MISCELLANEOUS.

Time.—As in money, so in time, we are to look chiefly to the smallest portions. Take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves. Take care of the minutes and the hours and the years will take care of them-selves. Gold is not found in California. for the most part in great masses, but in little grains. It is sifted out of the sand in minute particles, which, melted toin minute particles, which, melted to-gether, produce the rich ingots that ex-cite the world's cupidity. So the spare pieces of time, the shreds, the odds and ends of time put together, may form a great and becutiful work. Hall wrote his contemplations when on his already his contemplations when on his circuits. Dr. Mason Good translated Lucretius in his carriage, while, as a physician, he rode from door to door. One of the Chancellors of France penned a bulky volume in the successive intervals of daily waiting for dinner. Doddridge wrote his Expositor chiefly before breakfast. Kirke White studied Greek, went over the nouns and verbs, as he was go-ing to and from a lawyer's office. Burney learn't French and Italian while riding on horseback. Franklin laid the foundation of his wonderful stock of knowledge in his dinner hours and even-ings, while working as a printer's boy.

COPLEY AND THE THREE WIVES .- A man came to Copley, the painter, and had himself and wife and seven children all included in a family piece. "It wants but one thing," said he, "and that is a portrait of my first wife; for this is my second." "But," said the artist, my second." "But," said the artist, "she is dead, you know sir! What can I do? She is only to come in as an angel." "Oh, no! not at all?" answered the other; "she must come in as a woman; no angels for me!" The portrait was added, but some time elapsed before the person came back: when he returned he had a strange lady on his arm. "I must have another cast of your hand, Copley," he said; "an accident befell my second wife; this lady is my third; and she is come to have her likeness included in the family picture." The painter complied, the likeness was introduced, and the husband looked with a glance of satisfaction on his three spou-Not so the lady. She remonstrated; never was such a thing heard of! Out her predecessors must go. The artist painted them out accordingly.

Borrowers and Lenders.-There are scores of persons about town who possess no adequate means of subsistence visible to the rest of mankind. We may depend upon it, there might as truly be found an equal number of thoughtlessly ings, who consume in their personal gratification but a limited proportion of the cash that somehow or other continues periodically to glide through their fingers. The man who can live for any length of time, without direct robbery, beyond his legitimate means, must avail himself of one or both direct robbery, beyond his legitimate means, must avail himself of one or both of two expedients; to wit, getting into debt, or "sponging" upon one or more of those kind-hearted souls whose excessive amiability, and fear of giving offence robs them of the courage to utter the disagreeable monosyllable "no."

The first inquiry of a woman after marriage should be "How shall I continue the love I have inspired? How shall I preserve the heart I have won?" Gentle lady, your husband thinks you at the present moment the loveliest; the gentlest of beings. Destroy not the illusion—be lovely still—be gentle still.

fess a fault, or to stop (right of wrong) in the middle of self-defence, in gentle sub-mission, sometimes requires a struggle almost like life and death; but these three efforts are the golden threads with which domestic happiness is interwoven; once begin the fabric with the wool, and and trials shall not break or sorrow tar-nish it.

composition has been upwards of, three years extensively used in New Brunsewick, Newfoundland and

It has been severely tested, and proved most success

Astonishing efficacy of the Oxygenated Bitters,
IN A CASE OF EIGHTEEN YEARS' STANDING.
From Fitzhenry Homer, Eq., of Boston, Mass.
Boston, September 28, 1848.
DEAR SIR—It is now eighteen years since I was first troubled with the water-brash and derangement of the stomach. I have taken advice of the best Physical Lander Press.

first troubled with the water-brash and derangement of the stomach. I have taken advice of the best Physicians in this city and New York, in London, Paris, Germany, and Italy, followed their prescriptions, and visited the several sulphur and other springs in this country, the watering places of Germany, and elsewhere in Europe, and had found no relief. Since taking the Bitters I have never had a return of the Water-brash, which daily troubled me of late years to a very great degree. My appetite has returned; the extreme latulence, severe constipation of the bounds, general debility, and sleepless nights unde which I suffered, have entirely left me. Having found so great relief from this most discouraging disorder. I have recommended a trial of your medicine to many of my friends, who are now using it to great advantage. And I cannot refrain from writing to you in its favour and prince, for the good you have bestowed upon the Germanity; and trust that what little is in my scope to offer in extending the circulation of your "Oxygenated Bitters," will be done with grateful pleasure at all times.

Yours very respectfully, reading public, and affords a guarantee that they are established on a firm busis, and will be continued without interruption.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political ashgiects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Macktwoof, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the sorial works of Balwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearing in its columns, both in Great Beitsin and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxtens" and "My New Novel," (both by Balwer), "My Pennisular Medal.," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Mesers. Scott and Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. John Lloyd, of Exwean, near Harlech, Merionethalire.

To Professor Hollowax,
Sin,—I avail myself of the first opportunity of informing you, that, for a very long period, I was afflicted with a dangerous gliddiness and frequent awimmings in the head, attended by loss of appetite, disordered atomach, and generally impaired health. Every means had failed to give me any permanent relief, and at length it became so alarming, that I was really afraid of going about without an attendant. In this melancholy condition, I waited personally upon Mr. Hughes, Chemist, Harlech, for the purpose of consulting him as to what I had better do; he kindly recommended your Fills, I tried them without delay, and after taking them for a short time I am happy to bear testimony to their wonderful efficacy. I am now restored to perfect health, and enabled to resume my neual duties. You are at liberty to publish this letter in any way you may think proper.
