THE PROVING OF THE TRUTH

ENQUIRY AS TO ADVERTISE
MENT IN THE PRESS.

Miss Jamison, of Masson, Tells a Reporter She Did Not Give Fruit-a-tives Enough Credit.

(From the Ottawa Journal.)
Many hundreds of people read and marvel at the columns of advertising matter put in the daily papers all over the world in connection with the advertisements of patent medicines. Millions of dollars are spent every year in bringing to the attention of the public the benefits to be derived by the use of the remedies, and it is to the free use of printer's ink that many notable successes have been made. These medicines are advertised in all kinds of ways but the bulk of the money expended by the exploiters of patent medicines goes into the columns of the newspapers.

But how many people read a glowing account of good done by a patent medicine and take any trouble to find out the bona fides of the case mentioned? The writer admits being something of a sceptic in matters pertaining to patent medicines.

AN ENQUIRY MADE.
A few days ago, however, the writer happened to be stalled at Masson, or as it is now known, Buckingham Junction, with a wait of a couple of hours for the train. Now Masson is a very pretty little village, but two hours with nothing to do to a newspaper man is a somewhat tedious proposition. The columns of the Evening Journal were carefully run through when one of the patent medicine ads caught the eye of the scribe. It was that given by Miss Jamison, of Masson, for Fruit-a-tives or Fruit Liver Tablets.

In her letter to the proprietors of this remedy under date of Nov. 16, 1904, Miss Jamison said that she "had much pleasure in reporting to you the great benefit I have received from taking Fruit-a-tives, and I feel I cannot say too much for a medicine that has done so much good." Continuing, Miss Jamison told of suffering from kidney trouble, that her complexion was sallow, with dark rings under the eyes, back ache, indigestion, constipation and headaches every morning, and getting up. Miss Jamison took the remedy and with careful following of the directions as to diet, after taking three boxes she lost her ailments and regained perfect health.

VISIT TO MISS JAMISON.
Here was a suitable case and favorable opportunity for the newspaper man to look into one of the cases of the genuineness of the advertised remedy. Miss Florence Jamison is a charming young lady of about 22 years of age, and she had no hesitation whatever in talking of the merits of Fruit-a-tives.

"Miss Jamison," said the reporter, "I see you have been making statements over your name in the papers giving great credit to merits of Fruit-a-tives. Might I ask you your reason for giving such a strong testimonial of the efficiency of this medicine?"
"Why certainly," replied Miss Jamison "I am only too happy to give you any information I can. I have said nothing about Fruit-a-tives but what is the actual fact. Following sickness and death in the family, when I had a great deal of worry and nursing, I became terribly run down and a few of the neighbors thought I should never be well again.

"I consulted the late Dr. Church and took considerable medicine but with but poor results. In May of 1904, I started taking Fruit-a-tives knowing that it was a patent medicine, but having a medical man's authority that it would do me good. Personally I felt it could not do me any harm and I was prepared to do anything to do me good. I made up my mind to give the medicine a fair chance and with end in view I carefully followed all the directions as to diet. I had suffered terribly with a chronic constipation which caused backache, and I never knew what it was to get up in the morning without a headache that invariably lasted the whole day. In a very few days I felt the benefit of Fruit-a-tives, and in an incredibly short time the headaches left me and I was cured of my other ailments.

"Why," continued Miss Jamison, getting enthusiastic on the subject, "I had a sallow and muddy complexion and look at me now! I do not take Fruit-a-tives all the time, but I always have a box handy and take them occasionally. They are worth ten times the price in my estimation if they were only used for the benefit of one's complexion. You cannot say too much for Fruit-a-tives so far as I am concerned, and I am only too pleased to give my experience with the medicine."

A LOCAL CONCERN.
The above enquiry is of more than usual interest, due to the fact that Fruit-a-tives, Limited, is a local concern, and from what is said of the medicine it is found to be an institution of great magnitude. The medicine is made from pure fruit juices, put up in tablet form

FOR BOYS TO THINK ABOUT

It is easier to keep out of jail than to break out, provided you begin in time. It is easier to avoid forming a bad habit than it is to break away from a bad habit. Poverty may keep a boy down for a time, but if he has in him the true metal he will rise. Jay Gould was a poverty stricken surveyor. George W. Childs was a bookseller's errand-boy at a salary of four dollars a month. John Wanamaker started business on a dollar and a quarter a week. Andrew Carnegie began life on a weekly salary of three dollars. Abraham Lincoln was a poor farmer's son. Andrew Johnson was a tailor's apprentice-boy and learned to read after he was married. James A. Garfield was a poor widow's son, and as a bare-footed boy drove mules on the tow-path of an Ohio canal.

Edyth—Do you mean which is the best picture or which looks the most like you?

A SERENELY HAPPY MAN

Is Mr. Thos. McGlashan of North Pelham who was cured of muscular rheumatism by Nervine, the most powerful rheumatic remedy in the world. "I suffered all manner of pain for years, he writes, and Nervine was the only thing that did me any good. I can heartily recommend Nervine for all forms of rheumatism; it goes to the very core of the pain and brings lasting relief. I, I every sufferer from lame back, aching joints and swollen limbs use Nervine. It's sure to cure and costs 25c. for a large bottle.

Do you think that that wretched little Pattersly is consistent?

Yes, I do, and consistency, you know, is a jewel.

Maybe so. But in Pattersly's case I don't like the setting.

Of course, George, said the young housekeeper, I like my kitchen well. But I would like to get one of those new portable ranges.

But, my dear, protested her foxy husband, we'd have to get portable cooking utensils to go with it.

That's so. I never thought of that.

AS A CONVALESCENT FOOD

Mr. WYMAN N. THOMAS, Omaha, Addington Ctr. writes:—"My wife had congestion of the lungs along with other troubles, and became very weak and run down. By the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food she was made as strong and well as ever. Of course I had a doctor, but she was weak, and it was Dr. Chase's Nerve Food which built her up."

This paper says, remarked the callow youth, that the bride was supported to the altar by her father.

Yes, growled the savage bachelor and I'm offering odds of 50 to 1, that he'll have to keep on supporting her.

and no difficulty is experienced in taking them. They are the product of the experience of an Ottawa physician who combined the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, making a compound which strengthens the stomach and makes the liver active. The establishment of a company and the manufacture of the tablets in large quantities also naturally resulted in the reduction of cost of production, the result being the fact that this home-bred remedy can now be sold for 50c. a box, or a quarter what the original cost had to be. The sceptical writer who looked into the case of Miss Jamison does not regret the time spent on the investigation, which certainly proved that that young lady not only derived wonderful benefits from Fruit-a-tives but that she is naturally anxious to let her here who are suffering know the facts.

One Dickens Used to Tell.
Charles Dickens used to tell this story about a clergyman: "This preacher had been called to officiate at the funeral of a relative of a Conservative editor, and as the preacher himself aimed to be a Liberal leader in the district he and the editor had often crossed swords. This time the chance came to deliver a home thrust without a chance for either party to reply. At the coffin of the deceased, beside which the editor and other mourners knelt together, the preacher made this appeal: 'Lord, overrule this affliction to the welfare of all assembled, including the reptile now sprawling in Thy presence, who has frequently abused Thy servant in the columns of his beastly publications.'

There is a vast difference between men and women, remarked the moralizer.

Men for instance, will rush to see a fight, while women won't go near it.

Oh, I don't know, rejoined the demoralizer. It is almost impossible to keep women away from a wedding—which amounts to almost the same thing.

Henry Elliott, Esq., Sherbrooke, N. S. Inspector and Supt. of bridge Construction for Nova Scotia says: A bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT cured me of a very severe sprain of my leg, caused by a fall while building a bridge at Sherty Creek, Cumberland Co. Nov. 17, 1893.

Jealousy to "the Limit."
A young man was very jealous of a girl he adored. She was a bit more coquettish than other girls. "Your eyes can flirt in all directions," he said one day, and cut them out. "You might wave your hands to somebody," and he cut them off. "With your feet you can make signs to some one under the table," and he cut those off. "I forgot that you can also speak," he remarked three days later, and tore her tongue out. "You shall not smile," he said, and knocked her teeth out. "So, I am a bit quieter now," he remarked the day after he had cut her hair off, and for the first time he was going to trust her to herself. "Now she is ugly, but still I feel she is quite my own," he said on leaving her. But when he returned the girl had disappeared. She had run away with the proprietor of a show.—From "Fables of Eugen Heital."
