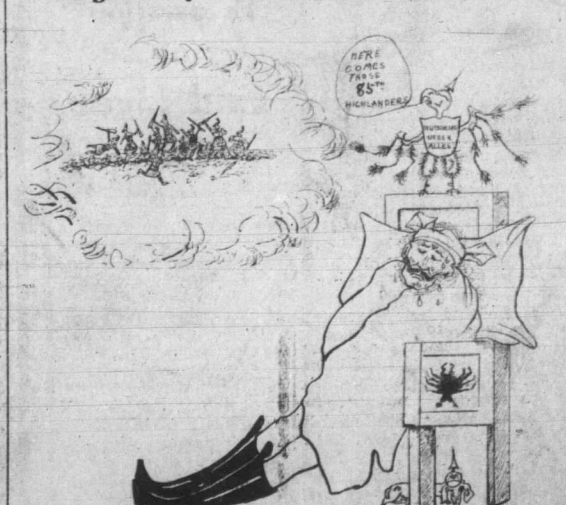

Of the single men 207,000 were rejected while 221,852 married men were not accepted by the recruiting officers.

Austria Decides Not to Break With the United States

London, Dec. 31, 4 a. m.—The Austrian reply to the second American note on the Ancona states that the commander of the Austrian submarine has been punished for not sufficiently taking account of the panic aboard the Ancona, which rendered disembarkation more difficult.

London, Jan. 2—The Russians have captured the heights northeast of Czernowitz, Bukovina, according to a dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company, from Petrograd. Eight hundred and seventy prisoners fell into the hands of the Russians.

The Eagle—"Wake up, Bill! You're Doomed! Here Comes the 85th Nova Scotia Highlanders. The Kings County Section Are Leading!"

Bill's Nightmare.